World's Largest Sapphire Stolen

'Star Of India' Thieves Believed Rank Amateurs

NEW YORK (AP) — Thieves who stole the world's largest star sapphire, the "Star of India," and 21 other gems from the American Museum of Natural History may have been rank amateurs — helped along by lack of security measures.

Police searching the museum's J.P. Morgan Hall of Gems and Minerals for clues to the daring burglary found fingerprints all over the smashed jewel display cases and on a partly opened window that may have been the way in for the thieves.

Experts also said that while the thieves took gems valued at more than $300,000, their choices did not indicate expert knowledge.

They took unique and easily identifiable stones, difficult to cut, while many costly gems that would be more salable were ignored.

Police said the museum's efforts at economy had made the job easier for the thieves.

The city-owned museum, with about one million square feet of space in 18 buildings, had only seven guards on duty during the night and museum officials have been pleading for more staff.

Detectives inspecting the display cases from which the gems were taken also found two burglar alarm systems, neither in operation.

One case contained only three stones. The "Star of India," 2½ inches in diameter and weighing 563.35 carats or nearly a quarter of a pound, is valued at $100,000 but is actually priceless.

The DeLong Star Ruby, 100.32 carats and said to be the largest and most perfect star ruby in the world, also was valued at $100,000. The third stone was a purplish "midnight sapphire," about the same size as the ruby and valued at $35,000. None of the gems was insured.

At Monday Meeting

Renewal Of Tax Due Council Vote

Council is scheduled to vote Monday night on legislation continuing the city income tax past the Dec. 31 expiration date set in the present ordinance.

Probably the biggest single source of municipal revenue, the tax produced $248,206 in the nine months ending Sept. 30.

THE LENGTHY legislation which Council will act upon Monday night will be a virtual duplicate of the present ordinance. It will stipulate the same rate — Eight tenths of one per cent, equivalent of 80 cents on each $100 of income.

The tax affects business and professonal men, stores and factories as well as wage-earners.

The present ordinance places responsibility for administration of the tax system under City Treasurer Bert A. Dawson. In a move suggested by the Democratic majority in Council several months ago, the new ordinance may shift the tax administration to Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

The present tax was ratified, 3,337 to 2,671, when it was tested at the polls at the November 1963 general election. Three of the city's four wards supported the measure in a vote initiated by Trades and Labor Council. The First Ward voted against the retention of the tax, but by a margin of only 23 votes.

THE TAX HAS been in an on-and-off status since it first was enacted in 1958. The 1963 vote was its fifth test at the polls in six years.

Income tax revenues have been used principally to finance general fund operations and to retire debt that piled up in years when the city lacked adequate revenue.

Council appropriated $206,753 of the expected 1964 revenue to the general fund to overcome an anticipated deficit. The general fund foots the bill for many essential city services, such as the fire and police departments, the Health Department, all City Hall offices and others.

The tax revenue also has been used to expand municipal services, including street surfacing, seal - coating and oiling; an improved recreation program, purchase of new rolling stock and preparation of a "master plan" to guide future growth and development.

Clear, Mild Weather Due Witches, Goblins

Witches and goblins making their trick-or-treat rounds tonight will find the weather clear and mild for the traditional campaign for Halloween goodies. City authorities had requested the forays be limited to one night—tonight.

Temperatures fell to freezing and below in the rural area this morning but the downtown had 34 at 6 a.m., along with a dense ground fog that snarled traffic and did not clear until mid-morning. The day's high was expected to range between 65 and 70 and tonight's low will be 33 to 40. Sunday will be sunny and warmer.

Police renewed an appeal for motorists to be extra cautious tonight and watch out for children in costumes — their faces masked with reduced vision—treking through the neighborhoods intent on collecting treats and unmindful of traffic hazards.

Firm Begins Erecting Decorations For Yule

The thermometer read almost 60, but the calendar showed it was less than two months until Christmas, and that's why Sayre Electric Co. crews started work Friday on erecting holiday decorations in the central business area.

The decorations are part of the community Yuletide program sponsored by the East Liverpool Merchants Association. The Junior Chamber of Commerce co - operates with ELMA in staging the annual Santa Claus parade in late November, opening the holiday season.

Sayre's crews are erecting lighted Christmas tree replicas on utility poles. Cross - street trim will be put in place later.

Man Burned In Mishap At Weirton Steel

Firemen Called As Molten Iron Pours On Wires, Flooring

WEIRTON — A Steubenville man was burned seriously by heat from molten iron which overflowed a ladle in the open hearth department of Weirton Steel Co. Friday night at 11:15.

John Mills, 51, a mixer operator, suffered third degree burns of the body and was in "critical" condition at Weirton General Hospital.

A company spokesman said Mills was working at the controls of the mixer on a platform while molten iron was being poured into a ladle. A mixer is a huge thermal container which maintains iron at a high temperature until it is poured.

In the pouring process, the ladle became filled and apparently because of a malfunction in the controls, the pour could not be stopped and the hot metal overflowed onto the floor.

Weirton firemen were called to the scene, and cleanup operations continued through the night.

The spokesman said Mills evidently was burned by the intense heat rather than sparks which showered the building when the electric lines were burned.

14 Drug Supporters Placed Under Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP) —Federal guards today arrested 14 of 18 supporters of the drug Krebiozen who have been demonstrating outside the office of Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze since Thursday.

The other four gave up their demonstration and were not arrested.

Maj. Howard E. McGonnigle of the General Service Administration guard force, following up on a warning issued to the group Thursday night, appeared before the demonstrators this this morning and read them Title 22 of the District of Columbia Code.

War Against Waste Slated By Johnson

President Makes Final Appeal For Votes In Northwest

DOVER, Del. (AP) — President Johnson, making a final appeal for votes in the Northeast, said today he will "declare a war on waste" throughout government.

Johnson, in a campaign talk prepared for delivery from the steps of Dover's old statehouse, said he will make war against needless federal spending, economic waste caused by recessions and the waste of war — "most awful waste of all."

The President lined up speaking dates in Dover and Wilmington, Del., a big swing through New York's suburban Nassau County and an appearance tonight at a big Democratic rally in Madison Square Garden.

In making two stops in Delaware, Johnson hoped to boost the election chances of Democratic Gov. Elbert N. Carvel who seeks the senate seat of Republican John J. Williams. It was Williams who was instrumental in winning adoption of a resolution that led to the Senate investigation of the activities of Bobby Baker, once one of Johnson's close associates.

The stadium crowd turned out by the Democratic organization of Mayor Richard J. Daley interrupted Johnson with applause — accompanied by appropriate organ music — after virtually every sentence.

Perhaps because of the persistent interruptions, which seemed automatic, Johnson for the first time in the campaign stuck to his prepared text, offering none of the off-the-cuff observations that have become a hallmak of his campaign appearances.

In Chicago, Johnson plugged for his anti-poverty program and reported that in 1960, as Senate democratic leader, he voted 96 per cent of the time for the foreign policy proposals of Republican president Dwight D. Eisenhower. He said Sen. Barry Goldwater voted against Eisenhower 76 per cent of the time.

Wetzel's 8th Bid Opposed By Donnelly

Columbiana County voters will choose between a Lisbon Republican and a Salem Democrat in the general election Tuesday to fill a seat in the Ohio House of Representatives for the next two years.

The candidates are Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, the GOP nominee, asking an eighth term, and John E. Donnelly of Salem, an industrial maintenanceman who is the Democratic nominee.

Wetzel won his party's nomination without opposition in the primaries in May. Donnelly won over Ford Joseph Jr., Salem Council president.

Crash And Burn In Georgia

Six U.S. Soldiers Killed As 2 Army Planes Collide

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A collision of two Army transport planes early today killed six soldiers.

Both planes were assigned to the 10th Air Transport Brigade of Ft. Benning, Ga., the public information office at Ft. Jackson, S.C., announced.

Members of the brigade are among 32,000 on air assault maneuvers in the Carolinas and Georgia.

The transport planes were flying in a formation of four aircraft when they collided.

The Army said it was not immediately learned how many were aboard the two planes, but that six bodies had been recovered.

Names of the victims were not determined immediately and the Army said they would not be announced until the next of kin had been notified.

The two planes normally carry a crew of three each. No other troops were believed to be aboard the planes.

Firemen said three bodies were in each of the air transport planes, which caught fire after they plunged into a field about 18 miles south of Augusta.

Army authorities sealed off the area. Some newsmen who reached the scene first were forbidden to leave the area.

The state patrol blocked Georgia State Road 25. Small brush fires were started in the area.

Mrs. Ann Walker, who lives near the crash scene, said the planes collided shortly after taking off from a temporary air field.

"My aunt, Mrs. H. H. McDermot, saw them collide and came running in the house," Mrs. Walker said. "They were about a mile away, and when I went out they were already down and burning.

"They were low when they collided, and my aunt said the wings touched just before the collision. They caught fire and set the grass on fire.

"The temporary field, I understand, was set up for the maneuvers.

"Some say one of the crew members bailed out. They said they saw him parachute, but they have not been able to find him."

The planes were taking part in the 11th Air Assault (Test) Division maneuvers in South Carolina and Georgia.

The maneuvers, which have been under way for more than a month, are to test the division strength and air assault capabilities.

Much of the training involves the transport of troops by planes and helicopters. Many of the troops are from Ft. Benning at Columbus, Ga., as well as Ft. Jackson at Columbia, S.C.

County Lists 35 Special Issues

Thirty-five special questions and issues awaiting a decision at the polls at the general election Tuesday include five proposed school bond issues totaling $3.6 million.

Twenty-seven subdivisions will ask voters to approve new levies or continue existing taxes. A five-question local option vote is scheduled in Middleton Township, outside Rogers village.

THERE IS ONE countywide issue that will be voted upon in all 165 precincts. It is a proposed tenth-mill levy to finance continued operation of the County Mental Health Clinic at Lisbon. It is expected to produce approximately $20,000 a year.

East Liverpool voters will be asked to renew two existing levies. They are a half-mill measure that helps finance garbage and trash collections and a seven-tenths mill levy that represents the municipality's contribution toward operation of City Hospital, essentially reimbursing the institution for services given to the indigent.

The half-mill garbage levy yields approximately $20,000 a year, while the hospital levy brings in about $30,000.

East Liverpool also will vote on a proposal authorizing establishment of a new City Park Commission.

BOND ISSUES to finance building programs are scheduled in: Salem City School District, $815,000; Fairfield - Waterford District, $350,000; United Local District, $630,000, and Minerva Local District, two issues of $1,379,497 and $464,557, respectively.

The Minerva Local proposition was certified by the Stark County Election Board. The district lies principally in Stark County, but overlaps into West Township of Columbiana County.

Minerva Local also will vote on renewal of a 3½-mill current expense levy. Another proposal from an overlapping district is the 2.8-mill proposition of West Branch District of Mahoning County. The district lies mainly in Mahoning County, but overlaps into Butler and Knox Townships of Columbiana County.

In addition to the bond issue, the Salem School District will

Main Repair Set Sunday

800 Homes At Wellsville Due Brief Water Shutoff

Approximately 800 homes in the lower end of Wellsville will be without water early Sunday morning while repairs are made to a break in a 4-inch main.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare today urged residents to draw enough water to carry them through the brief period. The shutoff will start at 8 a.m. and service should be restored in about an hour and a half.

He said the repairs to the break at 17th St. and Chester Ave. will be made as quickly as possible.

The break was discovered early Friday morning. The crews worked all day yesterday and made temporary repairs.

The line is about 4½ feet deep. The section uncovered is split and the adjoining sections do not look too good, the director commented.

Three sleeves joined together were necessary to cover the largest part of the split. This was done so the water pressure could be turned back on.

The pressure was cut down and some homes were without water for a brief period yesterday afternoon.

The men will uncover the adjoining sections and check them today. The will have everything ready to go so the service will not have to be interrupted any more than absolutely necessary, Baldasare commented.

It will take about 30 minutes just to shut the water off. There are shutoff valves at 14th and Commerce Sts., 15th and Center Sts. and 15th and Main Sts.

Another valve will be installed when the new section of pipe is put in. This will allow a smaller section of the town to be cut off in case of any future emergency.

Barry Blasts Polls Rating Him As Loser

Goldwater Staging Final Vote Hunting Mission In South

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, scoffing at polls that rate him a loser, stages a final vote hunting mission to the South today on the last long leg of an 80,000-mile presidential campaign.

On today's campaign docket:

—A rally in his native Phoenix.

—A jump over to San Antonio, in the state that experienced, Goldwater said, "one of the darkest elections in our history" in 1948 when President Johnson won his U.S. Senate seat by an 87-vote margin.

—A Southern finale in Columbia, S.C. It is to be beamed across the South on a 13-state television hookup.

In Cheyenne, Wyo., the truck refueling his jet airliner ran out of gas. It went for more and got caught in a traffic jam.

The helicopter buzzed a Mexican-American rally in Los Angeles Friday night, bearing a light-bulb sign that spelled out "in your guts you know he's nuts." Republicans drove it off with the glare of a searchlight.

Although Goldwater derided surveys that show him trailing, he cited a favorable sampling on the issues, and used it as the

Clay Mine Workers Slate Strike Tonight

A strike is slated for midnight at the Pleasant Valley Clay Mine on Route 45 near Wellsville.

Edward Bauer, International representative for the United Brick & Clay Workers Union (AFL-CIO), said no new negotiating sessions have been scheduled with officials of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc. The mine is part of the Refractories Division.

Bauer said the 39 men employed at the mine will shut down the operations at midnight when the current contract expires. Negotiations were held the past week, but ended Tuesday with no agreement reached. The talks were on wages and fronge benefits.

Courthouse Contests To Be Decided

35 Special Issues And Questions Also Due Test Tuesday

Columbiana County's vote in the general election Tuesday may hit a record high of 49,000 or more, principally because of intense interest in the Johnson-Goldwater Presidential race and 35 special questions and issues, Frank R. O'Hanlon, veteran Election Board clerk, predicted today.

The county's present record of 48,879 votes was set in the 1960 Presidential election. It cast 43,727 in the 1956 Presidential balloting.

Columbiana County cast 28,414 votes for Richard Nixon four years ago, against 20,037 for John F. Kennedy. In 1956, it showed 28,783 for Dwight D. Eisenhower and 14,516 for Adlai Stevenson.

The county's total potential vote is estimated at 65,000.

A heavy demand for absentee ballots indicates "extraordinary" interest in the Presidential election as well as the bond issues, levies and other special issues that will be decided by the county's subdivisions, O'Hanlon said.

The 165 polling places will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

At the county level, voters will fill 10 Courthouse offices.

Acting on slates which Republicans and Democrats chose at the primaries May 3, the voters will name: Two county commissioners, a Common Pleas Court judge, prosecuting attorney, clerk of courts, sheriff, recorder, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

Democrats have a full slate of 10 candidates while the GOP field totals nine. Of the two fields, six are incumbent Republicans. Three Democrats now in office are asking new terms.

Voter interest is expected to center on the four - way race for the two commissioners' seats.

The Republican nominees both are incumbents seeking fourth terms — Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3.

Two former commissioners comprise the Democratic field. They are Frank C. Wilson, Wellsville food market opera-

Dalrymple, Hays Battle In Key Race

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, seeking to return to his ninth consecutive term from the five - county 18th Congressional District, will be opposed in the general election Tuesday by Allen J. Dalrymple, Republican, a Wellsville auto dealer.

The district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Harrison and Carroll Counties.

Both Hays and Dalrymple were nominated without opposition in their parties' primaries in May. Dalrymple sought the GOP nomination for state senator two years ago, but lost in the primaries.

Rep. Hays has served the five-county district continuously since 1949. Before going to Congress, he served as mayor of Flushing, a member of the Board of Education and as a justice of the peace in Flushing Township.

He also was a Belmont County commissioner and served a term in the State Senate. A graduate of Ohio State University, he taught school three

Six U.S. Soldiers Killed As 2 Army Planes Collide

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A collision of two Army transport planes early today killed six soldiers.

Both planes were assigned to the 10th Air Transport Brigade of Ft. Benning, Ga., the public information office at Ft. Jackson, S.C., announced.

Members of the brigade are among 32,000 on air assault maneuvers in the Carolinas and Georgia.

THERE IS ONE countywide issue that will be voted upon in all 165 precincts. It is a proposed tenth-mill levy to finance continued operation of the County Mental Health Clinic at Lisbon. It is expected to produce approximately $20,000 a year.

East Liverpool voters will be asked to renew two existing levies. They are a half-mill measure that helps finance garbage and trash collections and a seven-tenths mill levy that represents the municipality's contribution toward operation of City Hospital, essentially reimbursing the institution for services given to the indigent.

The half-mill garbage levy yields approximately $20,000 a year, while the hospital levy brings in about $30,000.

East Liverpool also will vote on a proposal authorizing establishment of a new City Park Commission.

BOND ISSUES to finance building programs are scheduled in: Salem City School District, $815,000; Fairfield - Waterford District, $350,000; United Local District, $630,000, and Minerva Local District, two issues of $1,379,497 and $464,557, respectively.

The Minerva Local proposition was certified by the Stark County Election Board. The district lies principally in Stark County, but overlaps into West Township of Columbiana County.

Minerva Local also will vote on renewal of a 3½-mill current expense levy. Another proposal from an overlapping district is the 2.8-mill proposition of West Branch District of Mahoning County. The district lies mainly in Mahoning County, but overlaps into Butler and Knox Townships of Columbiana County.

In addition to the bond issue, the Salem School District will

Main Repair Set Sunday

800 Homes At Wellsville Due Brief Water Shutoff

Approximately 800 homes in the lower end of Wellsville will be without water early Sunday morning while repairs are made to a break in a 4-inch main.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare today urged residents to draw enough water to carry them through the brief period. The shutoff will start at 8 a.m. and service should be restored in about an hour and a half.

He said the repairs to the break at 17th St. and Chester Ave. will be made as quickly as possible.

The break was discovered early Friday morning. The crews worked all day yesterday and made temporary repairs.

The line is about 4½ feet deep. The section uncovered is split and the adjoining sections do not look too good, the director commented.

Three sleeves joined together were necessary to cover the largest part of the split. This was done so the water pressure could be turned back on.

The pressure was cut down and some homes were without water for a brief period yesterday afternoon.

The men will uncover the adjoining sections and check them today. The will have everything ready to go so the service will not have to be interrupted any more than absolutely necessary, Baldasare commented.

It will take about 30 minutes just to shut the water off. There are shutoff valves at 14th and Commerce Sts., 15th and Center Sts. and 15th and Main Sts.

Another valve will be installed when the new section of pipe is put in. This will allow a smaller section of the town to be cut off in case of any future emergency.

Wetzel's 8th Bid Opposed By Donnelly

Columbiana County voters will choose between a Lisbon Republican and a Salem Democrat in the general election Tuesday to fill a seat in the Ohio House of Representatives for the next two years.

The candidates are Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, the GOP nominee, asking an eighth term, and John E. Donnelly of Salem, an industrial maintenanceman who is the Democratic nominee.

Wetzel won his party's nomination without opposition in the primaries in May. Donnelly won over Ford Joseph Jr., Salem Council president.

Goldwater Staging Final Vote Hunting Mission In South

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, scoffing at polls that rate him a loser, stages a final vote hunting mission to the South today on the last long leg of an 80,000-mile presidential campaign.

On today's campaign docket:

—A rally in his native Phoenix.

—A jump over to San Antonio, in the state that experienced, Goldwater said, "one of the darkest elections in our history" in 1948 when President Johnson won his U.S. Senate seat by an 87-vote margin.

—A Southern finale in Columbia, S.C. It is to be beamed across the South on a 13-state television hookup.

In Cheyenne, Wyo., the truck refueling his jet airliner ran out of gas. It went for more and got caught in a traffic jam.

The helicopter buzzed a Mexican-American rally in Los Angeles Friday night, bearing a light-bulb sign that spelled out "in your guts you know he's nuts." Republicans drove it off with the glare of a searchlight.

Although Goldwater derided surveys that show him trailing, he cited a favorable sampling on the issues, and used it as the

Clay Mine Workers Slate Strike Tonight

A strike is slated for midnight at the Pleasant Valley Clay Mine on Route 45 near Wellsville.

Edward Bauer, International representative for the United Brick & Clay Workers Union (AFL-CIO), said no new negotiating sessions have been scheduled with officials of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc. The mine is part of the Refractories Division.

Bauer said the 39 men employed at the mine will shut down the operations at midnight when the current contract expires. Negotiations were held the past week, but ended Tuesday with no agreement reached. The talks were on wages and fronge benefits.

Courthouse Contests To Be Decided

35 Special Issues And Questions Also Due Test Tuesday

Columbiana County's vote in the general election Tuesday may hit a record high of 49,000 or more, principally because of intense interest in the Johnson-Goldwater Presidential race and 35 special questions and issues, Frank R. O'Hanlon, veteran Election Board clerk, predicted today.

The county's present record of 48,879 votes was set in the 1960 Presidential election. It cast 43,727 in the 1956 Presidential balloting.

Columbiana County cast 28,414 votes for Richard Nixon four years ago, against 20,037 for John F. Kennedy. In 1956, it showed 28,783 for Dwight D. Eisenhower and 14,516 for Adlai Stevenson.

The county's total potential vote is estimated at 65,000.

A heavy demand for absentee ballots indicates "extraordinary" interest in the Presidential election as well as the bond issues, levies and other special issues that will be decided by the county's subdivisions, O'Hanlon said.

The 165 polling places will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

At the county level, voters will fill 10 Courthouse offices.

Acting on slates which Republicans and Democrats chose at the primaries May 3, the voters will name: Two county commissioners, a Common Pleas Court judge, prosecuting attorney, clerk of courts, sheriff, recorder, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

Democrats have a full slate of 10 candidates while the GOP field totals nine. Of the two fields, six are incumbent Republicans. Three Democrats now in office are asking new terms.

Voter interest is expected to center on the four - way race for the two commissioners' seats.

The Republican nominees both are incumbents seeking fourth terms — Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3.

Dalrymple, Hays Battle In Key Race

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, seeking to return to his ninth consecutive term from the five - county 18th Congressional District, will be opposed in the general election Tuesday by Allen J. Dalrymple, Republican, a Wellsville auto dealer.

The district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Harrison and Carroll Counties.

Both Hays and Dalrymple were nominated without opposition in their parties' primaries in May. Dalrymple sought the GOP nomination for state senator two years ago, but lost in the primaries.

Rep. Hays has served the five-county district continuously since 1949. Before going to Congress, he served as mayor of Flushing, a member of the Board of Education and as a justice of the peace in Flushing Township.

He also was a Belmont County commissioner and served a term in the State Senate. A graduate of Ohio State University, he taught school three

Chester Postmaster Urges Early Mailing, Zip Code Use

Chester residents can help harried postal employes by shopping early, mailing early and using Zip Codes in the Christmas season, Postmaster Robert H. Edwards suggested.

"It is important that people mailing Christmas cards and gifts make every effort to shop early and mail early to assure on - time delivery," Edwards said.

He pointed out the Post Office Department has no control over the weather. "While it is true that bad weather doesn't stop the mails, it certainly can slow them down."

"This is especially true during the Christmas rush when an ever-increasing avalanche of mail moves through the postal system," he continued.

The Post Office Department has several new tools to use in this year's mail service. The most important, Edwards said, is the new Zip Code and transportation distribution system that came into being with the Zoning Improvement Plan (ZIP).

The Chester postmaster is urging everyone to use the five digit numbers because in most cases the code cuts down the number of times a piece of mail must be handled. "This saves time, labor and money," Edwards said.

"I suggest that even if you don't know the code for the addresses of the people to whom you'll be sending cards and gifts, you should use the code on your return address. And you should record the codes from the return addresses of those who are writing you. Your Chester Zip code is 26034."

"Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job and all the employes in the Chester Post Office who work so diligently during this period deserve all the co-operation they can get," Edwards said.

200 In Chester Parade Vie For Costume Prizes

More than 200 entries competed in the annual Halloween masquerade parade of the Chester fire department Friday night and about 150 persons attended the round and square dance that followed at the fire station.

Cash prizes were awarded in three divisions and winners were: Comic costume, Cindy Shepherd, first, and Susan Pallard, second; best dressed, Nancy Amos, first, Wendy Ross, second, and Connie and Jody Williams, third; most original, Susan and Nickie Barnhart and their dog, and Rickie and Sandy Mountjoy and Susan Fowler, second.

Sheila Gray, 2½, won a prize as the youngest entry in the parade.

Judges were Harold Dickey, Mayor Harry Abrams, the Rev. C. Donald Vogel and Robert Gray.

Ruth Hissam's band played for the dance, and William Jackson was caller. Firemen said the dance was moved indoors because of the cold weather.

The celebration was also sponsored by Chester VFW Post 6450, American Legion Post 121 and the Lions Club.

Wellsville Students Favor Democrats In Mock Vote

The Democrats made practically a clean sweep in a mock election held Friday at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville. The vote was conducted in the seventh and eighth grades under the direction of Richard Jones and William Riley, social study teachers.

Cathy O'Hara was presiding judge for the count of the ballots. Serving as judges and clerks were Selmer Dorsey, Larry Brewer, Robert Reed, Ricky Maurer and Rhonda Pickens.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, his running-mate, received 220 votes compared with the 33 given the Republican candidates, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater and his running-mate, William E. Miller.

In the race for the U.S. Senate seat from Ohio, Stephen M. Young, Democratic incumbent, received 184 votes, compared to 70 given Robert Taft Jr., Republican.

The ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers have been authorized by the Plaid and S & H Stamp companies to collect trading stamp books, which will be redeemed for cash to help pay for transportation and lodging for the Twin Marching Bands' trip to Philadelphia.

They will appear in the annual Thanksgiving Day parade, which will be nationally televised.

The stamp drive has been set for Monday through Nov. 14.

Band members have completed a candy sale and have several projects in progress. Booster buttons, school portfolios, sweat shirts and window decals, featuring the same emblem as on the large banner which precedes the band in all street parades, are being sold by the band members.

Band mothers hope to help the band achieve the goal set for the trip, with the aid of others who feel equal pride in the band, sponsors said.

The band, which is under the direction of Vincent Maola Jr., depends upon the mothers' organization for all funds necessary for purchasing and maintining uniforms and certain musical instruments and all special trips, including an appearance at Pittsburgh Nov. 29 to perform at the Steelers - Cardinal game during the halftime show. The band receives no other financial help.

The stamp books may be given to any band member or band mother or left in specially marked boxes in business establishments — downtown, Locke's Jewelry Store and World Book & Bible House; East End, Chambers Co.; North Side, Pat's Pharmacy, and Pleasant Heights, Presswell Cleaners, or they may phone 386-5747.

vote on three levies of 3.5, 7.5 and 2.5 mills, respectively.

PERRY TOWNSHIP'S five precincts will vote on a proposal to change present zoning regulations and permit use of a six-acre tract for industrial purposes. The question was submitted by township trustees, acting on a petition filed with them by electors in the affected area.

East Palestine will vote on three municipal issues and another affecting its school district. The city has proposed a new 2-mill levy for current expenses and renewal of a 1-mill levies for street and park maintenance. The East Palestine School District will act on renewal of a 3.5-mill levy for current expenses.

Beaver Local School District will vote on levies of 5.4 and 1.6 mills. Fairfield - Waterford will act on renewal of a 3.6-mill current expense levy. Southern Local will have a vote on an 8.8-mill current expense levy comprised of a renewal of an existing levy, plus an increase.

LISBON SCHOOL District is slated to vote on a new 4-mill levy to help meet current expenses. Lisbon village will act on a new half-mill levy to finance recreation.

A half-mill proposal also will be on the ballot at Wellsville to help finance flood wall operations.

The local option question in Middleton Township will affect four precincts — Clarkson, Negley, Pancake and Rogers.

The Election Board emphasized that precinct workers in the Rogers polling place must take pains to ascertain the residence of each elector, as the site serves both residents of the village and the township. The precinct staffs must take particular care not to permit a village resident to vote upon the issue, the board said.

Eight other township levies are due for a vote. They are:

Ekrun, renewal of four-tenths mill for fire protection; Franklin, renewal of three-tenths mill for fire protection; Knox, additional 1½-mill for police protection; Middleton, renewal of four-tenths mill for fire protection; Washington, additional 2-mill levy for road purposes, and Madison, two eight-tenth mill levies for road purposes and fire protection and additional 1 mill for police protection.

Employers Reminded On City Tax Deadline

D. G. Wilkinson, city tax commissioner, reminded employers that today is the deadline to turn in city income tax funds withheld from employes' pay during the third quarter.

The quarter ended Sept. 30 but the deadline for making the payments falls a month later, he explained.

Meanwhile, some 200 notices were mailed Friday to individuals who have not made third-quarter payments. The notices were sent to those delinquent taxpayers whose earnings are not subject to withholding, Wilkinson said.

Bar Association Dance To Be Held Thursday

The annual fall festival and Ladies Night dinner - dance of the Columbiana County Bar Association will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Country Club.

Featured will be the Jack Blasi Trio of novelty acts of the "good old days," direct from the Glen Casino of Buffalo. They will also play for harvest moon dancing.

Reds Strongest Single Force In Sudan Regime

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Communists have emerged as the most powerful single force in the Sudanese civilian government which took office today, closing the books on six years of military rule.

Ahead was the task of restoring order swept aside during 10 days of rioting in which mobs were cut down by waves of machine gun fire from turreted armored cars and scattered by volleys of tear gas bombs.

At least 30 persons were killed and more than 200 wounded.

The rioting students and workers forced the capitulation of President Ibrahim Abboud, who with seven other generals took power in a bloodless military coup six years ago.

Abboud managed to retain command of the army and the title of president, but technically he is stripped of most executive power.

The new prime minister, El Khatem Khalifa, 40, and his cabinet, met Friday night and pledged that they would begin work as "good civil servants" immediately after the swearing-in this morning by Abboud.

Lisbon Club Reports Supper Ticket Sales

LISBON — Ticket sales are brisk for the Kiwanis Club's annual pancake - sausage fry to be held Thursday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

The annual affair usually attracts hundreds for the two meals. Proceeds are used by the club for its youth projects.

Dan Myers is general chairman, with Willard L. Hillyer, supplies; Pete Gallo, chefs; O. Dale Mason, diningroom; Kenneth Hiscox, house; A. J. Smith, equipment; Oliver Payne, publicity; L. J. Lefebvre, signs, and G. V. Weinstock and Vincent C. Judge, tickets.

Persons desiring to attend may purchase tickets from any member or at the door, Myers said.

7 Students, All 15, Die In 2-Car Smashup

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Seven high school students, all 15 years old, died in a smashup of two cars Friday night, the Kansas Highway Patrol reported.

Six were killed at the scene, at a county road intersection 11 miles east of Wichita, and the seventh died shortly afterward. The dead were all in one car, which had only one survivor, who was injured. Two persons in the other car also suffered injuries.

One car struck the other broadside at high speed, the patrol said. Wreckage and bodies were strewn over a wide area.

Security Along Wall Tightened By Reds

BERLIN (AP) — East German authorities strengthened security along the Berlin Wall today, guarding against attempts by East Berliners to escape in the confusion of the authorized visiting period for West Berliners.

Five gaps have been opened temporarily in the wall for the 14-day period during which West Berliners have been authorized to visit relatives in the Communist-ruled part of the city.

Within three hours after the entry gates were opened today, about 40,000 persons were checked through by red border guards. It was the second day of the visiting period, which extends until Nov. 12.

More than six of every 10 new cars sold in the United States during 1963 were equipped with car radios.

Soil Service Aids Farmers

Additional Hancock County farmers are completing conservation practices on their tracts with the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, James R. Michael of Wellsburg, reported.

The Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation technician said Pughtown recently became a co-operator. He is developing a conservation plan for his land with Michael's assistance, planning improvement of pasture, cropland, and livestock water development.

Robert Conkle and Fred Conkle near Lawrenceville are constructing a diversion terrace to reduce runoff and erosion on their cropland. W. C. Huff and Don Glenn of Shepherds Valley near Pughtown recently installed 4-inch tile to drain seep areas in crop fields.

Michaels said farm ponds are one of the most popular conservation practices in the Panhandle. There are 50 ponds in Hancock County.

He said the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service will share costs on the construction of a pond, provided it meets certain limitations of use and design. The office in New Cumberland is managed by Mrs. Norma Murray.

"The state fish and game division and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will often aid in stocking ponds with desirable species of fish," Michael reported.

In the realm of home decorating it is beauty which transforms the purely functional art. This transformation has been in progress since the beginning of civilized living.

Today the trend in home beauty is toward elegance. Not the elaborate, sometimes overbearing and stifling splendor of past eras, but a new, more subtle understated elegance which expresses our current mood and way of life.

Headboard of mellow walnut rubbed to a satiny patina contrasts dramatically with the champagne-colored carpet. Three matching walnut chests in a row provide plenty of storage space. A pair of lounge chairs with accompanying table and lamp occupy the sitting area of the room.

We point with pride to our comprehensive array of up-to-the-minute furnishings for living, dining and bedroom. Pieces designed to add subtle elegance as well as high drama to your home. Style, quality and value unsurpassed. Come in soon and browse around.

ELEGANCE . . . UNDERSTATED

In the realm of home decorating it is beauty which transforms the purely functional art. This transformation has been in progress since the beginning of civilized living.

Today the trend in home beauty is toward elegance. Not the elaborate, sometimes overbearing and stifling splendor of past eras, but a new, more subtle understated elegance which expresses our current mood and way of life.

Headboard of mellow walnut rubbed to a satiny patina contrasts dramatically with the champagne-colored carpet. Three matching walnut chests in a row provide plenty of storage space. A pair of lounge chairs with accompanying table and lamp occupy the sitting area of the room.

We point with pride to our comprehensive array of up-to-the-minute furnishings for living, dining and bedroom. Pieces designed to add subtle elegance as well as high drama to your home. Style, quality and value unsurpassed. Come in soon and browse around.

Choice Should Be Clear, Easy

When Council votes Monday night on whether to continue the city income tax beyond Dec. 31, its choice should be clear and easy.

It boils down to a question of keeping the municipal government on a sound financial basis or turning back the clock to the series of crises that the city experienced only a few years ago.

The tax has been collected almost continually for two years now, a change from the on-and-off status that was the rule in its earlier history. As a result, the city has pulled itself out of the debt that piled up in the years when it did not have sufficient operating revenue. Slowly but surely some permanent improvements have been made.

MOST NOTABLY, work has started on a "master plan" that promises to guide the city's future growth and development —charting a clear, forward path.

The recreation program at Thompson Park and in other parts of the city has been broadened. City employes have been paid a living wage, including a well-deserved increase and a couple of fringe benefits common to most industry.

Decrepit rolling stock has been replaced with serviceable, efficient trucks, particularly in the street and incinerator departments, and a new street sweeper has been acquired.

At least 15 miles of secondary streets have been given hard surfaces in the last three years, with income tax revenue footing half the bill and property owners paying the balance. Existing blacktop streets have been given seal coats that prolong their life and the remaining unsurfaced streets and alleys have been given coats of oil to lay summer dust.

None of those things would have been possible without the revenue from the tax.

In the first nine months of 1964, the tax produced $248,206, according to the latest report filed with Council.

NO ONE KNOWS better than the members of Council that it would have been impossible to operate the municipal government at anything like its present level of services without that added income.

And there was no real hardship on anyone. The tax costs wage-earners, business and industry 80 cents on each $100 of income — $8 on each $1,000.

Of the anticipated income for 1964, Council appropriated $206,753 to bolster the general fund.

The general fund is the depository for virtually all revenue of the city. Out of it are paid the expenses of all the City Hall offices, the fire and police departments and most other municipal operations.

The water and sewage departments are the only two that could be called self-sustaining. They operate from service charges collected from the customers.

A share of gasoline taxes and auto license fees turned back by the state helps operate the street department. But income tax funds are needed, too, when the money from the state runs out. For instance, the last income tax footed the bill for a $4,000 snow removal job after a crippling storm last January.

Property taxes help the general fund revenue, along with other miscellaneous receipts, such as a share of state sales tax revenue. A 2½-mill levy finances the garbage and trash collections. And a 1-mill levy helps pay salaries in the fire department.

The income from a 1-mill voted levy is pitifully small, however, compared with the city's over-all needs. For instance, property owners would have been required to pay an additional six mills to raise the over $240,000 the income tax produced in the first three quarters of 1964.

WHEN THE TAX was tested at the polls in November 1963, voters gave a clear mandate for its continuance.

They favored retaining the tax, 2,671 to 3,337—a majority of 666, in contrast to the rejections in previous tests.

The tax was approved by wide margins in the Second and Fourth Wards and by a smaller majority in the Third Ward. Only the First Ward voted against the retention of the tax—and there the margin was only 23 votes.

The intent of any law in a democracy is to accomplish the "greatest good for the greatest number."

That should be the guiding factor Monday night when the tax comes to a vote. Its fate can broaden or cramp East Liverpool's future.

The Great Krebiozen Problem

Outsiders have good reason to be skittish about the violent free-for-all that has surrounded claims for and against Krebiozen, whose developers claim it has beneficial effects on cancer.

The counter-claim crytallized last year when the Food and Drug Administration said Krebiozen was creating, a common body chemical, with no beneficial value for treating cancer tissue.

It was certain then that prosecution in criminal court would follow in due time. This action now has been taken. Stevan and Marko Durovic, who developed Krebiozen, face a federal charge of conspiracy to put the substance in interstate commerce with intent to defraud. Also named as defendant is the Krebiozen Foundation of Chicago.

Everything about Krebiozen has been tinged with tragedy—the hope, faith, trust, confidence, friendship, disenchantment, betrayal, professional rancor and disappointment that have been tangled up in its history.

The record leaves laymen confused. If it has taken the FDA, the medical profession and the dozens of people closely involved in this controversy so long to come to a showdown how can the public be expected to make a decision?

Unfortunately, what the public most easily comprehends is the violence that erupts whenever the medical profession is confronted with an idea not developed in accordance with medical orthodoxy. That was what happened to the late Sister Elizabeth Kenny's idea for using heat and physical therapy on polio patients.

Sister Kenny was excoriated. Not until her death in early December 1952 did the violence subside and the medical profession calm down enough to concede that heat and therapy might be better than plaster casts.

There is no proof that Krebiozen does what has been claimed for it but no proof that it doesn't, either. That has been the problem from the beginning—the absence of proof to the contrary.

'Equal Time'

Pride in ones band or any other hometown product or activity is commendable, but Weirton High School's policy of allowing only its own band to perform at halftime during football games at the Hancock County community stirs a sour note in the minds of those on the receiving end of the musical blackout.

Weirton officials apparently fail to realize that visiting fans also take pride in their musical organizations — and rightfully so in the case of the East Liverpool High School band, which has to take a back seat to few such similar groups.

The quality of the band, however, is not the case at point. It's simply a matter of Weirton failing to be a gracious host.

Vincent Maola, Potter band director, used "sound" judgment in rejecting a 20-minute pre-game spot. His musicians—and all other visiting musicians — should be entitled to "equal time" at the proper time.

A Vital Levy

Renewal of a half-mill levy to help pay the bill for garbage and trash collections is among the special issues which will face East Liverpool voters Tuesday.

There are few services more important in the day-to-day operation of the municipality than that involving the removal of garbage and trash.

Except on those rare occasions when unforeseen obstacles have been encountered, the collection has proved quite satisfactory. Approval of the half-mill levy will help keep it that way.

I Promise

By Truman Twill

One of the things I will do if elected, ladies and gentlemen, is change the Election Day.

I will move it from the melancholy days of early November to the sunshiny days of late June.

I promise to make it a national holiday, with everything wide open, including needless to say, all churches.

In my administration, fella citizens, no one will be expected to get to the voting places catch as catch can, before work, or after work. All of us will get up when we are through sleeping, eat a hot breakfast, do our voting and spend the rest of the day feeling happy about a form of government that gives us a fighting chance to pursue happiness until we are broke and exhausted.

Surely, it will be more fun to pursue happiness in June than in November, when days are short and falling leaves bring out the bawling blues and the dying flippinglories.

THAT IS WHY I promise a change, patriots. Change?

Not entirely a change, because in the early days Election Day was celebrated with hoopla and holler. That was too stiff for the Nice Nellies, so they dismalized it like everything else they could take all the fun out of.

They closed everything down tight, including their minds, then and later pursued their dry lips and wondered why so many people stayed home.

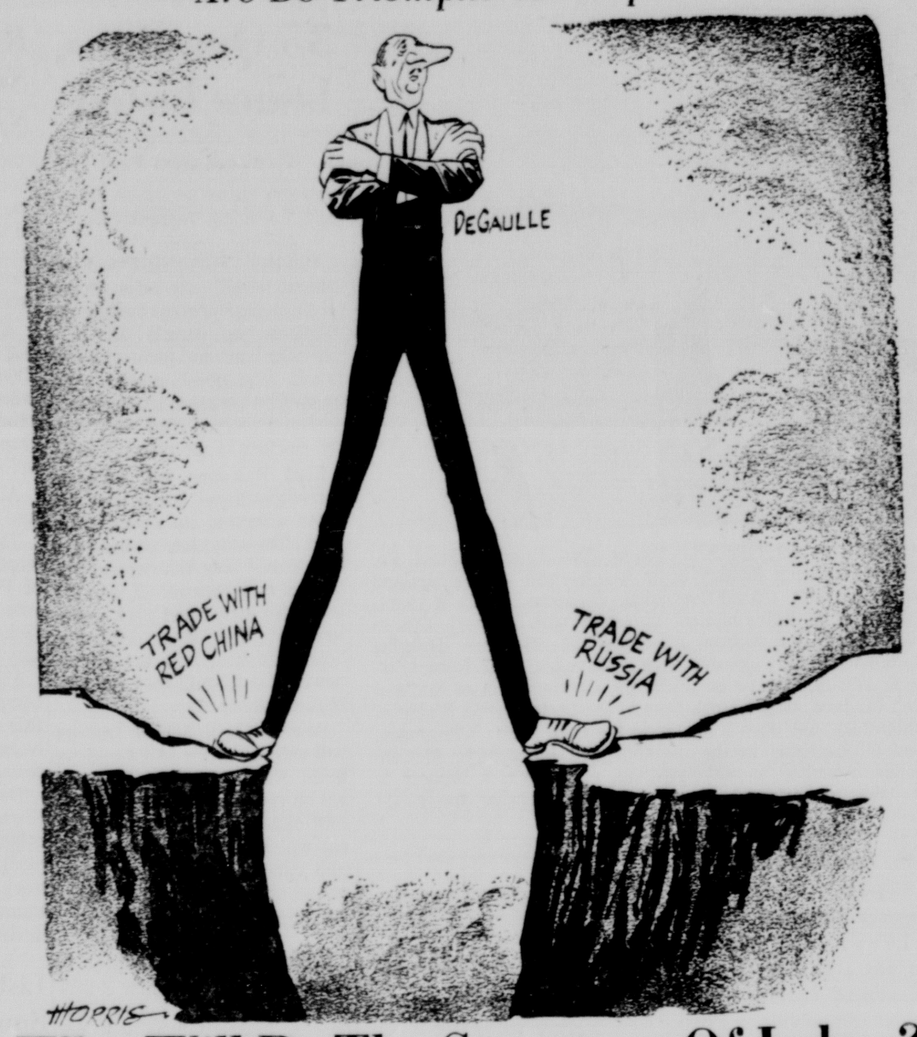
One reason so many stayed home was that they had other things to do on Election Day except mark ballots, like tending kids and earning a living.

Another reason was that some of them didn't have carriages to haul them to and from the voting places, and this used to be an axiom of the political trade — that if it rained the little people stayed home.

When the Republican party bossed the big cities, this was a blow to their chances. Democrats boss big cities now so it's their problem.

That's why we will have Election Day in June, brethern and sistern, when Twill is in charge. And to make sure the change will be appreciated we'll keep track of who votes and give voters a small credit on taxes due, which won't be too rascally radical considering the things Prudent Pauls have done to make it tough for people to vote in the first place.

Arc De Triomphe–He Hopes!



Who Will Be The Secretary Of Labor?

By Victor Riesel

New York City is no stranger to Barry Goldwater. Paths through the "rag" and "asphalt" jungles of the big town are no mystery lanes to him.

Victor Riesel

For years he came to this vast emporium as a merchant and there are those who can vouch he is on first name standing with many of its dramatis personae including the labor leaders who count — and who now want to help President Johnson take the state from him by two million, even three million votes.

Yet, candidate Goldwater invaded the biggest labor town of all and did not lash out at the union leaders. Here, as in hundreds of other speeches, he ignored them. Only once in his Monday night Madison Square Garden speech did he casually mention labor, though it has mounted its most massive offensive in history against him.

It's his policy to stand aloof from labor's leadership. If the odds are wrong and he is elected president of the U.S., Barry Goldwater would continue to remain aloof from them.

SHOULD HE become president, who then would be his account executive in charge of dealing with labor's leadership —meaning who would be secretary of labor? Mr. Goldwater would not follow the precedent set by Dwight D. Eisenhower, who named the Plumbers' leader, the late Martin Durkin, to the post in an effort to conciliate labor. Nor would the Arizonan name an intimate of the labor men such as the late Jim Mitchell, who succeeded Durkin after the latter resigned with a blast at the Republican administration.

In those circles where such matters are being discussed the prediction falls on a Washington lawyer, Edward McCabe, who, as assistant White House counsel under President Eisenhower, was Ike's inner circle labor specialist for years.

Mr. McCabe, a close friend of Sen. Goldwater, is now research director for the Republican National Committee. It was McCabe who, during the day to day talks with President Eisenhower, developed that administration's policy of neutrality in labor matters.

The Eisenhower - McCabe formula was to stay out of the knock down labor-management struggles. They believed in collective bargaining unfettered by White House intervention—even during the 116-day steel strike back in 1959.

HOWEVER, Jim Mitchell whittled away at the Eisenhower neutrality policy so effectively that the AFL-CIO threw him a testimonial banquet at the Statler during the final days, and in the presence of the President, labor leader after labor leader arose to proclaim Mitchell one of the greatest labor secretaries in history.

Under a Goldwater regime there would be no whittling away of neutrality in labor-management affairs. Therein lies the significance of the probable naming of Ed McCabe in the event of a Republican victory.

There are those in the Republican camp, however, who talk of naming Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine as labor secretary. This would be a gesture in the direction of the ladies.

BUT THE THOUGHT inside the Goldwater group is to offer her the Health, Education and Welfare Department. This would be a bow to the distaff side and she could work closely with the Labor Department on many joint ventures.

The attorney generalship would go to the man who has been closest to Sen. Goldwater, Denison Kitchell, who has been Boswelled too frequently for further introduction here.

As for the speculation on the Democratic side, the insiders have it that the erudite secretary of labor, Willard Wirtz, would be shifted by President Johnson to head the Department of Justice. He is a fine lawyer and would undoubtedly like the post.

The President has not offered it to him nor even discussed it with Mr. Wirtz, once head of the Adlai Stevenson speech writing team in the ancient '50s.

THUS, THE ODDS are that he would stay on in another Democratic administration. The President likes him; the labor leaders are fond of him though he is a friend and not a "relative," as was Arthur Goldberg, now in the Supreme Court.

However, should Mr. Wirtz go for some reason, his successor could be former Letter Carriers' leader and ex-ambassador William C. Doherty or the energetic James Reynolds, now assistant secretary of labor for labor-management affairs.

Speculation over the next secretary of labor is no mere Cabinet - guessing sport. There will be many crises in 1965. There may be turbulent strife on the railroads. There could well be another steel strike. What Walter Reuther won from the car industry for the Auto Workers, millions of other unionists will demand of their leaders.

Aside from war and peace, this could be the most important front of all.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Mrs. Anna Bassett and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy left to spend the winter in Florida.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Miss Charlotte Howard of East Liverpool left for Palm Beach, Fla., to receive her basic training in the SPARS.

TEN YEARS AGO — The World Friendship Circle of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church was formed, with Mrs. Richard Estell as leader.

The 65th homecoming observance of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church was marked with special services.

Letter To Editor

This election campaign is drawing to a close and it seems that all of the news media, radio, television and newspapers are trying to make a comparison to previous campaigns as to mud slinging.

In my opinon, this campaign is not much different than any other, although there is one thing missing that I haven't heard or seen mentioned. That is the religious issue.

If we will remember back four years ago when John Kennedy ran for president every where you went some one or some group was handing out anti-Catholic propaganda. This year, however, with the Republicans having a Catholic on their ticket I haven't seen or heard a thing about the Pope taking our country over.

It makes one wonder what some people will resort to to get votes, but regardless of what party gets the most votes this country will still remain the greatest in the world.

GOP Out Of Red

By David Lawrence

'The Party Of The People'?

A revolution in the methods of financing a presidential campaign has just been achieved by the Republican National Finance Committee. A formal report to be filed in Congress by the committee 12 days after the election will show a balanced budget and, in fact, a considerable surplus. This is the first time in many years that either party will present such a record to Congress.

David Lawrence

The Republicans have spent approximately 70 per cent more money than in any previous presidential campaign — a total this time of around $12.5 million—but, amazingly enough, this has been accomplished without as much support from persons in business and finance and the wealthier people of the country as in previous years.

In fact, gifts above $100 were few in number and amounted to much less in total than in the 1960 or 1956 campaigns. The surprising development is that, while total national contributors of record in the Republican party in 1960 numbered about 37,000, the contributors this year increased to the unprecedented total of 800,000. And even these figures do not include women contributors giving $1 each.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of this is not wholly on the side of finance because most of the contributors are young in years and, as one Republican leader says, while frequently the voter who gives $1,000 feels he has done his whole duty, the giver of a smaller sum — ranging from $1 to $25 — is likely to give his time and energies to working among other voters.

Much of the money was raised by direct-by-mail solicitation, which resulted in hundreds of thousands of contributions at an average of approximately $11 each. The official figures to be submitted also will show that the money came mostly from new or previously non-contributing voters.

The Republicans had an abnormal situation to face, since in some of the states with large populations the money that would normally go to national headquarters from state organizations did not materialize. This difference was made up by an increase in receipts from the smaller contributors who supplied more than 75 per cent of all the money received by the Republican National Finance Committee this year.

Most of the money was collected after the campaign began, and the Republicans had a deficit of approximately $600,000 on Aug. 1. They have no deficit now.

THE REPUBLICAN leaders themselves say that they were helped by various campaign issues and a feeling that the Democratic party had advantages due to the power and influence of the incumbent administration.

When the major television and radio networks refused recently to give equal time to the Republican nominee, the Republicans could get the Goldwater view transmitted only by buying time. This meant an appeal for funds. The public response in contributions to the Republican committee was overwhelming.

Large sums also were obtained by fund-raising rallies, breakfasts, luncheons, dinners and receptions, with admission tickets of varying amounts. These, together with receipts from mail solicitation and appeals over TV, accounted for 25 per cent more money than was received from all sources in 1960.

It's conceded by the Republicans that they did not have as many of the businessmen who usually contribute large sums. Indeed, the Republican party has heretofore had a record of a relatively small total number of contributors, but this was changed considerably in the 1964 campaign.

THE DEMOCRATS, according to the latest information, will wind up their campaign with a deficit, even though they have had advantages which the Republicans do not enjoy.

Many government employes who owe their jobs to the Democratic administration have participated directly and indirectly in the campaign, and of course the AFL-CIO has a special organization for political campaigns which gave substantial help to the Democratic party this year.

Letters To The Editor

I would like to make an appeal to the voters of the Beaver Local School District to vote for the renewal of the 1.6-mill levy and the new 5.4-mill levy.

To borrow the words of one of the wisest and best men of more than 2,000 years ago, we might quote Socrates, the Athenian philosopher, who said: "Could I climb the highest place in Athens, I would lift my voice and proclaim: Fellow citizens, why do you turn and scrape every stone to gather wealth, and take so little care of your children, to whom one day you must relinquish it all!"

He was touching upon the most important work in the world today, that of training and educating our children. Yet the mother in the home is listed as "unemployed." The teacher in the classroom who has your children five days a week often is paid less than the worker who built the school. The teaching of the Bible is too often neglected in the home and children are not taken to church for religious instructions and learning to worship their Maker.

If we, of the Beaver Local School District, were as wise as Socrates, we would spend more time and more money in providing our children with better teachers, facilities and more time in our churches. To them we shall soon relinquish our stores, farms, factories and our nation.

I saw tomorrow marching by
On little children's feet;
Within their forms and faces read
Her prophecy complete.

I saw tomorrow look at me
From little children's eyes,
And thought how carefully we'd teach
If we were really wise!

Only you hold the answer on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

CLAYTON AUGHINBAUGH
Member, Beaver Local
Board of Education

I was astonished to read your editorial on behalf of Wayne Hays for Congress. How can you give your support to a man who considers the 18th District his personal property?

The only tangible results we have from his time in Congress are the flood of "free" publications sent by franked mail (at the taxpayers' expense) which appears at election time each two years; a profusion of new post office buildings; press notices of European trips with head waiters, and a rating, by his congressional colleagues, as 434th of a field of 435.

You say if Mr. Dalrymple was given the opportunity he would probably be a good public servant. Let's give him that chance. Surely any sincere person could build a better record than your candidate.

LARRY H. WALTON
Macrum St.

Your endorsement of some candidates is inconsistent, whereby you consider experience a yardstick to measure a candidate's qualifications for political office.

Yet, on the other hand, you have endorsed other candidates without previous experience. Therefore, a candidate should be appraised by other merits.

Should an aspirant for public office be worthy of the support of his constituents when he is far past the age when other men on industry and other worthwhile endeavors have retired? Is there no maximum age for public office? Can Judge Sharp give full justice to a job that would tax the rigors of a younger person? This is the real issue in the campaign for the Common Pleas judgeship.

Judge Herbert E. Arfman is not only qualified, but has the youth and vigor to devote full time to hear and dispose of with efficiency the many cases now on our Common Pleas docket. I don't assume that a man 70 years old can guarantee the voters of Columbiana County that he will be able to perform as proficiently for another six-year term.

The voters should weigh the possibilities for and support a full-time official — Herbert Arfman, candidate for Common Pleas judge.

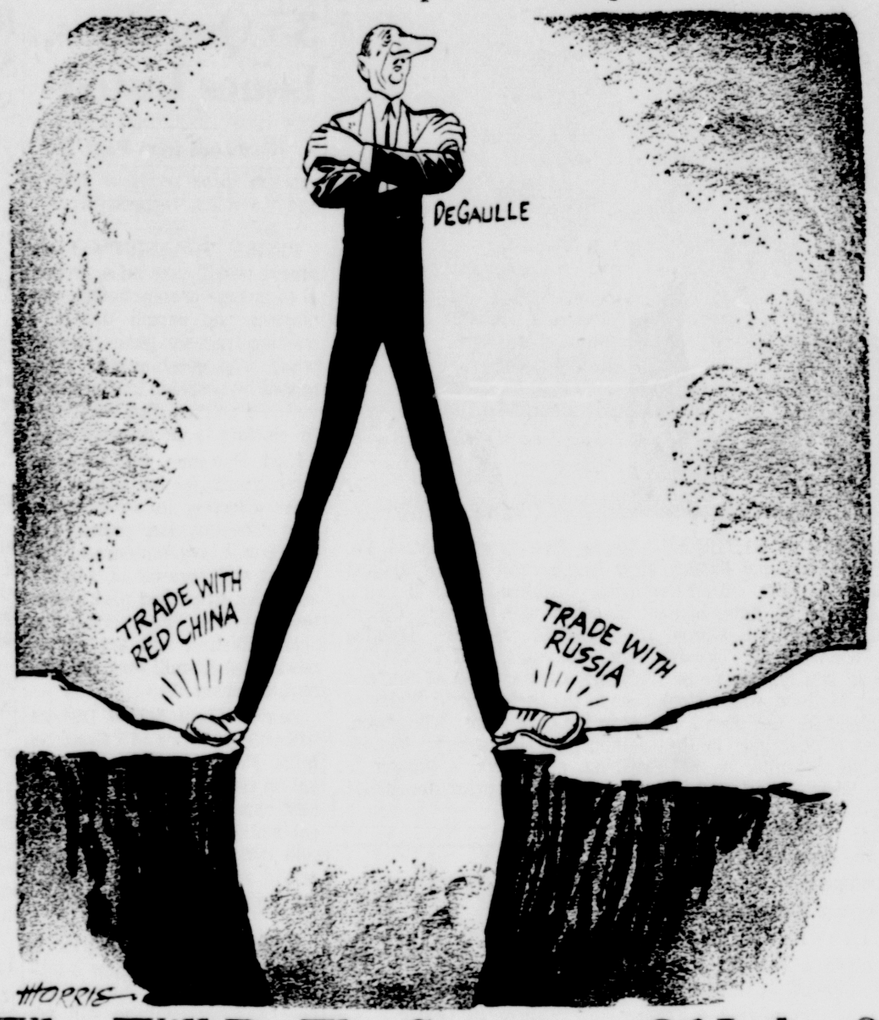
When the Republican party bossed the big cities, this was a blow to their chances. Democrats boss big cities now so it's their problem.

That's why we will have Election Day in June, brethern and sistern, when Twill is in charge. And to make sure the change will be appreciated we'll keep track of who votes and give voters a small credit on taxes due, which won't be too rascally radical considering the things Prudent Pauls have done to make it tough for people to vote in the first place.

Arc De Triomphe–He Hopes!



Who Will Be The Secretary Of Labor?

By Victor Riesel

New York City is no stranger to Barry Goldwater. Paths through the "rag" and "asphalt" jungles of the big town are no mystery lanes to him.

Victor Riesel

For years he came to this vast emporium as a merchant and there are those who can vouch he is on first name standing with many of its dramatis personae including the labor leaders who count — and who now want to help President Johnson take the state from him by two million, even three million votes.

Yet, candidate Goldwater invaded the biggest labor town of all and did not lash out at the union leaders. Here, as in hundreds of other speeches, he ignored them. Only once in his Monday night Madison Square Garden speech did he casually mention labor, though it has mounted its most massive offensive in history against him.

It's his policy to stand aloof from labor's leadership. If the odds are wrong and he is elected president of the U.S., Barry Goldwater would continue to remain aloof from them.

SHOULD HE become president, who then would be his account executive in charge of dealing with labor's leadership —meaning who would be secretary of labor? Mr. Goldwater would not follow the precedent set by Dwight D. Eisenhower, who named the Plumbers' leader, the late Martin Durkin, to the post in an effort to conciliate labor. Nor would the Arizonan name an intimate of the labor men such as the late Jim Mitchell, who succeeded Durkin after the latter resigned with a blast at the Republican administration.

In those circles where such matters are being discussed the prediction falls on a Washington lawyer, Edward McCabe, who, as assistant White House counsel under President Eisenhower, was Ike's inner circle labor specialist for years.

Mr. McCabe, a close friend of Sen. Goldwater, is now research director for the Republican National Committee. It was McCabe who, during the day to day talks with President Eisenhower, developed that administration's policy of neutrality in labor matters.

The Eisenhower - McCabe formula was to stay out of the knock down labor-management struggles. They believed in collective bargaining unfettered by White House intervention—even during the 116-day steel strike back in 1959.

HOWEVER, Jim Mitchell whittled away at the Eisenhower neutrality policy so effectively that the AFL-CIO threw him a testimonial banquet at the Statler during the final days, and in the presence of the President, labor leader after labor leader arose to proclaim Mitchell one of the greatest labor secretaries in history.

Under a Goldwater regime there would be no whittling away of neutrality in labor-management affairs. Therein lies the significance of the probable naming of Ed McCabe in the event of a Republican victory.

There are those in the Republican camp, however, who talk of naming Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine as labor secretary. This would be a gesture in the direction of the ladies.

BUT THE THOUGHT inside the Goldwater group is to offer her the Health, Education and Welfare Department. This would be a bow to the distaff side and she could work closely with the Labor Department on many joint ventures.

The attorney generalship would go to the man who has been closest to Sen. Goldwater, Denison Kitchell, who has been Boswelled too frequently for further introduction here.

As for the speculation on the Democratic side, the insiders have it that the erudite secretary of labor, Willard Wirtz, would be shifted by President Johnson to head the Department of Justice. He is a fine lawyer and would undoubtedly like the post.

The President has not offered it to him nor even discussed it with Mr. Wirtz, once head of the Adlai Stevenson speech writing team in the ancient '50s.

THUS, THE ODDS are that he would stay on in another Democratic administration. The President likes him; the labor leaders are fond of him though he is a friend and not a "relative," as was Arthur Goldberg, now in the Supreme Court.

However, should Mr. Wirtz go for some reason, his successor could be former Letter Carriers' leader and ex-ambassador William C. Doherty or the energetic James Reynolds, now assistant secretary of labor for labor-management affairs.

Speculation over the next secretary of labor is no mere Cabinet - guessing sport. There will be many crises in 1965. There may be turbulent strife on the railroads. There could well be another steel strike. What Walter Reuther won from the car industry for the Auto Workers, millions of other unionists will demand of their leaders.

Aside from war and peace, this could be the most important front of all.

Letter To Editor

This election campaign is drawing to a close and it seems that all of the news media, radio, television and newspapers are trying to make a comparison to previous campaigns as to mud slinging.

In my opinon, this campaign is not much different than any other, although there is one thing missing that I haven't heard or seen mentioned. That is the religious issue.

If we will remember back four years ago when John Kennedy ran for president every where you went some one or some group was handing out anti-Catholic propaganda. This year, however, with the Republicans having a Catholic on their ticket I haven't seen or heard a thing about the Pope taking our country over.

It makes one wonder what some people will resort to to get votes, but regardless of what party gets the most votes this country will still remain the greatest in the world.

GOP Out Of Red

'The Party Of The People'?

A revolution in the methods of financing a presidential campaign has just been achieved by the Republican National Finance Committee. A formal report to be filed in Congress by the committee 12 days after the election will show a balanced budget and, in fact, a considerable surplus. This is the first time in many years that either party will present such a record to Congress.

David Lawrence

The Republicans have spent approximately 70 per cent more money than in any previous presidential campaign — a total this time of around $12.5 million—but, amazingly enough, this has been accomplished without as much support from persons in business and finance and the wealthier people of the country as in previous years.

In fact, gifts above $100 were few in number and amounted to much less in total than in the 1960 or 1956 campaigns. The surprising development is that, while total national contributors of record in the Republican party in 1960 numbered about 37,000, the contributors this year increased to the unprecedented total of 800,000. And even these figures do not include women contributors giving $1 each.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of this is not wholly on the side of finance because most of the contributors are young in years and, as one Republican leader says, while frequently the voter who gives $1,000 feels he has done his whole duty, the giver of a smaller sum — ranging from $1 to $25 — is likely to give his time and energies to working among other voters.

Much of the money was raised by direct-by-mail solicitation, which resulted in hundreds of thousands of contributions at an average of approximately $11 each. The official figures to be submitted also will show that the money came mostly from new or previously non-contributing voters.

The Republicans had an abnormal situation to face, since in some of the states with large populations the money that would normally go to national headquarters from state organizations did not materialize. This difference was made up by an increase in receipts from the smaller contributors who supplied more than 75 per cent of all the money received by the Republican National Finance Committee this year.

Most of the money was collected after the campaign began, and the Republicans had a deficit of approximately $600,000 on Aug. 1. They have no deficit now.

THE REPUBLICAN leaders themselves say that they were helped by various campaign issues and a feeling that the Democratic party had advantages due to the power and influence of the incumbent administration.

When the major television and radio networks refused recently to give equal time to the Republican nominee, the Republicans could get the Goldwater view transmitted only by buying time. This meant an appeal for funds. The public response in contributions to the Republican committee was overwhelming.

Large sums also were obtained by fund-raising rallies, breakfasts, luncheons, dinners and receptions, with admission tickets of varying amounts. These, together with receipts from mail solicitation and appeals over TV, accounted for 25 per cent more money than was received from all sources in 1960.

It's conceded by the Republicans that they did not have as many of the businessmen who usually contribute large sums. Indeed, the Republican party has heretofore had a record of a relatively small total number of contributors, but this was changed considerably in the 1964 campaign.

THE DEMOCRATS, according to the latest information, will wind up their campaign with a deficit, even though they have had advantages which the Republicans do not enjoy.

Many government employes who owe their jobs to the Democratic administration have participated directly and indirectly in the campaign, and of course the AFL-CIO has a special organization for political campaigns which gave substantial help to the Democratic party this year.

Letters To The Editor

I would like to make an appeal to the voters of the Beaver Local School District to vote for the renewal of the 1.6-mill levy and the new 5.4-mill levy.

To borrow the words of one of the wisest and best men of more than 2,000 years ago, we might quote Socrates, the Athenian philosopher, who said: "Could I climb the highest place in Athens, I would lift my voice and proclaim: Fellow citizens, why do you turn and scrape every stone to gather wealth, and take so little care of your children, to whom one day you must relinquish it all!"

He was touching upon the most important work in the world today, that of training and educating our children. Yet the mother in the home is listed as "unemployed." The teacher in the classroom who has your children five days a week often is paid less than the worker who built the school. The teaching of the Bible is too often neglected in the home and children are not taken to church for religious instructions and learning to worship their Maker.

If we, of the Beaver Local School District, were as wise as Socrates, we would spend more time and more money in providing our children with better teachers, facilities and more time in our churches. To them we shall soon relinquish our stores, farms, factories and our nation.

I saw tomorrow marching by
On little children's feet;
Within their forms and faces read
Her prophecy complete.

I saw tomorrow look at me
From little children's eyes,
And thought how carefully we'd teach
If we were really wise!

Only you hold the answer on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

CLAYTON AUGHINBAUGH
Member, Beaver Local
Board of Education

I was astonished to read your editorial on behalf of Wayne Hays for Congress. How can you give your support to a man who considers the 18th District his personal property?

The only tangible results we have from his time in Congress are the flood of "free" publications sent by franked mail (at the taxpayers' expense) which appears at election time each two years; a profusion of new post office buildings; press notices of European trips with head waiters, and a rating, by his congressional colleagues, as 434th of a field of 435.

You say if Mr. Dalrymple was given the opportunity he would probably be a good public servant. Let's give him that chance. Surely any sincere person could build a better record than your candidate.

LARRY H. WALTON
Macrum St.

Your endorsement of some candidates is inconsistent, whereby you consider experience a yardstick to measure a candidate's qualifications for political office.

Yet, on the other hand, you have endorsed other candidates without previous experience. Therefore, a candidate should be appraised by other merits.

Should an aspirant for public office be worthy of the support of his constituents when he is far past the age when other men on industry and other worthwhile endeavors have retired? Is there no maximum age for public office? Can Judge Sharp give full justice to a job that would tax the rigors of a younger person? This is the real issue in the campaign for the Common Pleas judgeship.

Judge Herbert E. Arfman is not only qualified, but has the youth and vigor to devote full time to hear and dispose of with efficiency the many cases now on our Common Pleas docket. I don't assume that a man 70 years old can guarantee the voters of Columbiana County that he will be able to perform as proficiently for another six-year term.

The voters should weigh the possibilities for and support a full-time official — Herbert Arfman, candidate for Common Pleas judge.

Releases Survey Of 53 Cities

Johnson Reports Wide Rights Law Compliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, reporting "widespread compliance" with the new Civil Rights Law, says it "is being obeyed in those areas would be massive disobedience."

During a campaign stop in Chicago Friday, Johnson released a survey of 53 cities of more than 50,000 population in the 19 states which do not have their own public accommodations laws.

The report was submitted to Johnson by Leroy Collins, the former Florida governor who is director of the Community Relations Service established by the rights law.

The report gave these figures:

—In 51 of the 53 cities, more than two-third of the hotels and more than two-thirds of the theaters are desegregates.

—In 46 of the cities, more than two-thirds of the motels are desegregates.

—In 50 of the cities, more than two-thirds of the public parks are desegregated.

—In 52 of the cities, more than two-thirds of the libraries are desegregated.

Nearly 100 school districts were desegregated this fall, the report said. For the first time in the nation's history, it added, there are desegregated institutions of higher education and desegregated public schools at lower levels in every state.

"This year for the first time this desegregation was accomplished without violence, without injury and almost without notice," Johnson said.

The President said Collins reported "there is still considerable work to be done." But he said the exceptions "only serve to point up the basic fact that the general rule is compliance."

In some sections, Johnson said, the changes brought by the Civil Rights Law represent the "reversal of generations of customs in practice."

"Adjustment to the law of the land is being accomplished and recognition is due those who have provided the leadership that has produced these encouraging developments — public officials, clergymen, educators, businessmen, labor leaders and other community leaders and countless private citizens have made the difference."

"Deserving of special note," Johnson continued, "are those members of Congress who opposed the civil rights bill with all their strength and all their eloquence while it was being debated, and who, once the bill was enacted, urged their constituents and followers to comply with the 'law of the land.'"

Newell Cubs Hold Halloween Party

A masquerade contest featured a Halloween party of Newell Cub Scout Pack 10 Thursday night in social rooms of the Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Durham were judges.

Costume prizes went to David Jividen, Leonard Bywaters and Jimmy Gillespie. Other youngsters won prizes in games.

Punch was served from a large black kettle which hung over an artificial fireplace. A Cub Scout, made from pumpkins, centered the table, and it was encircled by a black picket fence.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Jividen and Lloyd Nalley were in charge of the decorations. Each den also made decorations. Treats were given each youngster and lunch was served by the den mothers. Jividen was chairman.

2 Wellsville Students Given Commendation

Two Wellsville High School students have been cited for their academic ability, according to William Menough, principal. Nancy Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Huston, 801 Riverside Ave., has received a letter of commendation for her performance in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test held last spring. She is a senior.

Richard W. Call, another senior, is one of 113 county and state-at-large winners in an Ohio history, government and citizenship essay contest. The second-ranking student in Columbiana County was Miss Huston. Call will participate in the final essay examination Nov. 13 at 4 p.m. at Ohio University at Athens. He will remain at the school over the weekend.

theme for his speeches in Las Vegas, Nev., Tucson, Ariz., and at Los Angeles.

"I've had a feeling for the last two or three weeks that we are going to win this thing," he said. "I know the polls don't agree with me, but they never have."

Goldwater boasted of his crowds. "On quite a few occasions we have actually outpulled the President of the United States, which is something we shouldn't be doing," he said.

He said more people should want to see the President than a senator from Arizona.

Before an estimated 14,000 people at a fund-raising rally in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Goldwater went to work on the President's remarks about his Senate primary victory in 1948.

He said Johnson "joked about the nickname this won him—Landslide Lyndon.

"Well, let me remind him that his Senate election in 1948 was no joke," he told a roaring crowd that put more than $400,000 into Republican coffers. "It remains one of the most hotly disputed elections in our history.

"Lyndon's political power stopped a full investigation—just as it has stopped investigations of wrongdoing ever since."

"This laughter of Lyndon's," he added, "laughing even at one of the darkest elections in our history, downgrades the very political process that Lyndon seeks to exploit for his personal power."

In Las Vegas, Goldwater told an airport rally "you understand what odds are and you are looking at a fellow that is supposed to have no chance.

"You are looking at the most under underdog that ever lived in this country," he said, "and if it weren't for the fact that the only thing we have going with us is the people I might tend to get discouraged."

But Goldwater then pointed to a newspaper account of a Louis Harris survey on the issues.

"I would like to think this time he is right, but he has been wrong so often I don't know," Goldwater said.

"For the first time he now says that a majority of the people now feel sympathetic to the Republican nominee as a person," Goldwater said. "That is me."

Goldwater plans to spend Sunday in Phoenix, make a midday speech in San Francisco Monday, then wind up his campaign with a good luck speech in Fredonia, Ariz., an isolated community of about 500.

The Senator's advisors aren't enthusiastic about that last stop.

But Goldwater is.

"Every time I go there on the last day I win," he said. "So that's where I'm going."

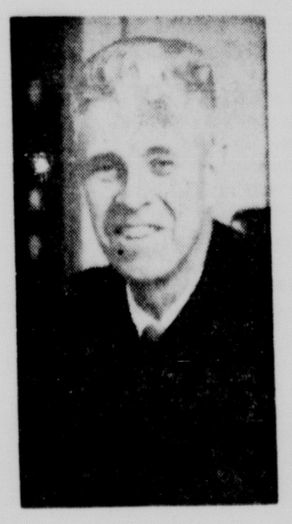
TO THE
COURT OF COMMON PLEAS



HIS RECORD MERITS RE-ELECTION!!

Voters should not be led to confuse Courts of Common Pleas with County Courts.

Our Common Pleas Court sits at the Court House in Lisbon, has unlimited maximum jurisdiction in all cases, civil and criminal.

The work of the County Court is chiefly hearing traffic cases, other misdemeanors, and civil cases limited to amounts of $500.00 or less.

Judge Joel H. Sharp is one of our Common Pleas Judges and his opponent is a Judge of the County Court at East Palestine.

The Columbiana County Bar Association by secret ballot recently determined who in its opinion is best fitted to fill the judicial positions in the courts of our State, District, and County. 93% of those voting decided Judge Sharp to be best qualified in the present contest for a Common Pleas Judgeship. 80% of the Members of the Association voted.

No Increase In Tax Rate

You are asked to vote for a tax levy of seven-tenths of one mill for the City Hospital.

How much of an expense does that mean?

It will cost you only 70c for every $1,000 of valuation to have in your own town, ready for every need and emergency, modern hospital facilities.

Renewal of the Hospital Tax Levy will not increase your current tax rate.

THE MAYOR SAYS:

TO THE VOTERS OF EAST LIVERPOOL:

The people of East Liverpool have delegated to the Board of Trustees of The East Liverpool City Hospital the solemn responsibility of providing the best possible health care to those in our community who become ill or injured. With this implied trust, there is a moral obligation to render this care around the clock, every day, to all who may need it, regardless of ability to pay.

Continued efficient and effective operation of the East Liverpool City Hospital is as vital to the life and welfare of all our citizens as police, fire, and other health and safety services.

By voting FOR this levy you will NOT increase your present tax bill; you will simply be continuing an already existing tax that will expire unless you vote to renew it.

Cordially,

MERRILL D. HALL, Mayor

Facts About the City Hospital

1—356,460 patients were treated since the hospital was opened.

2—8,955 patients in 1963.

3—Payroll was $1,098,919.28 in 1963.

4—Total amount of charity work done by hospital since its inception $937,023.05. In 1963 charity cost was $49,637.00.

5—An average of 1,241 babies born in the hospital in past five years.

6—Constant need for better equipment and added service.

7—As a taxpayer it will cost you only 70c a year for each $1,000 tax valuation.

Miss Diane Detchon was in charge of games with a prize won by Miss Patti Osgood.

Refreshments were served. The next session will be Nov. 4.

Salineville Man Ill

SALINEVILLE — Gary Stone of Salineville remained in "fairly good" condition today at Salem Clinic after collapsing from a sudden illness while at work at the Summitville Tile Co. about 11:20 a. m. Friday. He was taken to the clinic in the Franklin Township fire department's emergency car driven by Louis Bryan, member of the department and employe at the plant.

theme for his speeches in Las Vegas, Nev., Tucson, Ariz., and at Los Angeles.

"I've had a feeling for the last two or three weeks that we are going to win this thing," he said. "I know the polls don't agree with me, but they never have."

Goldwater boasted of his crowds. "On quite a few occasions we have actually outpulled the President of the United States, which is something we shouldn't be doing," he said.

He said more people should want to see the President than a senator from Arizona.

Before an estimated 14,000 people at a fund-raising rally in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Goldwater went to work on the President's remarks about his Senate primary victory in 1948.

He said Johnson "joked about the nickname this won him—Landslide Lyndon.

"Well, let me remind him that his Senate election in 1948 was no joke," he told a roaring crowd that put more than $400,000 into Republican coffers. "It remains one of the most hotly disputed elections in our history.

"Lyndon's political power stopped a full investigation—just as it has stopped investigations of wrongdoing ever since."

"This laughter of Lyndon's," he added, "laughing even at one of the darkest elections in our history, downgrades the very political process that Lyndon seeks to exploit for his personal power."

In Las Vegas, Goldwater told an airport rally "you understand what odds are and you are looking at a fellow that is supposed to have no chance.

"You are looking at the most under underdog that ever lived in this country," he said, "and if it weren't for the fact that the only thing we have going with us is the people I might tend to get discouraged."

But Goldwater then pointed to a newspaper account of a Louis Harris survey on the issues.

"I would like to think this time he is right, but he has been wrong so often I don't know," Goldwater said.

"For the first time he now says that a majority of the people now feel sympathetic to the Republican nominee as a person," Goldwater said. "That is me."

Goldwater plans to spend Sunday in Phoenix, make a midday speech in San Francisco Monday, then wind up his campaign with a good luck speech in Fredonia, Ariz., an isolated community of about 500.

The Senator's advisors aren't enthusiastic about that last stop.

But Goldwater is.

"Every time I go there on the last day I win," he said. "So that's where I'm going."

RE-ELECT
JUDGE
TO THE
COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

HIS RECORD MERITS RE-ELECTION!!

Voters should not be led to confuse Courts of Common Pleas with County Courts.

Our Common Pleas Court sits at the Court House in Lisbon, has unlimited maximum jurisdiction in all cases, civil and criminal.

The work of the County Court is chiefly hearing traffic cases, other misdemeanors, and civil cases limited to amounts of $500.00 or less.

Judge Joel H. Sharp is one of our Common Pleas Judges and his opponent is a Judge of the County Court at East Palestine.

The Columbiana County Bar Association by secret ballot recently determined who in its opinion is best fitted to fill the judicial positions in the courts of our State, District, and County. 93% of those voting decided Judge Sharp to be best qualified in the present contest for a Common Pleas Judgeship. 80% of the Members of the Association voted.

Dear Friends:

Liberty is our most precious possession. To keep it, we must have a firm foreign policy, a powerful military defense and a free economy. We must preserve our moral and spiritual heritage.

Barry Goldwater shares my views and is dedicated to keeping the peace and providing the moral leadership we need.

I hope you will join me in voting for him for President November 3rd.

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

No Increase In Tax Rate

You are asked to vote for a tax levy of seven-tenths of one mill for the City Hospital.

How much of an expense does that mean?

It will cost you only 70c for every $1,000 of valuation to have in your own town, ready for every need and emergency, modern hospital facilities.

Renewal of the Hospital Tax Levy will not increase your current tax rate.

THE MAYOR SAYS:

TO THE VOTERS OF EAST LIVERPOOL:

The people of East Liverpool have delegated to the Board of Trustees of The East Liverpool City Hospital the solemn responsibility of providing the best possible health care to those in our community who become ill or injured. With this implied trust, there is a moral obligation to render this care around the clock, every day, to all who may need it, regardless of ability to pay.

Continued efficient and effective operation of the East Liverpool City Hospital is as vital to the life and welfare of all our citizens as police, fire, and other health and safety services.

By voting FOR this levy you will NOT increase your present tax bill; you will simply be continuing an already existing tax that will expire unless you vote to renew it.

Cordially,

MERRILL D. HALL, Mayor

Facts About the City Hospital

1—356,460 patients were treated since the hospital was opened.

2—8,955 patients in 1963.

3—Payroll was $1,098,919.28 in 1963.

4—Total amount of charity work done by hospital since its inception $937,023.05. In 1963 charity cost was $49,637.00.

5—An average of 1,241 babies born in the hospital in past five years.

6—Constant need for better equipment and added service.

7—As a taxpayer it will cost you only 70c a year for each $1,000 tax valuation.

8—The hospital belongs to you, the people of East Liverpool.

Renewal Of The Hospital Tax Levy Will Not Add One Penny To Your Current Tax Rate

13 Churches Will Join In Youth Series

Thirteen churches will participate in the Methodist Youth Crusade for Christ Sunday through Thursday at the Mt. Zion Methodist Church at Route 170 and the Clarkson Rd. The sessions will be held nightly at 7:30.

Participating churches include Columbiana, East Palestine, Elkton, East Fairfield, Franklin Square, Highlandtown, Rogers, Lisbon, Negley, New Waterford, Riley near Salineville, Rogers, Salineville and Mt. Zion.

The theme is "Christ Above All."

The ministers include the Rev. T. R. Nusser host pastor, scheduled to speak Monday night; the Rev. I. M. Wohrley of Rogers, Monday; the Rev. F. A. Shiltz of Lisbon, Tuesday; The Rev. T. H. R. Hammerton of East Palestine, Wednesday, and the Rev. Leland Floyd of New Waterford, Thursday.

Fred Kane and Edgar Bacon will be song leaders. Special music by youth choirs will be featured. The series is open to the public.

Dedication Set For New Church

YOUNGSTOWN — Bishop Emmet M. Walsh will dedicate the new St. Christine Church on the southwest side at 5 p.m. Sunday. The $585,000 church is among the first in the Youngstown Diocese to be constructed according to the new liturgical decree of Vatican Council II.

Following the dedication, Bishop Walsh will preside at a Mass offered by Fr. Joseph W. Rushton, former assistant at St. Christine Parish. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Glenn W. Holdbrook, rector of St. Columba Cathedral, will preach.

The new St. Christine Church is the second to be dedicated by Bishop Walsh for that parish in the past 10 years. Bishop Walsh established St. Christine Parish in 1953 with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Gordon G. Gutman as pastor and dedicated a church-school auditorium in 1954. In these 11 years under its founding pastor, the parish has grown to 1,940 families and has the largest elementary school in the diocese.

Taking part in the dedication will be four pastors of the parishes from which land was taken to make up St. Christine Parish: the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Bardon of St. Charles, Boardman; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Maxwell of St. Brendan; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alfred Heinrich, P. A., St. Patrick, and the Very Rev. Thomas J. Ertle, O. P., pastor of St. Dominic Parish. All but Father Ertle attended the original dedication 10 years ago.

The 1,200-seat church is air-conditioned, has radiant heat inside and exterior sidewalks equipped with de-icing coils.

Methodists Set Fund Conference

BEAVER — The Methodist Western Pennsylvania Conference will hold a special one-day session Nov. 9 at New Castle to consider a $3 million capital funds program for the 1964-68 quadrennium.

Approval for a program of special giving by churches totaling approximately $750,000 per year will be sought by a committee which has been studying needs of the conference in the fields of missions, higher education and care for the aged.

All of the capital funds money would be earmarked for specific projects in four general categories:

National and world missions, $800,000.

Christian higher education, $840,000.

Conference mission projects, $750,000.

Care for the aged, $700,000.

The $750,000 a year capital funds program would be in addition to the conference's regular annual budget which this year totals $2.2 million.

The conference special session will be convened by Bishop W. Vernon Middleton of Pittsburgh at 10 a. m. at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in New Castle.

Participating will be ministers and lay delegates representing 229,000 members in the conference's 782 churches.

The program will be under the supervision of Vincent Foreman, Sunday School superintendent. The Rev. Gordon D. Hall is pastor.

Progressive Prelates' Views Prevail On Sex

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The views of progressive prelates for a restudy of the Roman Catholic Church's position on sex in marriage will prevail over their conservative colleagues, Ecumenical Council sources predicted today.

The two-day debate ended Friday after the council's 2,500 prelates had heard both sides of the controversial subject, which is part of a major schema on modern world problems.

Theologians singled out speeches by Bernard Jan Cardinal Alfrink of Utrecht, Holland, a conservative, and Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal, a progressive, as the most significant.

Cardinal Alfrink took the traditional Church stand that the primary purpose of marriage is procreation while Cardinal Leger argued that both procreation and conjugal love should be regarded with equal importance in marriage.

Cardinal Alfrink said the Church in its teachings must safeguard not only "the purity of divine law" but also human values.

He suggested the Church may not have the complete and final answer about birth control, saying the Church would be in a position to "either obligate or liberate the consciences of Catholics" only when it has real certitude.

"Among many married couples, men of science and theologians an honest doubt is being raised about—at the least—the arguments used to demonstrate that in any conflicts in conjugal life the only solution is periodic or permanent abstinence," the Dutch cardinal said.

The conservative view is based on the long-held Church ban against birth control other than by natural means—total or periodic abstinence from sexual relations.

Cardinal Leger said the divine basis for conjugal love was equally as valid as the divine basis for procreation, adding:

"Human conjugal love involves both body and soul, is something good in itself and something having its own characteristics and laws."

A Jesuit scriptural scholar, in discussing the council speeches, explained:

"Besides the stress on fecundity or abundant child-bearing, which was so necessary in an earlier day, you will find in scripture references to mutual love and help between man and woman, such as Adam's exultation that Eve was "bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh'."

A canon law expert commented about insistence by some prelates on sticking to traditional doctrine:

"It is not always understood that many of the statements issued out of places like the Vatican Holy Office are not infallible but are opinions and judgments."

District Christian Churches To Meet At Lisbon Nov. 15

LISBON — The district convention of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ) will be held here Nov. 15, with the First Christian Church as host.

The convention attendance at Carrollton last year was over 500 and will probably reach that figure this year, sponsors said.

The Lisbon Methodist Church has been made available and several of its members will help.

Richard Walton of Lisbon, president of the convention, said this will be an unusual type of convention since this year it is being used to discuss restructure of the Christian Churches.

Each member is given the opportunity to express his convictions about how the churches should be organized and what he feels should be the central beliefs and practices.

Similar meetings are being held all across the United States and the opinions expressed will be sent to the National Committee on Restructure to guide it in submitting future reports and resolutions to the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

The Sunday afternoon session from 3 to 5 will be given over to discussion, with a sermon by the Rev. Ernest Newborn of Canton. The youth will go to separate churches in Lisbon, following the challenge.

The evening meal will be served in the Methodist Church, followed by the evening assembly for worship, also at the Methodist Church for adequate seating of the assembly.

Delegations are expected from the First church of Salem, the First church of East Liverpool, as well as other Christian Churches of Stark, Tuscarawas and Columbiana Counties.

Forestry Day Planned For Jefferson County

STEUBENVILLE — The Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors will hold a Forestry Day observance Nov. 10.

It will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the farms of Bill and Jim Newburn, two miles east of Annapolis on Route 646, then resume at 1:30 p.m. at the Richard Schneider farm, two and a half miles west of Richmond on Route 43.

All phases of woodland management will be covered. The program will include an log-sawing contest.

Local In Cleveland Continues Ford Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of Local 1377, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) voted to continue their strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s two engine plants and foundry in Brook Park by rejecting a proposed new contract Friday.

The IBEW's contract at the three plants ran out Aug. 31, but the union continued on the job on a day-to-day basis until Oct. 9, when the 200 members went on strike.

No new negotiating sessions have been scheduled.

Ever Wake To Find Elephant In Yard?

MADRID, Iowa (AP) — How would you like to awaken in the middle of the night, look out a window and see an elephant eating apples in your back yard?

That happened to Mrs. Eugene Bart of Madrid. The barking of her dog awakened her, and at the sight of the elephant she called police. They arrived at the Bart home about the same time a circus animal trainer did. The elephant had strayed from a circus encampment.

'Way Of The Arts' Launched In Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Works of art in stone, bronze, wood or concrete may one day link Canada from coast to coast.

A project, to be known as the Way of the Arts, has been launched here.

A number of internationally acclaimed artists are given room, board and a salary, on condition that they work in public and leave their creations behind when the job is finished.

Eleven artists from 13 countries are at present working on great blocks of stone on the slopes of Mt. Royal. Their work may be sent to points across Canada later.

The Quebec Symposium Society hopes other provinces will sponsor similar programs.

3 Given Life Terms For Robbery-Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Washington youths have been sentenced to life imprisonment for the robbery-slaying of Newell Ellison Jr., 27, an English instructor at Oberlin College in Ohio.

Ellison, son of a Washington attorney, was shot and robbed of $31 as he was walking his dog near his home the night of Aug. 25, 1963. A U. S. District Court jury had convicted the youths, recommending life sentences, June 24.

More Numerous Rich Are Getting

NEW YORK (AP) — The rich may or may not be getting richer, but they certainly are getting more numerous.

A study disclosed that the number of U. S. families with annual incomes of $25,000 and up nearly tripled from 1954 to 1963. The study, based mainly on Census Bureau figures, showed that the number of families earning $25,000 or more annually rose from 168,000 to 474,000, a gain of 182 per cent in the 10-year period.

Another old saying has it that the poor will always be with us, but the survey showed that they are growing less numerous. Families with annual incomes of less than $1,000 declined from 3,690,000 to 1,803,000 during the period, a drop of 51 per cent. The study also showed that more than four out of every American families now have in comes over $7,000 a year and that the number earning bethan doubled in the 10 years studied.

Who of us today would be without insurance? Who today would neglect to make out a will? These are just the ordinary steps we all take in advance of need. Why is it then that we postpone choosing the family burial estate, selecting the family Monument, when it must be done eventually? Why not choose it when the entire family can help — thoughtfully, calmly — and together. Wouldn't you say that your burial estate in a traditional cemetery, and the Monument that will carry your name through hundreds of years is worth a few hours of your time now? We invite you to visit our showrooms, where you can shop in comfort and privacy and see the many beautifully designed Monuments created by our artists; all, at no extra cost to you. Then too, if at a future date, any additional inscriptions or services are required, we will gladly assist you. This often, is not the case, when purchasing from out-of-town dealers. For your convenience we also carry a complete line of beautifully designed Bronze Markers. If you plan to erect a Memorial this year, we suggest you make your selection NOW, before the hand of winter touches the cemetery.

Thirteen churches will participate in the Methodist Youth Crusade for Christ Sunday through Thursday at the Mt. Zion Methodist Church at Route 170 and the Clarkson Rd. The sessions will be held nightly at 7:30.

Participating churches include Columbiana, East Palestine, Elkton, East Fairfield, Franklin Square, Highlandtown, Rogers, Lisbon, Negley, New Waterford, Riley near Salineville, Rogers, Salineville and Mt. Zion.

The theme is "Christ Above All."

The ministers include the Rev. T. R. Nusser host pastor, scheduled to speak Monday night; the Rev. I. M. Wohrley of Rogers, Monday; the Rev. F. A. Shiltz of Lisbon, Tuesday; The Rev. T. H. R. Hammerton of East Palestine, Wednesday, and the Rev. Leland Floyd of New Waterford, Thursday.

Fred Kane and Edgar Bacon will be song leaders. Special music by youth choirs will be featured. The series is open to the public.

Dedication Set For New Church

YOUNGSTOWN — Bishop Emmet M. Walsh will dedicate the new St. Christine Church on the southwest side at 5 p.m. Sunday. The $585,000 church is among the first in the Youngstown Diocese to be constructed according to the new liturgical decree of Vatican Council II.

Following the dedication, Bishop Walsh will preside at a Mass offered by Fr. Joseph W. Rushton, former assistant at St. Christine Parish. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Glenn W. Holdbrook, rector of St. Columba Cathedral, will preach.

The new St. Christine Church is the second to be dedicated by Bishop Walsh for that parish in the past 10 years. Bishop Walsh established St. Christine Parish in 1953 with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Gordon G. Gutman as pastor and dedicated a church-school auditorium in 1954. In these 11 years under its founding pastor, the parish has grown to 1,940 families and has the largest elementary school in the diocese.

Taking part in the dedication will be four pastors of the parishes from which land was taken to make up St. Christine Parish: the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Bardon of St. Charles, Boardman; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Maxwell of St. Brendan; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alfred Heinrich, P. A., St. Patrick, and the Very Rev. Thomas J. Ertle, O. P., pastor of St. Dominic Parish. All but Father Ertle attended the original dedication 10 years ago.

The 1,200-seat church is air-conditioned, has radiant heat inside and exterior sidewalks equipped with de-icing coils.

LaCroft Nazarenes' Series Starts Sunday

The LaCroft Church of the Nazarene will conduct revival services nightly at 7:30 Sunday through Nov. 8.

The Rev. B. Edwin McDonald pastor, will be the evangelist. Eight members of the evangelism committee will be in charge of the preliminaries.

They are Blaine Barrett, the Rev. Clarence Pelley, C. A. Silverthorn, Tom Mackey, Lloyd Densmore, Pearl King, Ross Baker and Reid Densmore.

Special music will be featured. The public is invited.

Prayer Temple Sets Series Of Revivals

An "old - fashioned" revival will begin at The Prayer Temple tonight at 7:45, continuing through Nov. 10.

Evangelist Sonny Busby of Little Rock, Ark., will be in charge of the services; Randy Hindman, song leader, and Larry Skelton, organist. The Rev. Harry Lane is pastor.

Cincy U. Dedicates 2 Men's Dormitories

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati dedicated two new men's dormitories, Morgens Hall and Sawyer Hall, Friday. The dorms have been in use since September.

The buildings are named after Charles Sawyer.

City Pastors To Hear Guest

The Rev. Mark Allen, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church in Toronto, will be speaker at the East Liverpool Ministerial Association meeting Monday at 10 a.m. at the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

Rev. Allen attended the National Council of Churches Civil Rights program in Mississippi, last summer. He will tell of his week-long experience.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot, associate minister of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. John L. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church, are in charge of the program.

The Rev. John Stilts, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, will lead devotions.

The Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, president, will preside.

Mrs. Sarah Raylor Taylor of Pittsburgh will be the worker at services Sunday and Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Spiritualist Church.

Methodists Set Fund Conference

BEAVER — The Methodist Western Pennsylvania Conference will hold a special one-day session Nov. 9 at New Castle to consider a $3 million capital funds program for the 1964-68 quadrennium.

Approval for a program of special giving by churches totaling approximately $750,000 per year will be sought by a committee which has been studying needs of the conference in the fields of missions, higher education and care for the aged.

All of the capital funds money would be earmarked for specific projects in four general categories:

National and world missions, $800,000.

Christian higher education, $840,000.

Conference mission projects, $750,000.

Care for the aged, $700,000.

The $750,000 a year capital funds program would be in addition to the conference's regular annual budget which this year totals $2.2 million.

The conference special session will be convened by Bishop W. Vernon Middleton of Pittsburgh at 10 a. m. at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in New Castle.

Participating will be ministers and lay delegates representing 229,000 members in the conference's 782 churches.

Lisbon Church Plans All Saints Day Mass

LISBON — The Feast of all hallows, or All Saints, will be celebrated Sunday at St. George's Catholic Church with two Masses, a Low Mass at 8 a.m. and a High Mass at 10.

Confessions in preparation for the feast will be heard tonight from 7 to 8 and Sunday at 7:30 a.m.

All Souls Day will be celebrated Monday with three Masses, two Low and one High, beginning at 7 a.m.

Evangelistic Series Set For Methodists

The speaker for the nightly series will be the Rev. Arthur Williams, pastor.

Special music and a "fill-a-pew" attendance contest will be featured.

Family Will Provide Music At Gardendale

Special music will be provided by a Chester family, Mr. and Mrs. Erett Allison and children, Diane, Renae and Paula, Sunday at 9:45 a.m. at the Gardendale Church of the Nazarene.

The program will be under the supervision of Vincent Foreman, Sunday School superintendent. The Rev. Gordon D. Hall is pastor.

Progressive Prelates' Views Prevail On Sex

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The views of progressive prelates for a restudy of the Roman Catholic Church's position on sex in marriage will prevail over their conservative colleagues, Ecumenical Council sources predicted today.

The two-day debate ended Friday after the council's 2,500 prelates had heard both sides of the controversial subject, which is part of a major schema on modern world problems.

Theologians singled out speeches by Bernard Jan Cardinal Alfrink of Utrecht, Holland, a conservative, and Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal, a progressive, as the most significant.

Cardinal Alfrink took the traditional Church stand that the primary purpose of marriage is procreation while Cardinal Leger argued that both procreation and conjugal love should be regarded with equal importance in marriage.

Cardinal Alfrink said the Church in its teachings must safeguard not only "the purity of divine law" but also human values.

He suggested the Church may not have the complete and final answer about birth control, saying the Church would be in a position to "either obligate or liberate the consciences of Catholics" only when it has real certitude.

"Among many married couples, men of science and theologians an honest doubt is being raised about—at the least—the arguments used to demonstrate that in any conflicts in conjugal life the only solution is periodic or permanent abstinence," the Dutch cardinal said.

The conservative view is based on the long-held Church ban against birth control other than by natural means—total or periodic abstinence from sexual relations.

Cardinal Leger said the divine basis for conjugal love was equally as valid as the divine basis for procreation, adding:

"Human conjugal love involves both body and soul, is something good in itself and something having its own characteristics and laws."

A Jesuit scriptural scholar, in discussing the council speeches, explained:

"Besides the stress on fecundity or abundant child-bearing, which was so necessary in an earlier day, you will find in scripture references to mutual love and help between man and woman, such as Adam's exultation that Eve was "bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh'."

A canon law expert commented about insistence by some prelates on sticking to traditional doctrine:

"It is not always understood that many of the statements issued out of places like the Vatican Holy Office are not infallible but are opinions and judgments."

District Christian Churches To Meet At Lisbon Nov. 15

LISBON — The district convention of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ) will be held here Nov. 15, with the First Christian Church as host.

The convention attendance at Carrollton last year was over 500 and will probably reach that figure this year, sponsors said.

The Lisbon Methodist Church has been made available and several of its members will help.

Richard Walton of Lisbon, president of the convention, said this will be an unusual type of convention since this year it is being used to discuss restructure of the Christian Churches.

Each member is given the opportunity to express his convictions about how the churches should be organized and what he feels should be the central beliefs and practices.

Similar meetings are being held all across the United States and the opinions expressed will be sent to the National Committee on Restructure to guide it in submitting future reports and resolutions to the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

The Sunday afternoon session from 3 to 5 will be given over to discussion, with a sermon by the Rev. Ernest Newborn of Canton. The youth will go to separate churches in Lisbon, following the challenge.

The evening meal will be served in the Methodist Church, followed by the evening assembly for worship, also at the Methodist Church for adequate seating of the assembly.

Delegations are expected from the First church of Salem, the First church of East Liverpool, as well as other Christian Churches of Stark, Tuscarawas and Columbiana Counties.

Forestry Day Planned For Jefferson County

STEUBENVILLE — The Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors will hold a Forestry Day observance Nov. 10.

It will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the farms of Bill and Jim Newburn, two miles east of Annapolis on Route 646, then resume at 1:30 p.m. at the Richard Schneider farm, two and a half miles west of Richmond on Route 43.

All phases of woodland management will be covered. The program will include an log-sawing contest.

Local In Cleveland Continues Ford Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of Local 1377, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) voted to continue their strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s two engine plants and foundry in Brook Park by rejecting a proposed new contract Friday.

The IBEW's contract at the three plants ran out Aug. 31, but the union continued on the job on a day-to-day basis until Oct. 9, when the 200 members went on strike.

No new negotiating sessions have been scheduled.

Ever Wake To Find Elephant In Yard?

MADRID, Iowa (AP) — How would you like to awaken in the middle of the night, look out a window and see an elephant eating apples in your back yard?

That happened to Mrs. Eugene Bart of Madrid. The barking of her dog awakened her, and at the sight of the elephant she called police. They arrived at the Bart home about the same time a circus animal trainer did. The elephant had strayed from a circus encampment.

'Way Of The Arts' Launched In Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — Works of art in stone, bronze, wood or concrete may one day link Canada from coast to coast.

A project, to be known as the Way of the Arts, has been launched here.

A number of internationally acclaimed artists are given room, board and a salary, on condition that they work in public and leave their creations behind when the job is finished.

Eleven artists from 13 countries are at present working on great blocks of stone on the slopes of Mt. Royal. Their work may be sent to points across Canada later.

The Quebec Symposium Society hopes other provinces will sponsor similar programs.

3 Given Life Terms For Robbery-Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Washington youths have been sentenced to life imprisonment for the robbery-slaying of Newell Ellison Jr., 27, an English instructor at Oberlin College in Ohio.

Ellison, son of a Washington attorney, was shot and robbed of $31 as he was walking his dog near his home the night of Aug. 25, 1963. A U. S. District Court jury had convicted the youths, recommending life sentences, June 24.

More Numerous Rich Are Getting

NEW YORK (AP) — The rich may or may not be getting richer, but they certainly are getting more numerous.

A study disclosed that the number of U. S. families with annual incomes of $25,000 and up nearly tripled from 1954 to 1963. The study, based mainly on Census Bureau figures, showed that the number of families earning $25,000 or more annually rose from 168,000 to 474,000, a gain of 182 per cent in the 10-year period.

Another old saying has it that the poor will always be with us, but the survey showed that they are growing less numerous. Families with annual incomes of less than $1,000 declined from 3,690,000 to 1,803,000 during the period, a drop of 51 per cent. The study also showed that more than four out of every American families now have in comes over $7,000 a year and that the number earning bethan doubled in the 10 years studied.

Who of us today would be without insurance? Who today would neglect to make out a will? These are just the ordinary steps we all take in advance of need. Why is it then that we postpone choosing the family burial estate, selecting the family Monument, when it must be done eventually? Why not choose it when the entire family can help — thoughtfully, calmly — and together. Wouldn't you say that your burial estate in a traditional cemetery, and the Monument that will carry your name through hundreds of years is worth a few hours of your time now? We invite you to visit our showrooms, where you can shop in comfort and privacy and see the many beautifully designed Monuments created by our artists; all, at no extra cost to you. Then too, if at a future date, any additional inscriptions or services are required, we will gladly assist you. This often, is not the case, when purchasing from out-of-town dealers. For your convenience we also carry a complete line of beautifully designed Bronze Markers. If you plan to erect a Memorial this year, we suggest you make your selection NOW, before the hand of winter touches the cemetery.

2 Killed, 2 Injured When Car Hits Pole

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Two young men were killed and two more were injured one seriously, Friday night when the car in which they were riding hit a pole and flipped over on Ohio 126 at Shandon, southwest of here.

Killed were the driver of the car, 18-year-old Robert Burwinkle of Cincinnati, and a passenger, Thomas Rundel, 22, of Groesbeck. They were pinned in the wreckage after the accident.

Another passenger, 21-year-old Larry Mercer of (5538 Dry Ridge Rd.) Cincinnati, was listed in critical condition at Hamilton Mercy Hospital. The fourth person was treated at the hospital and released.

Chosen As Queen

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Linda Snook of Oxford has been chosen Miami University's Homecoming Queen and will reign over the Redskins' game with Bowling Green this afternoon. Keith Humphries of Cincinnati was named King.

OLD FASHIONED REVIVAL AT PRAYER TEMPLE CHURCH

with EVANGELIST SONNY BUSBY

Who fasted 34 days and has received a great ministry.

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT TENORS, RANDY HINDMAN; LARRY SKELTON AT THE MIGHTY HAMMOND ORGAN

* Preaching-praying-singing-shouting.
* Things will happen in these services you'll never forget.
* Folks will be coming Hundred of Miles for Prayer.
* Call or write at least 10 of your friends about this great event.
* Bed for the Sick to lie on while awaiting prayer.
* Bring the Sick-Alcoholic's-Depressed.
* This Revival is for all People and all churches.

Everyone Welcome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL 10 A. M. — with Rev. Lane, continuing teaching on Unknown Tongues, Will Study the Story of Rev. Jolly Harper district supervisor of the Methodist Church, Shreveport, La., who has received the Holy Ghost Baptism, speaking in tongues, according to Act. 2:4. These experiences of Great Church Leaders from all denominational churches are most interesting.

Be sure to Attend.

HOW DOES LIFE GET SO TANGLED?

Interesting thing about a rope—it rarely becomes tangled when it's serving some useful purpose. It stretches firm and taut . . . reaching . . . holding.

But lay the rope aside . . . waiting without a purpose . . . and it becomes so tangled you can't even find the ends.

Life is like that! For some folks it seems an impossible tangle of conflicts, worries and disappointments. They haven't discovered how to devote their strand of years to a vital, constant purpose.

But for others life stretches firm and taut from birth to Eternity. The tangles disappear as men reach across time to hold certain the truths by which God would have us live.

Life without tangles . . . life with purpose . . . discover it in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

2 Killed, 2 Injured When Car Hits Pole

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Two young men were killed and two more were injured one seriously, Friday night when the car in which they were riding hit a pole and flipped over on Ohio 126 at Shandon, southwest of here.

Killed were the driver of the car, 18-year-old Robert Burwinkle of Cincinnati, and a passenger, Thomas Rundel, 22, of Groesbeck. They were pinned in the wreckage after the accident.

Another passenger, 21-year-old Larry Mercer of (5538 Dry Ridge Rd.) Cincinnati, was listed in critical condition at Hamilton Mercy Hospital. The fourth person was treated at the hospital and released.

Chosen As Queen

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Linda Snook of Oxford has been chosen Miami University's Homecoming Queen and will reign over the Redskins' game with Bowling Green this afternoon. Keith Humphries of Cincinnati was named King.

Everyone Welcome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL 10 A. M. — with Rev. Lane, continuing teaching on Unknown Tongues, Will Study the Story of Rev. Jolly Harper district supervisor of the Methodist Church, Shreveport, La., who has received the Holy Ghost Baptism, speaking in tongues, according to Act. 2:4. These experiences of Great Church Leaders from all denominational churches are most interesting.

Will Pentecostals resent this experience appearing in other churches? What do you think?

Be sure to Attend.

HOW DOES LIFE GET SO TANGLED?

Interesting thing about a rope—it rarely becomes tangled when it's serving some useful purpose. It stretches firm and taut . . . reaching . . . holding.

But lay the rope aside . . . waiting without a purpose . . . and it becomes so tangled you can't even find the ends.

Life is like that! For some folks it seems an impossible tangle of conflicts, worries and disappointments. They haven't discovered how to devote their strand of years to a vital, constant purpose.

But for others life stretches firm and taut from birth to Eternity. The tangles disappear as men reach across time to hold certain the truths by which God would have us live.

Life without tangles . . . life with purpose . . . discover it in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Campaign Trail Ends

Voters' Decision Near

By GLENN WAIGHT

X—which stands for the mathematical unknown—will be written on ballots across the Tri-State District and nation Tuesday to give mathematical answers concerning future governmental philosophy and the political hopes of thousands of candidates.

With the crucial 1964 election only three days away, the excitement and tension of campaigning has reached top tempo throughout America, and a record 70 million are expected at the polls.

In Columbiana, Beaver and Hancock Counties, an estimated 140,000 will make their choice.

Candidates from Sen. Barry Goldwater and President Lyndon Johnson to lesser office seekers at the district and county levels, along with backers of special issues, are in the final stage of drives to win votes.

In typical and traditional style of American politicking, electioneering in the past few months has been at times logical and sincere, abusive and offensive, marked with subtle insinuations and blatant broadsides of balderdash.

Candidates—depending upon their financial resources, supporters and inclinations — are using an extensive array of weapons, from lapel buttons, leaflets, matchfolders and street corner talks to full page newspaper ads, giant dinner rallies and nationwide telecasts.

BASIC DIFFERENCES of character and philosophy in the two presidential candidates have brought out sharper degrees of conflict between their devotees than in past years.

In 1960, the average voter was hard put to define some of the fundamental contrasts of theory between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy. Not so in 1964, for even the most casual campaign follower can point up Goldwater's beliefs in less government and more individualism compared to President Johnson's platform of present peace and prosperity and the future "great society."

Some teen-agers are caught up in emotional slogans and unfounded fears of national disaster should their candidate lose. Many ordinarily calm and concise citizens regularly become embroiled in campaign arguments which have little bearing on the real issues of the election.

On the local front, nominees of the three - county area are battling for terms in competition which ranges from petty to ponderous.

No less than at the national level are soap boxes surrounded by charges and counter charges, smiled predictions, righteous indignation and bemused confidence in past records.

ONLY THE FINAL tallies of Wednesday morning will resolve the present war of words and stratagems. But the candidates, the party leaders, the pollsters continue to point the way.

"Columbiana County will go Republican and Goldwater," declares Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman, who expects a sizable voter turnout. "Responsible individualism" is proving a strong appeal on behalf of the Arizonan, Pike states.

A big Johnson vote in Ohio and a huge victory across the nation for the President is forecast by Don Gosney, county Democratic chairman, who refers to the popularity of the administration's programs and the polls which have the Democrat nominee ahead.

Ohio has no voter registration by party affiliation, but Columbiana County has had a traditional Republican majority which was reflected in the May primary with 9,484 in the GOP balloting and 6,612 in the Democrat.

Beaver County, with 97,000 eligible voters, is expected to back Johnson with its heavy Democrat registration of 57,108, compared to 39,515 Republicans.

Democrats also hold a registration lead in Hancock County, 15,496 to 7,626.

But party lines are apparently being ignored more in this campaign than in many others in recent years, and post-election figures are likely to look topsy-turvy in some places.

DESPITE THE large scale turnout anticipated Tuesday, there will be thousands of

Of the some 65,000 men and women eligible to ballot in Columbiana County, only about 49,000 will do so. Of Hancock's 23,000 voters, less than 15,000 are expected to be counted. As many as 20,000 could forego the polls in Beaver County.

Every campaign offers challenges—for citizens to run for office, for government policies to stand the test of the electorate.

But the primary challenge is for each voter to carefully weigh his decision and to cast his ballot with common sense and with concern less for his own best interests than for his city's, his state's and his country's future well-being.

East Liverpool, O., Saturday, Oct. 31 Page 8

Still undecided about Goldwater or Johnson, Tracey Ann Ceneviva, 2-year-old Wellsville campaign enthusiast, is sure of one thing — everyone should vote in Tuesday's general election. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ceneviva of 617 Aten Ave.

Some campaign literature is studied by Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, Republican chairman for Columbiana County, amid GOP promotion material in his offices.

Vote drive strategy is mapped out over the telephone by Don R. Gosney Columbiana County Democratic chairman, state central committeeman and aide to Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congress.

The hectic pace of politicking puts pressure on candidates and party leaders. Mayor Eli Corak of Midland, left — who is also Beaver County Commissioner and county Democrat chairman—leads Sen. Hubert Humphrey, vice presidential nominee, through a group of well-wishers.

Ballot boxes, which hold the hopes of candidates and supporters of special issues in the East Liverpool area, are loaded on a truck by Tom Mackey of LaCroft Ave. for transportation to polls. The metal boxes are among those stored at the Milliron Co. between elections.

Endures 'Deadly Dora'

Ex-City Woman Qualifies As Hurricane 'Authority'

(Editor's Note: A description of recent hurricane Dora was included in a letter sent by Miss Agnes Shadduck of Crescent City, Fla., former East Liverpool music teacher, to a friend, Mrs. Nellie McIlvane of Globe St. Miss Shadduck, who moved from here six years ago, still teaches music and has a number of friends and former students in the Tri-State District.)

By AGNES SHADDUCK

Blustering 'Cleo' had passed us two weeks before, but she was a juvenile compared to her huge girl friend. Up to the present "Deadly Dora" is the largest hurricane on record in Florida.

All stores in St. Augustine, Deland, Jacksonville and small towns between began the task of boarding up windows 24 hours before the gale winds arrived.

Storm shelters locations were constantly announced on all programs. And to the youngsters delight came the welcome news, "No School."

I can now boast that I am a student of "hurricanology," having sat through six nights and six days of three different Florida hurricanes. I've learned that no two are alike. No one can foretell what course they will take, but you can expect a calm when the eye or eyes of the female storm are looking down on your area.

Immediately after the calm, the fury of the winds will come in the opposite direction.

DORA WAS 500 miles wide, and the most tempermental of her family.

When a short distance from the coast, she remained stationary for hours, battering beachheads and shore lines from Coca Beach to Flagler Beach. News cameramen sent fresh film to TV channels and the public viewed the storm on live television as it pounded the coastal cities.

Large fishing piers were shattered before our eyes. On the Daytona boardwalk we saw the cracking cement and the twisted iron railings, flooded streets, submerged cars, and tall palm trees bending low under gale winds.

Roofs were lifted off buildings and a number of houses between Crescent City and St. Augustine were washed into the Atlantic.

After Dora had spent her rage on the coast, she started to move northwest and inland at a leisurely speed of four-miles-an-hour, with high winds at 115 miles.

Once I opened the front door and was blown across the room, then scrambled to get it shut, with all my strength.

My supply of candles and holders was ready, so that when the power went off, I had light for my 56-hour vigil. Most hurricanes bluster about and they are gone, but Deadly Dora took delight in creeping.

SHE WILL BE known in hurricanology as the slowest storm on record. As she neared St. Augustine, she stopped again, and remained stationary all night.

The milk man said "I took sleeping pills and went to bed." But most of us rode the fury of the storm to the finish, watching from window to wind, a period lasting two nights and two days.

"Our strong brick high school building was refuge for about 80 people the first night. Food was provided gratis—tomato soup, chicken noodle, an abundance of bread with peanut butter and jelly for sandwiches, coffee, tea, and soda pop for the children. Our school principal went from room to room, making everybody comfortable.

The violent winds of Florida hurricanes down huge trees and spawn tornadoes which rip apart houses.

One family had just arrived in Florida. The mother, with her two sons, said, "We had such a good time for two nights and one day that I was sorry when it was over."

This small town had 14 additional electric power crews helping from "down state." They worked around the clock with our local unit, taking care of fallen power lines. The telephone company reported 75 to 100 telephone lines down in this limited area.

Giant trees that have stood since the Civil War lay across the roads and lawns, their gnarled roots still clinging to the trunks.

IN ST. AUGUSTINE, metal light poles whipped in the wind like bamboo fishing rods. One hotel in Jacksonville Beach floated out to sea. In Jacksonville proper there was no electricity for a week. All food markets lost their frozen food and the city lived on canned food.

An organ company lost 17 organs. The benches were found in the streets. Some 80,000 residents of this gateway city were housed in storm shelters and 118 sailors went to hospitals and gave 14 gallons of blood.

Famous Marineland on the ocean became an island. On one newscast came the story of farmers being evacuated from their water - surrounded farm. The farmer's wife called the TV station and asked if someone would milk her cow and feed the calf.

Later, the station called her to say, "With the aid of a helicopter, the mission has been accomplished."

Somewhere near Tallahasse, Dora changed her mind and turned completely around, went back Jacksonville, giving it another beating before going to sea.

IT WAS A queer sight to drive around Daytona Beach after the storm and see all the windows covered with boards, and nearly all the amusement concessions were closed along the boardwalk.

The ocean was rough and the once beautiful beach was gone. High tide and wild storms had brought the breakers to the edge of the boardwalk.

Mocking birds are singing again, my pet woodpeckers are begging for food, the shy redbirds have survived the storm. Once again Florida sun is shining.

Thinking back I want to exclaim: Ferocious — Demented — Deadly — Dora! How Could You?"

Weird Queries Answered

'Sir, Can You Tell Me..'

By ROBERT POPP

A teen-ager's yearning for the moptop Beatles. .an elderly woman's quest for two relatives who had their photos snapped in East Liverpool over 60 years ago. . .

Those are just two of the off-beat queries and requests that arrive at the office of the Chamber of Commerce virtually every day from all points of the compass.

The teen-ager, a seventh grader in Dayton, actually was looking for some information for a class in Ohio history.

The elderly woman, a resident of a small Kansas town, was trying to trace two relatives from whom she evidently had not heard for many years, using the name of a defunct photography studio as the only firm clue.

THE TEEN - AGE Dayton girl asked for some data on East Liverpool for a scrapbook on Ohio history she is compiling as a project in school. Then she added:

"I must say the main reason I decided to write to you was because the name attracted me. I guess if any of you have teen-agers you know about those four wonderful young men who come from Liverpool, England—the Beatles."

And "wonderful" was underscored.

Mrs. Carl F. Kreser of Overland Park, Kan., wrote to ask about "two relatives who lived in your area at the turn of the century."

They are Lulu Cannon and Alice Cannon, whose last name sometimes was spelled Canning and Canner, she related.

"I have pictures of these girls taken at Braunberg Studio, Diamond, East Liverpool, in about 1899 or 1900," she said. "The girls were 23 and 17 years of age, respectively.

"If the studio is still in business, could you ask them if they have any of their old records Perhaps I could get their address that way. If these women are not living, I would like to get in touch with a relative."

E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the Chamber, said the Chamber's efforts so far to locate the two women or relatives have been unavailing.

IF PERSONS WITH information will telephone the Chamber at FU 5-0845, it will be relayed to Mrs. Krieser, he said.

"Those are typical of the letters we receive throughout the year from persons in all parts of the U.S. and many foreign lands," Chandler said.

"It seems that people wanting information frequently think of the Chamber of Commerce. We have answered questions on every imaginable subject, some of them pretty far afield from Chamber business."

Probably the heaviest run of mail comes from school students, particularly Ohio residents, who are assigned to prepare a paper or a scrapbook on a community or its industries.

Sometimes a teacher, 1,000 miles away assigns homework on the ceramic industry and the mail picks up tremendously at the Chamber's office. Letters pour into the Chamber from that particular city, all asking for information on pottery.

The Chamber has several standard mailing pieces that it utilizes to answer routine inquiries about the area or the ware industry.

You And The Law

CURBSTONE ADVICE

It's nice to have other people's advice, but sometimes curbstone opinions about legal matters can be as dangerous as a loaded gun.

Take for instance the trouble Frank Fumble got into by listening to his next door neighbor Tom Talker. Tom is one of those fellows who speaks with authority on any subject, particularly law.

Tom had plenty of legalisms ready when Frank got in trouble over a used car. It seems Frank bought a used car on time for $1,000 from Wheeler A. Dealer. He paid $50 down, but before making his next payment became dissatisfied with the way the car ran. Finally he refused to make any more payments until Mr. Dealer corrected the trouble. That was when the trouble began.

ONE MORNING shortly after Frank's next payment had become due a deputy sheriff knocked at his door and handed him a summons. He had been sued for what he owed on the car.

Tom Talker, who was with Frank, immediately sized up the situation. He told Tom that since the car was no good it should be taken back to the dealer. "You only have $50 in it and that's all you'll lose. Why it would cost you more than that to hire a lawyer to defend the suit. If he had the car, he couldn't get anything from you in his suit and you could ignore the summons the sheriff brought," Tom advised.

Frank, who admired the decisive and positive manner in which Tom always thought things out, was impressed with the idea. So the two of them took the car to Wheeler Dealer's garage. Dealer refused to take it. "We'll just put it in the vacant lot next door and leave it," said Tom, and that's what they did.

On the way to work a couple of times Frank noticed that some kids had broken the windows in the car and had slashed its tires. "Boy! Is that car a wreck," thought Frank, happy that he'd gotten rid of it. He didn't think anymore about it or the lawsuit until one pay day several weeks later when his check was $20 short.

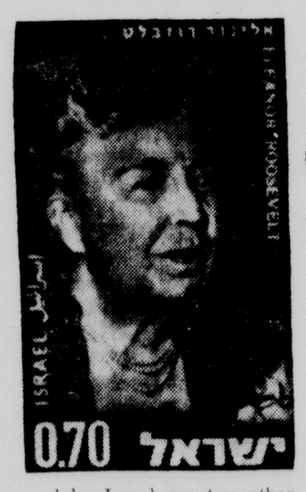
THE OFFICE manager then told him: "Wheeler Dealer has a judgment for $950 against you and has garnished your wages. You had better see a lawyer and get this straightened out."

Frank did see a lawyer, but it was too late. If the car was "no good" as he maintained, he might have made a proper defense to the claim and might even have gotten his down payment back. Instead he now owed $950 and had a wrecked automobile for his trouble.

Never ignore legal papers which are served on you. To do so may result in a judgment being entered against you by default, giving the party suing what he has asked for. Being served with papers is a serious matter. Do what it says. You should consult a lawyer at once, taking the papers with you. Your attorney will want as much time as possible to study the facts and prepare your case.

Stamps In The News

Eleanor Roosevelt, former First Lady of the U.S., will be honored on a new stamp soon to be issued in Israel. The main design of the stamp will be a portrait photo of Mrs. Roosevelt. Also to be issued by Israel are two other sets. One honors the 16th Chess Olympics to be held in Tel Aviv in November. There are two stamps in the set showing a chessboard in the background and five linked squares indicating Olympic rings. The other set consists of one stamp commemorating the 30th anniversary of Aliyah B, the second wave of immigration to Israel in which thousands of Jews were smuggled into Palestine despite the British blockade.



The all - new 1965 edition of the Harris "Stamp Collectors Guide" is now on the market. The 64-page booklet contains much useful information including up-to-the-minute prices which provide collectors with a reliable check list for determining the latest retail values of their U.S. stamps. It is available free of charge by writing to H. E. Harris & Co., Box A, Boston, Mass. 02117.

Who's Who In World Of Students

Ed, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arsuffi of Summitville, was also class president as a freshman and sophomore and vice president of the junior class.

He has been a member of the Latin Club, of which he was president; played basketball as a freshman; served on the yearbook and is sports editor of the school paper. Ed maintains a "B" average.

He plans to attend college, but has no definite plans yet on a career.

Medical Tips

Walking or hiking is an excellent exercise that involves many of the muscles of the body. One of its big advantages is that walking is universally available as an exercise nearly every day of the year. The strenuousness of the activity depends on the pace and distance.

Walking can have mental health values, too, if we learn to enjoy the exercise and the open air, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association. Pleasant physical activity can help to relieve emotional tension. Exercise is most likely to be enjoyable when the activity is done with ease and skill.

Like any form of exercise, walking requires a period of gradual conditioning before any all-out effort. If you're out of training, start slowly with short hikes and gradually build up the time and distance.

The feet take quite a beating in walking. Be sure that shoes fit properly, are well broken in and have no rough spots inside. Wearing two pair of socks helps. The feet function best when the toes point straight ahead in walking. Walking with toes turned in or out distributes the body's weight unequally on the feet.

The entusiast who tries to do it all at once often ends up with stiff muscles and a stiffer resolve to avoid exercise in the future. A medical checkup before beginning an exercise program is a wise precaution.

FOOD FAVORITES

Highlight your Halloween with a real party cake, one which is easy to make, offered by Ruth McPherson, Hancock County 4-H director.

Plenty of time is needed for frosting, and the cake requires a large serving plate because of the shape of the slices, but this leaves room for a scoop of ice cream.

JACK-O-LANTERN CAKE

1 package (1 lb., 2.8 ozs.) lemon chiffon cake mix
2 eggs
Seven-Up
2-3 cup canned pumpkin
1 tsp. pumpkin pie spice mix
2 boxes (6¼ ozs.) fluffy frosting mix
1-3 of a firm banana

Prepare cake according to package directors, using 7-Up as liquid in both portions of mix. Add pumpkin and spice to batter portion of mix. Combine as directed. Pour into two 2½ quart oven - proof mixing bowls. (Do not grease bowls.)

Bake in 300 degrees F. oven for about 65 minutes or until cake springs back lightly to the touch. Immediately invert bowls on cake rack and allow to cool. Using spatula, carefully remove cakes from bowls. If cake is not to be frosted immediately, wrap cakes in saran.

Prepare 2 boxes of fluffy frosting mix according to package directions, using 7-Up as the liquid. Reserve about ¼ cup of frosting and tint light green (for stem). Tint frosting pale orange using about 1¼ teaspoons yellow food coloring and 1¼ tsp. red food coloring.

Place one cake on plate (large side up). Frost top surface. Place second cake on top (large side down) to form pumpkins. Frost outside of cake using vertical strokes. Frost piece of banana with green frosting. Carefully place on top of cake. Decorate face of pumpkins using gumdrops, licorice "spaghetti" and candy corn. Makes 14 to 16 servings.

Cooking Hints

Do your pie edges get darker than you like? Before baking the pie, cover the rim with a strip of aluminum foil, then remove the foil the last 10 or 15 minutes of the baking time.

Note to new cooks: if that soft custard sauce looks a bit curdly when you remove it from the heat, beat it vigorously and it may smooth out.

When you are putting raw cranberries and fresh orange through the food chopper to make a relish (with sugar added), quarter the orange and remove any seeds, but leave on the rind.

Wondering what to do with that small jar of juniper berries you bought along with other herbs and spices? Add some of the berries when you make a marinade for beef that is to be used for sauerbraten.

Key Club Goals

Youths Undertake Many Projects

Service projects for school and community are the objectives of the East Liverpool Key Club, one of over 2,500 clubs in the United States, totaling 65,000 members.

Since it was founded in 1953, the group of youths from the sophomore, junior and senior classes has undertaken a variety of projects, from get-out-the-vote campaigns to helping build a refreshment stand at Patterson Field, sponsoring dances and speakers and holding programs for the Child Counseling Center.

Funds for activities are raised primarily by sale of popcorn and parking cars in football and basketball seasons.

At the 1964 Ohio convention at Columbus, the club won first place in the single service contest and second place in the overall achievement report.

The Key Club organization was founded in 1925 at Sacramento, Calif., under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club, and was designed originally for vocational guidance.

However, many opportunities for service in the school were seized, and the organization grew into a youth service club.

Clubs are now active across the U.S. and in Canada, and an international convention is held annually. At the convention at Dallas, Tex., in July, nine members of the city club were present.

Among notable leaders in the past were Robert Gilmore who was Ohio governor in 1962-63, John Hasenstab, 19th Division lieutenant governor in 1963-64, and Tom Chema, 1964 nominee for the international trustee.

I. J. Vorndran is the Kiwanis adviser, and Lloyd Babb is the faculty adviser.

The East Liverpool club, which numbers 38, is continuing its work to fulfill the Key Club goals of individual initiative and service to school, community and country.

Endures 'Deadly Dora'

Ex-City Woman Qualifies As Hurricane 'Authority'

(Editor's Note: A description of recent hurricane Dora was included in a letter sent by Miss Agnes Shadduck of Crescent City, Fla., former East Liverpool music teacher, to a friend, Mrs. Nellie McIlvane of Globe St. Miss Shadduck, who moved from here six years ago, still teaches music and has a number of friends and former students in the Tri-State District.)

By AGNES SHADDUCK

Blustering 'Cleo' had passed us two weeks before, but she was a juvenile compared to her huge girl friend. Up to the present "Deadly Dora" is the largest hurricane on record in Florida.

All stores in St. Augustine, Deland, Jacksonville and small towns between began the task of boarding up windows 24 hours before the gale winds arrived.

Storm shelters locations were constantly announced on all programs. And to the youngsters delight came the welcome news, "No School."

I can now boast that I am a student of "hurricanology," having sat through six nights and six days of three different Florida hurricanes. I've learned that no two are alike. No one can foretell what course they will take, but you can expect a calm when the eye or eyes of the female storm are looking down on your area.

Immediately after the calm, the fury of the winds will come in the opposite direction.

DORA WAS 500 miles wide, and the most tempermental of her family.

When a short distance from the coast, she remained stationary for hours, battering beachheads and shore lines from Coca Beach to Flagler Beach. News cameramen sent fresh film to TV channels and the public viewed the storm on live television as it pounded the coastal cities.

Large fishing piers were shattered before our eyes. On the Daytona boardwalk we saw the cracking cement and the twisted iron railings, flooded streets, submerged cars, and tall palm trees bending low under gale winds.

Roofs were lifted off buildings and a number of houses between Crescent City and St. Augustine were washed into the Atlantic.

After Dora had spent her rage on the coast, she started to move northwest and inland at a leisurely speed of four-miles-an-hour, with high winds at 115 miles.

Once I opened the front door and was blown across the room, then scrambled to get it shut, with all my strength.

My supply of candles and holders was ready, so that when the power went off, I had light for my 56-hour vigil. Most hurricanes bluster about and they are gone, but Deadly Dora took delight in creeping.

SHE WILL BE known in hurricanology as the slowest storm on record. As she neared St. Augustine, she stopped again, and remained stationary all night.

The milk man said "I took sleeping pills and went to bed." But most of us rode the fury of the storm to the finish, watching from window to wind, a period lasting two nights and two days.

You And The Law

CURBSTONE ADVICE

It's nice to have other people's advice, but sometimes curbstone opinions about legal matters can be as dangerous as a loaded gun.

Take for instance the trouble Frank Fumble got into by listening to his next door neighbor Tom Talker. Tom is one of those fellows who speaks with authority on any subject, particularly law.

Tom had plenty of legalisms ready when Frank got in trouble over a used car. It seems Frank bought a used car on time for $1,000 from Wheeler A. Dealer. He paid $50 down, but before making his next payment became dissatisfied with the way the car ran. Finally he refused to make any more payments until Mr. Dealer corrected the trouble. That was when the trouble began.

ONE MORNING shortly after Frank's next payment had become due a deputy sheriff knocked at his door and handed him a summons. He had been sued for what he owed on the car.

Tom Talker, who was with Frank, immediately sized up the situation. He told Tom that since the car was no good it should be taken back to the dealer. "You only have $50 in it and that's all you'll lose. Why it would cost you more than that to hire a lawyer to defend the suit. If he had the car, he couldn't get anything from you in his suit and you could ignore the summons the sheriff brought," Tom advised.

Frank, who admired the decisive and positive manner in which Tom always thought things out, was impressed with the idea. So the two of them took the car to Wheeler Dealer's garage. Dealer refused to take it. "We'll just put it in the vacant lot next door and leave it," said Tom, and that's what they did.

On the way to work a couple of times Frank noticed that some kids had broken the windows in the car and had slashed its tires. "Boy! Is that car a wreck," thought Frank, happy that he'd gotten rid of it. He didn't think anymore about it or the lawsuit until one pay day several weeks later when his check was $20 short.

THE OFFICE manager then told him: "Wheeler Dealer has a judgment for $950 against you and has garnished your wages. You had better see a lawyer and get this straightened out."

Frank did see a lawyer, but it was too late. If the car was "no good" as he maintained, he might have made a proper defense to the claim and might even have gotten his down payment back. Instead he now owed $950 and had a wrecked automobile for his trouble.

Never ignore legal papers which are served on you. To do so may result in a judgment being entered against you by default, giving the party suing what he has asked for. Being served with papers is a serious matter. Do what it says. You should consult a lawyer at once, taking the papers with you. Your attorney will want as much time as possible to study the facts and prepare your case.

1 package (1 lb., 2.8 ozs.) lemon chiffon cake mix
2 eggs
Seven-Up
2-3 cup canned pumpkin
1 tsp. pumpkin pie spice mix
2 boxes (6¼ ozs.) fluffy frosting mix
1-3 of a firm banana

Prepare cake according to package directors, using 7-Up as liquid in both portions of mix. Add pumpkin and spice to batter portion of mix. Combine as directed. Pour into two 2½ quart oven - proof mixing bowls. (Do not grease bowls.)

Bake in 300 degrees F. oven for about 65 minutes or until cake springs back lightly to the touch. Immediately invert bowls on cake rack and allow to cool. Using spatula, carefully remove cakes from bowls. If cake is not to be frosted immediately, wrap cakes in saran.

Prepare 2 boxes of fluffy frosting mix according to package directions, using 7-Up as the liquid. Reserve about ¼ cup of frosting and tint light green (for stem). Tint frosting pale orange using about 1¼ teaspoons yellow food coloring and 1¼ tsp. red food coloring.

Place one cake on plate (large side up). Frost top surface. Place second cake on top (large side down) to form pumpkins. Frost outside of cake using vertical strokes. Frost piece of banana with green frosting. Carefully place on top of cake. Decorate face of pumpkins using gumdrops, licorice "spaghetti" and candy corn. Makes 14 to 16 servings.

Cooking Hints

Do your pie edges get darker than you like? Before baking the pie, cover the rim with a strip of aluminum foil, then remove the foil the last 10 or 15 minutes of the baking time.

Note to new cooks: if that soft custard sauce looks a bit curdly when you remove it from the heat, beat it vigorously and it may smooth out.

When you are putting raw cranberries and fresh orange through the food chopper to make a relish (with sugar added), quarter the orange and remove any seeds, but leave on the rind.

Wondering what to do with that small jar of juniper berries you bought along with other herbs and spices? Add some of the berries when you make a marinade for beef that is to be used for sauerbraten.

Spadea Designer Pattern

This enchanting dress by Charles Montaigne captures that infinitely feminine look. The bibbed bodice is circled and boned with grosgrain at the waistline. The graceful skirt swirls softly all around to make you feel like dancing. The deep flattering square neckline is folded into pretty envelope corners in front.

A wonderful design for silks, peau de soie or satin for the gay party season that we are all looking forward to. Spadea's exclusive ready to wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

Key Club Goals

Youths Undertake Many Projects

Service projects for school and community are the objectives of the East Liverpool Key Club, one of over 2,500 clubs in the United States, totaling 65,000 members.

Since it was founded in 1953, the group of youths from the sophomore, junior and senior classes has undertaken a variety of projects, from get-out-the-vote campaigns to helping build a refreshment stand at Patterson Field, sponsoring dances and speakers and holding programs for the Child Counseling Center.

Funds for activities are raised primarily by sale of popcorn and parking cars in football and basketball seasons.

At the 1964 Ohio convention at Columbus, the club won first place in the single service contest and second place in the overall achievement report.

The Key Club organization was founded in 1925 at Sacramento, Calif., under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club, and was designed originally for vocational guidance.

However, many opportunities for service in the school were seized, and the organization grew into a youth service club.

Clubs are now active across the U.S. and in Canada, and an international convention is held annually. At the convention at Dallas, Tex., in July, nine members of the city club were present.

Among notable leaders in the past were Robert Gilmore who was Ohio governor in 1962-63, John Hasenstab, 19th Division lieutenant governor in 1963-64, and Tom Chema, 1964 nominee for the international trustee.

I. J. Vorndran is the Kiwanis adviser, and Lloyd Babb is the faculty adviser.

The East Liverpool club, which numbers 38, is continuing its work to fulfill the Key Club goals of individual initiative and service to school, community and country.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

DANGER!

If you are your own pest control operator we have some advice for you. Be sure to follow the directions on the label very closely. Keep pesticides in a place where you know they will be safe. Be sure that the empty containers are disposed of properly . . . safely.

KNOW HOW

If pesticides are handled or applied improperly, or if unused parts are disposed of improperly, they may be injurious to humans, domestic animals, desirable plants, pollinating insects, fish or other wild life and may contaminate water supplies. Use pesticides only when needed and handle with care. "Know How" is that all important ingredient.

By the time you pay for your own pesticides and then buy the proper equipment to apply them, you have already paid the price of a professional pest control service. FISHER PEST CONTROL will be happy to come to your home at your convenience and give your home a free inspection, tell you what service is needed and discuss prices with you. Call us at FUlton 5-5720. We'll be happy to talk with you.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

DANGER!

If you are your own pest control operator we have some advice for you. Be sure to follow the directions on the label very closely. Keep pesticides in a place where you know they will be safe. Be sure that the empty containers are disposed of properly . . . safely.

KNOW HOW

If pesticides are handled or applied improperly, or if unused parts are disposed of improperly, they may be injurious to humans, domestic animals, desirable plants, pollinating insects, fish or other wild life and may contaminate water supplies. Use pesticides only when needed and handle with care. "Know How" is that all important ingredient.

By the time you pay for your own pesticides and then buy the proper equipment to apply them, you have already paid the price of a professional pest control service. FISHER PEST CONTROL will be happy to come to your home at your convenience and give your home a free inspection, tell you what service is needed and discuss prices with you. Call us at FUlton 5-5720. We'll be happy to talk with you.

Cuyahoga Board Cancels Voting Rights Of 6,611

CLEVELAND (AP) — Voting rights of 6,611 persons have been canceled by the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections following two postcard checks which officials said showed they no longer lived at the addresses from which they were registered.

The board also moved to challenge 8,386 voters in 16 Cleveland wards if they try to vote in next Tuesday's election.

Names of the voters to be challenged have been given to presiding judges, who will have the lists when the precinct booths open Tuesday morning. The challenged voters will have to swear they are voting from their true residences and in their proper precincts.

A survey of the wards was undertaken by the Board on the recommendation of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury recently indicted five persons for alleged false registration and illegal voting. The five were charged with voting from the home and office of Councilman Jack P. Russell, who was not among those charged.

An Important Message To VOTERS
COUNTY

This Is A Year of Choice!

There are known facts pertaining to the operation of our county treasurer's office which are being withheld from the voters. These facts strongly suggest that our county treasurer's office is often being conducted for the personal advantage of my opponent and members of his family.

1. Does a sincere county treasurer keep his own daughter on the treasurer's office payroll, which to date has cost the taxpayers over $50,000?

2. Does a good county treasurer have members of his family bid in properties up for tax sale? Who is in a better position than my opponent to know in advance of the public about tax sale properties?

   a. Since 1960, at least forty known tax sale properties are now listed on courthouse records in the name of my opponent's wife

   b. There are at least seven tax sale properties now in the name of my opponents brother-in-law.

3. Should the county treasurer place incompetent employees on his staff?

4. Does an honest county treasurer take credit for mailing tax statements to taxpayers when Ohio Revised Code 323.13, effective since 1938, compels him to do so?

5. Does a competent county treasurer allow personal property taxes, so badly needed for our schools and communities, to go unpaid when existing laws impower him to enforce tax collections? I refer you to the county auditor's settlement sheet report.

These conditions have existed far too long. We have been Judged for 20 years and it is time for a change.

I am a competent accountant, qualified to serve as your county treasurer. I need your Support on November 3rd.

A delegation, headed by Mrs. Hallett, will attend the annual fall meeting of the Beaver County Federation Thursday at Big Knob Grange, near Rochester. A group will help stuff envelopes for the Tuberculosis Seal drive Monday at the Beaver Court House.

Tentative plans were discussed for a Holiday Ball Dec. 5 at The Willows Motel in Industry.

Mrs. Al Susie of Meadowbrook Estates, Ohioville, entertained a Midland area contract bridge club Thursday evening with two tables in play.

Prizes went to Mrs. Alice Walker, Mrs. Emeric Davis and Mrs. L. F. Pickering.

Mrs. Charles Schmitt will entertain Nov. 12.

Self-Denial Services Held By Boyce Church's WSCS

The annual service of prayer and self-denial preceded the meeting of the WSCS of the Boyce Methodist Church Tuesday night in the sanctuary.

Mrs. Charmaine Kane conducted worship on "Faith and Prayer." She led a period of silent prayer, listing the needs of home and foreign mission fields with emphasis on the United Nations.

Mrs. Donna Perkins sang "Prayer Is the Key to Heaven." Mrs. Clara Armstrong read Scripture.

The offering was received by Mrs. Mary Ellen Hazelet and Mrs. Grace Foster. The group closed by singing "The Doxology." Mrs. Dorothy Golba provided organ background music for the program.

Members reconvened at the Boyce Auditorium where business was conducted by Mrs. Clara Thorn, president. Mrs. Barbara Bennett read the minutes and Mrs. Lucille Poole, the financial report.

Mrs. Foster asked the group to save two-pound cans to be used to send Christmas gifts to servicemen.

The group will bring school supplies for the project work of United Church Women at the World Community Day observance Friday at the First Church of Christ. Mrs. Margaret Hall and Mrs. Hilda Ruhl are key women.

Refreshments were served 21 by members of the Dorothea Memorial Circle. The tables were decorated with cornucopias filled with fall flowers and yellow tapers.

The next session will be Nov. 24 at the auditorium with the Mary Esther hostess unit. Mrs. Carolyn Channels and Mrs. Hazelet will have the program.

Woman, 29, Is Killed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Julia Ann Bedford, 29, of Detroit, was killed Friday night when her car rammed the rear of a truck on U. S. 25 nine miles south of Bowling Green, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

The truck was slowing to turn into a truck scale station when the victim's car struck it. The truck driver, David Apple, 24, of Rt. 3, Bowling Green, was not hurt.

Prizes Given At Cub Party

Mat Kuzmich awarded badges. Award recipients were Richard Waite, Mark Hissom, Stoy, David Appeldorn, James Young, Michael McKinnon and Donald McDowell. Brown was enrolled as a new cub.

Mrs. Betty McDowell and Mrs. Eileen McKinnon are den mothers of Pack 7, sponsored by St. Aloysius. Appeldorn led opening and closing prayer.

Refreshments were served the youngsters and their parents by Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. McDowell.

A planning meeting will be held Nov. 19 at 7 p. m. in the scout rooms. The next pack meeting will be held Nov. 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the school.

Firemen In LaCroft To Protect Children

Members of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department will patrol the streets in the LaCroft area tonight to provide protection for small children who will be making Halloween "trick-or-treat" visitations.

The men are to report to the LaCroft station at 6, according to Homer Cronin, assistant chief. He said the siren will not be sounded.

The firemen will be in uniform and will patrol the streets on foot. They will aid the children in crossing streets.

Cuyahoga Board Cancels Voting Rights Of 6,611

CLEVELAND (AP) — Voting rights of 6,611 persons have been canceled by the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections following two postcard checks which officials said showed they no longer lived at the addresses from which they were registered.

The board also moved to challenge 8,386 voters in 16 Cleveland wards if they try to vote in next Tuesday's election.

Names of the voters to be challenged have been given to presiding judges, who will have the lists when the precinct booths open Tuesday morning. The challenged voters will have to swear they are voting from their true residences and in their proper precincts.

A survey of the wards was undertaken by the Board on the recommendation of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury recently indicted five persons for alleged false registration and illegal voting. The five were charged with voting from the home and office of Councilman Jack P. Russell, who was not among those charged.

HANCOCK COUNTY

(Paid Political Advertisement)

An Important Message To VOTERS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

This Is A Year of Choice!

There are known facts pertaining to the operation of our county treasurer's office which are being withheld from the voters. These facts strongly suggest that our county treasurer's office is often being conducted for the personal advantage of my opponent and members of his family.

1. Does a sincere county treasurer keep his own daughter on the treasurer's office payroll, which to date has cost the taxpayers over $50,000?

2. Does a good county treasurer have members of his family bid in properties up for tax sale? Who is in a better position than my opponent to know in advance of the public about tax sale properties?

   a. Since 1960, at least forty known tax sale properties are now listed on courthouse records in the name of my opponent's wife

   b. There are at least seven tax sale properties now in the name of my opponents brother-in-law.

3. Should the county treasurer place incompetent employees on his staff?

4. Does an honest county treasurer take credit for mailing tax statements to taxpayers when Ohio Revised Code 323.13, effective since 1938, compels him to do so?

5. Does a competent county treasurer allow personal property taxes, so badly needed for our schools and communities, to go unpaid when existing laws impower him to enforce tax collections? I refer you to the county auditor's settlement sheet report.

These conditions have existed far too long. We have been Judged for 20 years and it is time for a change.

I am a competent accountant, qualified to serve as your county treasurer. I need your Support on November 3rd.

Ex-Councilman Plans Appeal Of His Conviction

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — James L. Werner, 39, a former Chardon councilman, says he will appeal his conviction on eight counts of embezzling $100,983 from the estate and personal funds of the late Roger L. Frohring and his widow, Frances.

Werner, now of Cincinnati, was found guilty by a three-judge panel Friday and sentenced to one to 10 years on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. His bond of $10,000 was continued pending the appeal.

The judges found Werner innocent of 16 counts of the 28-count indictment returned by the Geauga County Grand Jury last April and four other counts were dismissed at the request of the defense.

Werner was charged with forging Mrs. Frohring's signature on eight checks and converting the funds to his own use. The prosecution presented testimony from handwriting experts that signatures on the checks were forgeries, but the judge ruled there was no proof that Werner did the forging.

Frohring, a machine tool shop owner, died in 1958. His estate was valued at $344,974 for tax purposes.

Extradition Bid Made By Rhodes In Nurse Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has been asked to have Kentucky officials extradite Robert R. Abbott, 21, Dayton, Ky., to Ohio to stand trial in the murder of nurse Wanda Cook, 24.

Abbott was indicted on a first degree murder charge Friday by the Hamilton County Grand Jury, which completed 2½ days of investigation into the death of Miss Cook, of Bellevue, Ky., whose body was found Oct. 21 in a trunk in the Cleveland railroad terminal.

Prosecutor Raymond E. Shannon mailed a letter to Rhodes asking that an extradition warrant be presented to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky.

If Breathitt agrees, an extradition hearing will be held at Frankfort, Ky., at which Abbott could resist his being returned to Cincinnati, where Miss Cook was killed two weeks ago in the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel.

Abbott's attorney, Harry H. McIlwain, indicated there would be an all-out fight against extradition.

Abbott was arrested Oct. 21 and has refused to come to Cincinnati voluntarily. He is in jail in Newport, Ky.

Ohio Group To Spur Vote For Goldwater

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Citizens for Goldwater-Miller says it will have volunteers working in all of Ohio's 88 counties Tuesday to get out the vote for the Republican presidential candidate.

William Cody Kelly, the organization's executive director, said the volunteers, numbering 42,000, will work mainly in precincts to "make sure Goldwater backers get to the polls."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Eat To Beat Hunger And Build Leanness

Would you go ahead and reduce if you knew you need not go hungry or lose your bounce while dieting? This letter from a successful dieter has a ring of conviction:

Ida Jean Kain

"I think what finally gave me the courage to start reducing was your statement that one does not have to go hungry or feel dragged out in order to lose weight. Seven months ago I weighed 178 pounds. I followed a diet only roughly, but I never had more than 1200 calories a day. I kept a record of what I ate and counted the calories.

ALSO I was careful not to overeat at any one meal. To cut calories I trimmed off all fat from meats, avoided gravy and creamed dishes. Instead of a rich dessert, I chose fruit. I stopped nibbling candy. I had a protein pickup at 4:00 each afternoon.

"At the start I wore size 20½ dress. I now weigh 145 pounds and I wear a size 16 beautifully. What surprises me is that I've come to prefer this way of eating, so I know I can hold my weight down. I feel wonderful. Thanks for your encouragement."

Friends, there is nothing mysterious about a reducing diet by which you can lose 2 pounds a week. Certain foods, aptly termed protective, are known to be superior sources of the nutrients essential to upkeep and renewal of body tissues. These protective foods should form the backbone of your menus. There is a better carry-over of energy and better hunger control when a complete protein is included at each meal, starting with breakfast.

To reduce two pounds a week, keep total calories between 1000 and 1200 a day, for women; 1400 to 1500 a day for men. Use nutrition know - how and avoid overeating at any one meal. By apportioning the day's total of calories in small, easily handled loads, nature helps you to build a lean, lithe body. As excess pounds are lost you will find you have new energy and enhanced well - being.

For protein and minerals eat lean meats, fish or chicken, eggs, soft cooked or poached, or use non - stick skillet. Buttermilk or skim milk, 1 pint. 1 oz. cheese, plus 1 glass of the milk and cottage cheese.

For vitamins and minerals, eat vegetables (always a green leafy or yellow) plus starchy vegetables, salads (including dark green leaves) fruits or juice (orange or grapefruit) plus second fruit, whole grain or enriched bread, (2 thin slices) or serve a whole grain cereal and butter or margarine (2 half pats, ¼" thick.)

To above list you may add a non - nutritive sweetener, a low calorie French Dressing or Dieter's mayonnaise, plus low calorie soft drinks. The calories are negligible.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Humphrey Calls For Landslide Vote For Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey called today for a landslide vote for President Johnson to repudiate forever "radical extremists who have made the Goldwater campaign one of the most sorry chapters in American political history."

Winging into Southern California for a last weekend of campaigning for the vice presidency, Humphrey stirred in a strong get-out-the-vote appeal with his plea for a "smashing defeat" of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

A source close to the Minnesotan said Democrats are concerned that Californians — in a key state wielding 40 electoral votes — might hang back from the polls Tuesday if early indications from the East point to a wide margin for Johnson.

"The issues of this campaign call for much more than a close decision," Humphrey said in a speech prepared for his arrival in Los Angeles. "We must give President Johnson an overwhelming vote of confidence.

"We must make clear by our votes that the economic and social progress we have made never again will be challenged by a band of cynical political adventurers."

Miller Attacks Johnson, Cites Jenkins' Case

AUDUBON, Iowa (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller brought his campaign down to the wire today with a charge that President Johnson had "willfully indulged himself in a reckless disregard of the truth."

Johnson, the GOP vice presidential nominee asserted, "indulged in the lowest type of character assassination in his wholly unfounded claim that the sorry episode of his own assistant, Walter Jenkins, had a parallel during the presidency of Dwight Eisenhower.

"The American people will recognize Johnson's effort for what it is — a deplorable effort by a panic-stricken office-seeker willing to stoop to new lows to dishonor the office he holds by a shabby attempt to besmirch the record of a very great president."

Miller's statement, one of the toughest of his campaign, was issued Friday night in Enid, Okla., as he moved into the final 24 hours of his long, gruelling bid for votes in next Tuesday's election.

He spent Friday night in Des Moines, with a speech on farm

Ex-Councilman Plans Appeal Of His Conviction

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — James L. Werner, 39, a former Chardon councilman, says he will appeal his conviction on eight counts of embezzling $100,983 from the estate and personal funds of the late Roger L. Frohring and his widow, Frances.

Werner, now of Cincinnati, was found guilty by a three-judge panel Friday and sentenced to one to 10 years on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. His bond of $10,000 was continued pending the appeal.

The judges found Werner innocent of 16 counts of the 28-count indictment returned by the Geauga County Grand Jury last April and four other counts were dismissed at the request of the defense.

Werner was charged with forging Mrs. Frohring's signature on eight checks and converting the funds to his own use. The prosecution presented testimony from handwriting experts that signatures on the checks were forgeries, but the judge ruled there was no proof that Werner did the forging.

Frohring, a machine tool shop owner, died in 1958. His estate was valued at $344,974 for tax purposes.

Extradition Bid Made By Rhodes In Nurse Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has been asked to have Kentucky officials extradite Robert R. Abbott, 21, Dayton, Ky., to Ohio to stand trial in the murder of nurse Wanda Cook, 24.

Abbott was indicted on a first degree murder charge Friday by the Hamilton County Grand Jury, which completed 2½ days of investigation into the death of Miss Cook, of Bellevue, Ky., whose body was found Oct. 21 in a trunk in the Cleveland railroad terminal.

Prosecutor Raymond E. Shannon mailed a letter to Rhodes asking that an extradition warrant be presented to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky.

If Breathitt agrees, an extradition hearing will be held at Frankfort, Ky., at which Abbott could resist his being returned to Cincinnati, where Miss Cook was killed two weeks ago in the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel.

Abbott's attorney, Harry H. McIlwain, indicated there would be an all-out fight against extradition.

Abbott was arrested Oct. 21 and has refused to come to Cincinnati voluntarily. He is in jail in Newport, Ky.

Ohio Group To Spur Vote For Goldwater

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Citizens for Goldwater-Miller says it will have volunteers working in all of Ohio's 88 counties Tuesday to get out the vote for the Republican presidential candidate.

William Cody Kelly, the organization's executive director, said the volunteers, numbering 42,000, will work mainly in precincts to "make sure Goldwater backers get to the polls."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Eat To Beat Hunger And Build Leanness

Would you go ahead and reduce if you knew you need not go hungry or lose your bounce while dieting? This letter from a successful dieter has a ring of conviction:

Ida Jean Kain

"I think what finally gave me the courage to start reducing was your statement that one does not have to go hungry or feel dragged out in order to lose weight. Seven months ago I weighed 178 pounds. I followed a diet only roughly, but I never had more than 1200 calories a day. I kept a record of what I ate and counted the calories.

ALSO I was careful not to overeat at any one meal. To cut calories I trimmed off all fat from meats, avoided gravy and creamed dishes. Instead of a rich dessert, I chose fruit. I stopped nibbling candy. I had a protein pickup at 4:00 each afternoon.

"At the start I wore size 20½ dress. I now weigh 145 pounds and I wear a size 16 beautifully. What surprises me is that I've come to prefer this way of eating, so I know I can hold my weight down. I feel wonderful. Thanks for your encouragement."

Friends, there is nothing mysterious about a reducing diet by which you can lose 2 pounds a week. Certain foods, aptly termed protective, are known to be superior sources of the nutrients essential to upkeep and renewal of body tissues. These protective foods should form the backbone of your menus. There is a better carry-over of energy and better hunger control when a complete protein is included at each meal, starting with breakfast.

To reduce two pounds a week, keep total calories between 1000 and 1200 a day, for women; 1400 to 1500 a day for men. Use nutrition know - how and avoid overeating at any one meal. By apportioning the day's total of calories in small, easily handled loads, nature helps you to build a lean, lithe body. As excess pounds are lost you will find you have new energy and enhanced well - being.

For protein and minerals eat lean meats, fish or chicken, eggs, soft cooked or poached, or use non - stick skillet. Buttermilk or skim milk, 1 pint. 1 oz. cheese, plus 1 glass of the milk and cottage cheese.

For vitamins and minerals, eat vegetables (always a green leafy or yellow) plus starchy vegetables, salads (including dark green leaves) fruits or juice (orange or grapefruit) plus second fruit, whole grain or enriched bread, (2 thin slices) or serve a whole grain cereal and butter or margarine (2 half pats, ¼" thick.)

To above list you may add a non - nutritive sweetener, a low calorie French Dressing or Dieter's mayonnaise, plus low calorie soft drinks. The calories are negligible.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Humphrey Calls For Landslide Vote For Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey called today for a landslide vote for President Johnson to repudiate forever "radical extremists who have made the Goldwater campaign one of the most sorry chapters in American political history."

Winging into Southern California for a last weekend of campaigning for the vice presidency, Humphrey stirred in a strong get-out-the-vote appeal with his plea for a "smashing defeat" of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

A source close to the Minnesotan said Democrats are concerned that Californians — in a key state wielding 40 electoral votes — might hang back from the polls Tuesday if early indications from the East point to a wide margin for Johnson.

"The issues of this campaign call for much more than a close decision," Humphrey said in a speech prepared for his arrival in Los Angeles. "We must give President Johnson an overwhelming vote of confidence.

"We must make clear by our votes that the economic and social progress we have made never again will be challenged by a band of cynical political adventurers."

Miller Attacks Johnson, Cites Jenkins' Case

AUDUBON, Iowa (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller brought his campaign down to the wire today with a charge that President Johnson had "willfully indulged himself in a reckless disregard of the truth."

Johnson, the GOP vice presidential nominee asserted, "indulged in the lowest type of character assassination in his wholly unfounded claim that the sorry episode of his own assistant, Walter Jenkins, had a parallel during the presidency of Dwight Eisenhower.

"The American people will recognize Johnson's effort for what it is — a deplorable effort by a panic-stricken office-seeker willing to stoop to new lows to dishonor the office he holds by a shabby attempt to besmirch the record of a very great president."

Miller's statement, one of the toughest of his campaign, was issued Friday night in Enid, Okla., as he moved into the final 24 hours of his long, gruelling bid for votes in next Tuesday's election.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I've learned, after a year and a half, to sit back and enjoy my very active son. I only hope my mistakes in furnishing our home might be spared other young couples.

Forget about those exquisite and elegant pieces of furniture —stick to formica tables and pole lamps where possible.

Use stack tables or TV trays for entertaining. That coffee table is a menace.

Move precious books and ornaments up high. Better to be able to enjoy them there than not at all.

-:-

PUT SAFETY plugs in all outlets and use locks or straps to keep all cabinets off-limits for busy little fingers.

By-pass those luxurious rugs and carpets, especially velveteens . . . babies do have accidents!!

Put guards on windows.

Serve the child food in plastic cups and dishes.

When a child learns to climb the stairs, take the time and patience to teach him how to climb back down.

Purchase lightweight washable bedspreads.

Use window shades instead of Venetian blinds — they are less expensive, much easier on your fingers when it's time to clean, less dangerous for little fingers, and no cords are left dangling to choke innocent babies.

-:-

HELOISE, I'm not only a new mother, but I also work in a children's emergency room in a hospital and these suggestions come from many other mothers, as well as yours truly.

Let's face facts — a happy home makes a happy child!

From a Heloise-Hinted Homemaker.

NANCY McGOVERN.

DEAR HELOISE: After I launder my cafe curtains, I pin a lining of plastic on the wrong side of them as far as my kitchen window opens.

I use tiny safety pins and pin the sheer type large plastic bags (which my husband's shirts come back from the laundry in) just to fit.

This lining is quite invisible and protects the curtain from soil, rubbing against the screen, and certainly saves doing the curtains up so often.

Any time I have a cantaloupe or honey dew melon to put in the refrigerator, I put it inside a plastic bag and seal it tight with a rubber band.

This way the odor does not permeate the refrigerator and our melons are cold when we are ready to eat them.

DORA DRAIN.

DEAR DORA: Pinning plastic on the back of curtains is a fantabulous idea!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I found that my baby's plastic crib mattress was very hot for him in the summer and very cold in the winter. Putting quilt pads underneath the sheet only made ridges on his little face.

I discovered that by putting one of my receiving blankets under the sheet, at the top of his crib where he slept, worked beautifully. It also helps to absorb more when he drools at night, thus not leaving a wet ring on the sheet. The blankets wash and dry easily, too.

BETTY RICHARDSON.

Magazine Sale Reaches $1,859

Friday's magazine sales at East Liverpool High School amounted to $697.32, raising the total to $1,859.93 in the annual campaign for funds for various student projects and school activities.

The high salesman was Harold Putt with $151.48. He won the $5 award and carried Hound Doggie for the day.

Other high salesmen were Rick Forzano, $65.50; Jean Flora, $36.25; Cindy Wotring, $21, and Robert Cregar, $19.50.

Anchor Hocking Sets Texas Unit Expansion

Keeping pace with the rapid growth of the Southwest, a major expansion of Anchor Hocking's Houston (Tex.) container plant facilities has been announced by C. J. Reichard, Southwestern Regional sales manager, and N. L. Baker, Houston plant manager.

Initial plans include construction of a new furnace to produce amber containers primarily to satisfy the increasing demands of national and regional brewers.

Potential annual production 170 million amber containers will supplement existing facilities producing flint for foods, drugs and beverages.

Anchor Hocking, which has headquarters in Lancaster, Ohio, operates a facility at the Hall China Co. in East End.

Job Mishaps Injure 2 Men

Two men injured at work were among eight persons treated Friday at City Hospital.

Froud Adkins, 913 May St., suffered contusions and abrasions of both knees when caught on a welding machine at Patterson Industries, Inc., and Keith Downard, 28, of 220 Carolina Ave. was burned on the right knee with a welding torch at the Berman Steel Co.

Wendy Spratley, 2, daughter of Robert Spratley, 950 W. 8th St., cut her chin when she fell from steps at home.

SALEM NEWS:

"Rep. Hays is highly regarded by constituents in both parties in Congress because he is known to speak out bluntly against wasteful administration practices, regardless of what party might be in majority control.

"Congressman Hays' experience and leadership in national affairs merit his return to the nation's Capitol for another term."

STEUBENVILLE HERALD-STAR:

"Mr. Hays now is completing his 8th term as representative from this district. He is a member of several committees and chairman of the important parliamentary delegation to NATO, a position to which he recently was reappointed. He has been an active, interested representative of this district and during his 16 years has acquired seniority and experience which enables him to do even more.

"This newspaper believes Wayne L. Hays should be reelected to his 9th term as representative of this 18th Congressional District."

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW:

"Mr. Hays knows his way around in national and international affairs. His broad political experience and leadership cannot be overlooked.

"We support his reelection."

MARTINS FERRY-BELLAIRE TIMES-LEADER:

"But the fact that he has been elected to eight consecutive terms shows that the people of the 18th district are well satisfied with the job Hays has been doing.

"Satisfied they should be for Hays has been a beaver at getting things done for the district. Not only has he been able to produce many federal favors, but he has been prompt and energetic in handling requests from his constituents.

"Hays has earned another term in Congress, and this newspaper recommends his support."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I've learned, after a year and a half, to sit back and enjoy my very active son. I only hope my mistakes in furnishing our home might be spared other young couples.

Forget about those exquisite and elegant pieces of furniture —stick to formica tables and pole lamps where possible.

Use stack tables or TV trays for entertaining. That coffee table is a menace.

Move precious books and ornaments up high. Better to be able to enjoy them there than not at all.

-:-

PUT SAFETY plugs in all outlets and use locks or straps to keep all cabinets off-limits for busy little fingers.

By-pass those luxurious rugs and carpets, especially velveteens . . . babies do have accidents!!

Put guards on windows.

Serve the child food in plastic cups and dishes.

When a child learns to climb the stairs, take the time and patience to teach him how to climb back down.

Purchase lightweight washable bedspreads.

Use window shades instead of Venetian blinds — they are less expensive, much easier on your fingers when it's time to clean, less dangerous for little fingers, and no cords are left dangling to choke innocent babies.

-:-

HELOISE, I'm not only a new mother, but I also work in a children's emergency room in a hospital and these suggestions come from many other mothers, as well as yours truly.

Let's face facts — a happy home makes a happy child!

From a Heloise-Hinted Homemaker.

NANCY McGOVERN.

DEAR HELOISE: After I launder my cafe curtains, I pin a lining of plastic on the wrong side of them as far as my kitchen window opens.

I use tiny safety pins and pin the sheer type large plastic bags (which my husband's shirts come back from the laundry in) just to fit.

This lining is quite invisible and protects the curtain from soil, rubbing against the screen, and certainly saves doing the curtains up so often.

Any time I have a cantaloupe or honey dew melon to put in the refrigerator, I put it inside a plastic bag and seal it tight with a rubber band.

This way the odor does not permeate the refrigerator and our melons are cold when we are ready to eat them.

DORA DRAIN.

DEAR DORA: Pinning plastic on the back of curtains is a fantabulous idea!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I found that my baby's plastic crib mattress was very hot for him in the summer and very cold in the winter. Putting quilt pads underneath the sheet only made ridges on his little face.

I discovered that by putting one of my receiving blankets under the sheet, at the top of his crib where he slept, worked beautifully. It also helps to absorb more when he drools at night, thus not leaving a wet ring on the sheet. The blankets wash and dry easily, too.

BETTY RICHARDSON.

Magazine Sale Reaches $1,859

the BIG inch

It looks kinda lonesome by itself.

But look at it this way:

What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in the East Liverpool Review is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by 17,161 copies daily.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $.96. And that price includes delivery to the reader's front doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Review Area families by postcard. It would amount to $686.44 just for postage.

BUT THE REVIEW DOES IT FOR ONLY .96 PER INSERTION!

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG inch when it's advertising space in the Review. And the figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in this Tri-State area know that you have merchandise and services that they could use.

Let a Review representative show you how a little BIG inch can wake up sales for you.

Sun Blamed In Car Crash

A bright sun was blamed by an East End teen-ager for a traffic crash late Friday afternoon at Pennsylvania and Minnesota Aves.

The mishap at 4:28 p.m. involved a 1960 car operated by Ronald H. Tullis, 2028 Michigan Ave., and the auto of Steve Kraker, 51, of 42 Midland Ave., Midland.

Tullis told police he was blinded by the sun as he pulled from the curb and didn't see the westbound 1964 auto of Kraker.

John Eckstein, 1041 Monaca St., reported to police the right rear of his 1960 station wagon was damaged between 6:30 and 6:50 p.m. while parked on the Thorofare Market lot off Pennsylvania Ave.

Eckstein told police a store official furnished him with the license number of the other vehicle. The police report indicated the auto was registered to Anna F. Claudio, 352 Midland Ave., Midland, but the driver was not identified.

2 Passengers Hurt In Wreck

Distracted by children in Halloween costumes, a West Virginia motorist rammed the rear of another car in Wellsville Friday night at 7:25, resulting in injury to two women.

Police said the car driven by Paul Slaughter of Charleston R. D. 1 struck the car of Richard Myers of County Rd. 46, Toronto, on Main St. at the 9th St. traffic signal.

Slaughter told police he noticed children in the costumes walking down the street and pointed them out to his children. He failed to notice the Myers car halt and ran into the rear of the vehicle, police said.

Mrs. Helen Leah Myers, 46, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered a whiplash of the neck. She was treated at City Hospital.

Mrs. Nora Slaughter, 27, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated for a laceration of the lower lip, fractured jaw and the loss of four teeth.

Slaughter was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance and will receive a hearing Nov. 12 before Mayor William Daugherty.

Hearing Set Nov. 12 For Trio In Larceny

Justice of the Peace Joseph Goehman of Rochester has set a hearing Nov. 12 at 3 p. m. for three Cleveland men charged with larceny in the theft of $1,136 from a Beaver Falls man Wednesday.

Nathaniel Lett and Robert Coleman were released after posting $1,500 bonds each, but David Gray remained in the Rochester Jail, unable to post bond. Lett and Gray are facing armed robbery charges in Cleveland, according to authorities.

West Virginia Due 12 Million Road Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia will be allotted $12.9 million in federal road funds Nov. 16, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has announced.

The money won't be released to the state, however, until highway work is completed. The quarterly share is allocated in advance so states can plan road work in an orderly manner.

6 Motorists Fined On Patrol Citations

LISBON — Six motorists were fined Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on State Highway Patrol citations and another forfeited bond. Fined were:

Robert P. Exline, 28, of Elkton, $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle in unsafe condition.

Norman L. Burkey, 18, of Lisbon, $10 and costs for no muffler.

Robert J. Mackey, 20, of Canton, David F. Ayers, 21 of Paris, and Charles M. Shandor, 25, of Minerva, $10 and costs each for speeding.

Sun Blamed In Car Crash

A bright sun was blamed by an East End teen-ager for a traffic crash late Friday afternoon at Pennsylvania and Minnesota Aves.

The mishap at 4:28 p.m. involved a 1960 car operated by Ronald H. Tullis, 2028 Michigan Ave., and the auto of Steve Kraker, 51, of 42 Midland Ave., Midland.

Tullis told police he was blinded by the sun as he pulled from the curb and didn't see the westbound 1964 auto of Kraker.

John Eckstein, 1041 Monaca St., reported to police the right rear of his 1960 station wagon was damaged between 6:30 and 6:50 p.m. while parked on the Thorofare Market lot off Pennsylvania Ave.

Eckstein told police a store official furnished him with the license number of the other vehicle. The police report indicated the auto was registered to Anna F. Claudio, 352 Midland Ave., Midland, but the driver was not identified.

2 Passengers Hurt In Wreck

Distracted by children in Halloween costumes, a West Virginia motorist rammed the rear of another car in Wellsville Friday night at 7:25, resulting in injury to two women.

Police said the car driven by Paul Slaughter of Charleston R. D. 1 struck the car of Richard Myers of County Rd. 46, Toronto, on Main St. at the 9th St. traffic signal.

Slaughter told police he noticed children in the costumes walking down the street and pointed them out to his children. He failed to notice the Myers car halt and ran into the rear of the vehicle, police said.

Mrs. Helen Leah Myers, 46, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered a whiplash of the neck. She was treated at City Hospital.

Mrs. Nora Slaughter, 27, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated for a laceration of the lower lip, fractured jaw and the loss of four teeth.

Slaughter was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance and will receive a hearing Nov. 12 before Mayor William Daugherty.

Hearing Set Nov. 12 For Trio In Larceny

Justice of the Peace Joseph Goehman of Rochester has set a hearing Nov. 12 at 3 p. m. for three Cleveland men charged with larceny in the theft of $1,136 from a Beaver Falls man Wednesday.

Nathaniel Lett and Robert Coleman were released after posting $1,500 bonds each, but David Gray remained in the Rochester Jail, unable to post bond. Lett and Gray are facing armed robbery charges in Cleveland, according to authorities.

West Virginia Due 12 Million Road Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia will be allotted $12.9 million in federal road funds Nov. 16, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has announced.

The money won't be released to the state, however, until highway work is completed. The quarterly share is allocated in advance so states can plan road work in an orderly manner.

In $10,000 Project

Company Erects Storage Facility

The Parsons Coal Co., Inc., said today construction is about 50 per cent complete on a new 50-x-90-foot storage building in Peach Alley, a project made necessary by the firm's expanding activity in trans-shipping raw materials arriving in East Liverpool via Ohio River barge.

The brick, concrete and steel structure will cost $10,000 according to the building permit issued by Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office.

Twenty permits in all were issued last month, covering construction estimated to cost a total of $61,700.

Construction of the new storage building is linked to shipment of the first barge of ball clay to arrive in East Liverpool in many years. The material is due to arrive over the weekend at Parsons' docks, according to John Sidwell of East Palestine, sales representative of the H.C. Spinks Clay Co. of Paris, Tenn.

—:—

HOWARD PARSONS, head of the local firm, said the storage facility will be used for continuing shipments of ball clay, as well as other materials which the company trans-ships.

The ball clay was moved from Gleason, Tenn., on the Tennessee River via a 175-foot covered barge. It is destined for both refractories and dinnerware in plants in the area.

Earlier this year, Spinks shipped clay by barge to Kittanning on the Allegheny River, the first in many years. Potters in the East Liverpool area received most of their raw materials by river many years ago.

AMONG OTHER major projects, Adkins Construction Co. received a $21,500 permit to erect a bus garage on Harvey Ave. for the Tri-State Transit Co. Plans for the work were announced a month ago after the bus firm sold its former barn property on Pennsylvania Ave. in Oakland to Paul Conkle Jr., operator of the Econ-O-Wash Laundry at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Conkle will use the former bus barn to expand his operation.

MEANWHILE, David Mumaw obtained a permit for a new one-story home on Iris Ave., estimated to cost $11,000.

Here are the other October permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

Albert Clark, to erect a brick veneer building on Maine Blvd., $3,500.

Dr. Charles Gerace, to raze and replace a porch on a building on W. 6th St., $250.

VINCENT MAOLA, to remodel a garage at 525 Wedgewood Ave., $100.

Sayre W. Graham Construction Co., to remodel a three-story building on W. 5th St., $2,500.

Richard Waggle, to remodel a two-story home at 502 Sugar St., $2,300.

Carl Crabtree, to erect an addition to a home at 207 Ravine St., $2,500.

Perma-Lite of Pennsylvania, to perform work on property of Ray Icenhower, 741 Valley Ave., $310.

Ellsworth Rardin to close in a porch and install a new roof on a building at 128 W. 4th St., $1,800.

Same, to insulate a two-story home at 1515 Wyoming Ave., $350.

Same, to insulate a home at 416 College St., $250.

Two permits were issued for razing of buildings.

Mrs. Doris Golding was given a permit to raze a one-story home at 844 Fairview St.

Lions Hear Atty. Bettis

Expense Policy Of PUCO Seen Unfair To Consumer

Atty. J. Warren Bettis, a member of the Public Utilities Commission, expressed hope the Ohio Legislature will find some method by which fees for prosecuting rate cases can be handled when he addressed the Lions Club on the commission's duties Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Bettis termed the present method in which all such expenses are passed on to the consumers as unfair.

The Salineville lawyer cited the case of the East Ohio Gas Co., which asked for $38 million rate increase, including $1.6 million in fees for lawyers, consultants and rate experts.

The case dragged on for 11 months and 14,000 pages of testimony were taken with all expenses being passed on the consumers, Bettis said.

"Cities and villages certainly are handicapped in such cases," the attorney said.

Bettis also criticed the unnamed Republican chairman of the three - man commission, terming him "power hungry," and interested in making the commision's role larger and larger.

The commission as three responsibilities — to the consumer in seeing that he gets the best possible service for the lowest possible rate, to the utility so that it can receive a fair return on its investment, and to the state.

By permitting a utility to make more than a "bare bones" profit, the commission is aiding in providing additional funds for the state economy through expansion and more jobs, Bettis continued.

Established in 1867, the Ohio commission's functions are regulated by state statute and it is similar to a court of equity, he explained.

The three commissioners are appointed by the governor and one must be of the minority party. The commission has approximately 140 employes, chiefly lawyers, accountants and engineers.

Its operating funds come from assessments on the various utilities and not from the general operating funds of the state, Bettis said.

The commission today regulates gas, electric, telephone firms, motor carriers and railroads and recently also was authorized to check on sewage rates.

A Supreme Court decision in an 1877 Illinois case established the basic principle that "anything affecting the public interest is a public utility," Bettis explained.

"That was the beginning of regulatory agencies nationally and statewide. Many feel the ruling was a blessing, but others now argue, the agencies over - regulate," he said.

Bettis, who is Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, was introduced by Dick Judge, program chairman.

Kenneth Eardley of the Dawson Funeral Home was introduced as a new member. Frank A. Dawson and Charles Zook of Steubenville were guests.

Richard C. Martin, president, announced the Board of Directors will meet Monday night at 8 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex. The District Cabinet will meet Nov. 8 at 2 p. m. at the annex.

Jury Awards Couple $6,503 For Accident

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Friday awarded a Columbiana area couple a total of $6,503.97 personal injuries and damages in a traffic collision May 29, 1961, at the intersection of Routes 164 and 558, south of Columbiana. They had asked for a total of $34,148.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilkes McGee of Columbiana R.D. 2 received $5,455 for personal injuries and her husband, Wilfred L. McGee, $1,148.97 in the judgment against Homer Arthur Miller of Salem R.D. 1.

The jury deliberated approximately four hours before all signed the two verdicts.

Mrs. Miller claimed permanent eye injuries and her husband received his amount for damages and loss of his wife's services.

Only flameless electricity lets you select the ideal heating for your entire home...old or new...large or small

With many types of electric heating you can have individual room control. You get the exact heat you want, when and where you want it—the desired temperature in each room.

There are compact central heating systems which circulate, filter and condition the air. There are flameless electric hot water systems, if you prefer.

The ultimate in year-round climate control is the electric heat pump. It heats in winter, cools and conditions in summer—automatically from a single system.

EXCLUSIVE ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRIC HEAT:

Cuts maintenance—No flues to clean, no grates to replace, no yearly cleanup or burner adjustments.
No waste space—No need for fuel storage or a bulky, old-fashioned heating system.
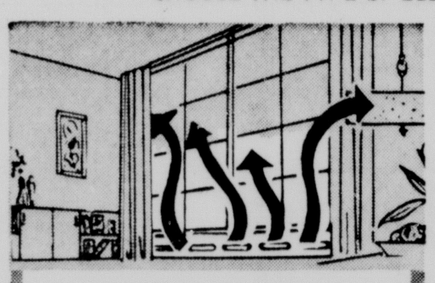
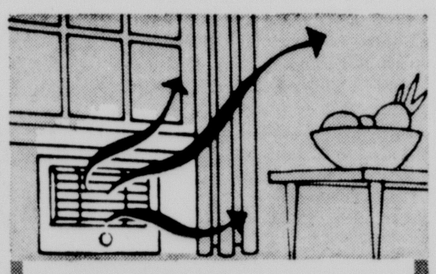
Quiet—No hammering in pipes, no roar of burner or flue.
Individual room control—With many flameless electric heating systems, you can control the temperature of each room separately.
Complete flexibility—One or a combination of the electric heating systems pictured here will be ideal for your home, will give you greatest flexibility of furniture arrangement.

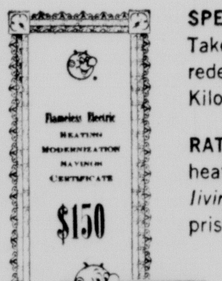
CHOOSE THE TYPE OF ELECTRIC HEATING YOU WANT.



BASEBOARD UNITS—With this type of installation, the heating elements take the place of the normal baseboard in a room and are so inconspicuous that unless pointed out they are not noticeable. The compact designs will complement any interior decor and let you enjoy the advantages of individual room control.

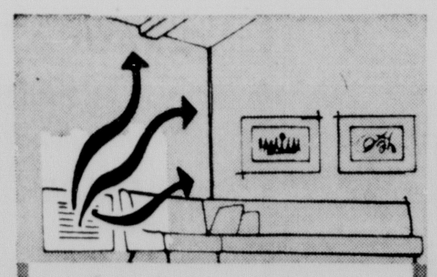


WALL PANEL HEATERS—Easily installed panels fit into or onto the wall, depending upon type selected. They are most effective when used on outside walls and under windows. The space saving units are thermostatically controlled. Some units have forced fan circulation.

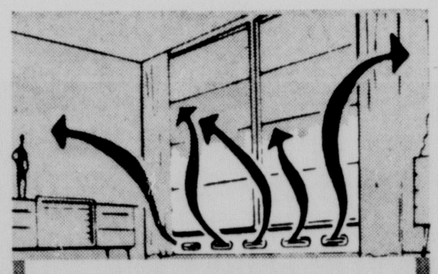


SPECIAL OFFER! Convert your home to electric heat now. Take advantage of this opportunity to save $150 when you redeem this savings certificate—available at a Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Electric Heating Dealer.

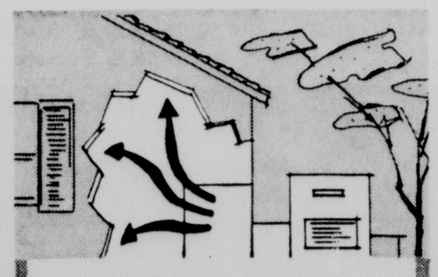
RATES REDUCED 3 TIMES IN 3 YEARS! Get a free electric heating estimate based on our new lower total electric living rate. You and your budget will be pleasantly surprised to compare total electric living cost with your present combination of fuel and electric. Step up to modern living that's truly clean, truly convenient, truly automatic. A Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Electric Heating Dealer will give you a written estimate of the cost of installing electric heating in your home. And he will guarantee your annual operating costs and your complete comfort from using quiet, clean, draft-free convenient electric heating.



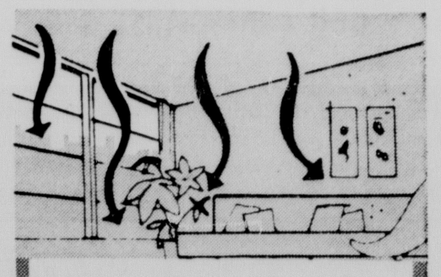
ELECTRIC FURNACE—This is a compact, central heating system which can easily be combined with central air conditioning. It is easily adapted to exact humidity control, electrostatic air filtering and in-duct heaters.



ELECTRIC HYDRONIC SYSTEMS—There are many types of flameless electric hydronic systems. These can be small instantaneous heaters or electrically heated central boilers.



HEAT PUMPS—The ultimate in year-round climate control. It heats in the winter, cools in the summer, automatically maintaining the exact temperature you want. And this is regardless of the weather, frigid temperature or heat wave.



HEATING CABLE—Flameless electric heating cable may be embedded in your ceilings or floors for complete invisibility. A gentle, even, radiant heat bathes the entire room in warmth and comfort. Each room is automatically controlled for your comfort by individual room thermostats.

In $10,000 Project

Company Erects Storage Facility

The Parsons Coal Co., Inc., said today construction is about 50 per cent complete on a new 50-x-90-foot storage building in Peach Alley, a project made necessary by the firm's expanding activity in trans-shipping raw materials arriving in East Liverpool via Ohio River barge.

The brick, concrete and steel structure will cost $10,000 according to the building permit issued by Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office.

Twenty permits in all were issued last month, covering construction estimated to cost a total of $61,700.

Construction of the new storage building is linked to shipment of the first barge of ball clay to arrive in East Liverpool in many years. The material is due to arrive over the weekend at Parsons' docks, according to John Sidwell of East Palestine, sales representative of the H.C. Spinks Clay Co. of Paris, Tenn.

—:—

HOWARD PARSONS, head of the local firm, said the storage facility will be used for continuing shipments of ball clay, as well as other materials which the company trans-ships.

The ball clay was moved from Gleason, Tenn., on the Tennessee River via a 175-foot covered barge. It is destined for both refractories and dinnerware in plants in the area.

Earlier this year, Spinks shipped clay by barge to Kittanning on the Allegheny River, the first in many years. Potters in the East Liverpool area received most of their raw materials by river many years ago.

AMONG OTHER major projects, Adkins Construction Co. received a $21,500 permit to erect a bus garage on Harvey Ave. for the Tri-State Transit Co. Plans for the work were announced a month ago after the bus firm sold its former barn property on Pennsylvania Ave. in Oakland to Paul Conkle Jr., operator of the Econ-O-Wash Laundry at Elizabeth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Conkle will use the former bus barn to expand his operation.

MEANWHILE, David Mumaw obtained a permit for a new one-story home on Iris Ave., estimated to cost $11,000.

Here are the other October permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

Albert Clark, to erect a brick veneer building on Maine Blvd., $3,500.

Dr. Charles Gerace, to raze and replace a porch on a building on W. 6th St., $250.

VINCENT MAOLA, to remodel a garage at 525 Wedgewood Ave., $100.

Sayre W. Graham Construction Co., to remodel a three-story building on W. 5th St., $2,500.

Richard Waggle, to remodel a two-story home at 502 Sugar St., $2,300.

Carl Crabtree, to erect an addition to a home at 207 Ravine St., $2,500.

Perma-Lite of Pennsylvania, to perform work on property of Ray Icenhower, 741 Valley Ave., $310.

Ellsworth Rardin to close in a porch and install a new roof on a building at 128 W. 4th St., $1,800.

Same, to insulate a two-story home at 1515 Wyoming Ave., $350.

Same, to insulate a home at 416 College St., $250.

Two permits were issued for razing of buildings.

Mrs. Doris Golding was given a permit to raze a one-story home at 844 Fairview St.

Lions Hear Atty. Bettis

Expense Policy Of PUCO Seen Unfair To Consumer

Atty. J. Warren Bettis, a member of the Public Utilities Commission, expressed hope the Ohio Legislature will find some method by which fees for prosecuting rate cases can be handled when he addressed the Lions Club on the commission's duties Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Bettis termed the present method in which all such expenses are passed on to the consumers as unfair.

The Salineville lawyer cited the case of the East Ohio Gas Co., which asked for $38 million rate increase, including $1.6 million in fees for lawyers, consultants and rate experts.

The case dragged on for 11 months and 14,000 pages of testimony were taken with all expenses being passed on the consumers, Bettis said.

"Cities and villages certainly are handicapped in such cases," the attorney said.

Bettis also criticed the unnamed Republican chairman of the three - man commission, terming him "power hungry," and interested in making the commision's role larger and larger.

The commission as three responsibilities — to the consumer in seeing that he gets the best possible service for the lowest possible rate, to the utility so that it can receive a fair return on its investment, and to the state.

By permitting a utility to make more than a "bare bones" profit, the commission is aiding in providing additional funds for the state economy through expansion and more jobs, Bettis continued.

Established in 1867, the Ohio commission's functions are regulated by state statute and it is similar to a court of equity, he explained.

The three commissioners are appointed by the governor and one must be of the minority party. The commission has approximately 140 employes, chiefly lawyers, accountants and engineers.

Its operating funds come from assessments on the various utilities and not from the general operating funds of the state, Bettis said.

The commission today regulates gas, electric, telephone firms, motor carriers and railroads and recently also was authorized to check on sewage rates.

A Supreme Court decision in an 1877 Illinois case established the basic principle that "any thing affecting the public interest is a public utility," Bettis explained.

"That was the beginning of regulatory agencies nationally and statewide. Many feel the ruling was a blessing, but others now argue, the agencies over - regulate," he said.

Bettis, who is Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, was introduced by Dick Judge, program chairman.

Kenneth Eardley of the Dawson Funeral Home was introduced as a new member. Frank A. Dawson and Charles Zook of Steubenville were guests.

Richard C. Martin, president, announced the Board of Directors will meet Monday night at 8 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex. The District Cabinet will meet Nov. 8 at 2 p. m. at the annex.

Jury Awards Couple $6,503 For Accident

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Friday awarded a Columbiana area couple a total of $6,503.97 personal injuries and damages in a traffic collision May 29, 1961, at the intersection of Routes 164 and 558, south of Columbiana. They had asked for a total of $34,148.

The jury deliberated approximately four hours before all signed the two verdicts.

Mrs. Miller claimed permanent eye injuries and her husband received his amount for damages and loss of his wife's services.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEATING!

Only flameless electricity lets you select the ideal heating for your entire home...old or new...large or small

With many types of electric heating you can have individual room control. You get the exact heat you want, when and where you want it—the desired temperature in each room.

There are compact central heating systems which circulate, filter and condition the air. There are flameless electric hot water systems, if you prefer.

The ultimate in year-round climate control is the electric heat pump. It heats in winter, cools and conditions in summer—automatically from a single system.

EXCLUSIVE ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRIC HEAT:

Cuts maintenance—No flues to clean, no grates to replace, no yearly cleanup or burner adjustments.
No waste space—No need for fuel storage or a bulky, old-fashioned heating system.
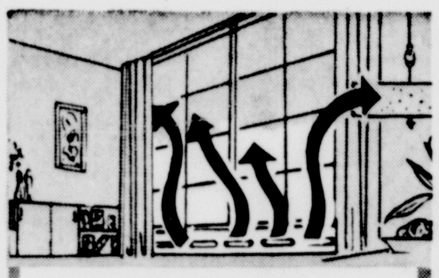
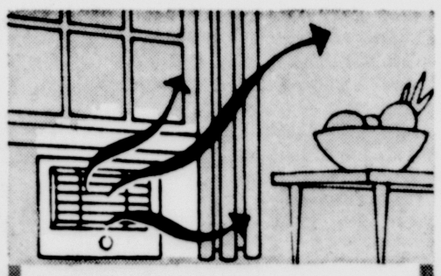
Individual room control—With many flameless electric heating systems, you can control the temperature of each room separately.
Complete flexibility—One or a combination of the electric heating systems pictured here will be ideal for your home, will give you greatest flexibility of furniture arrangement.

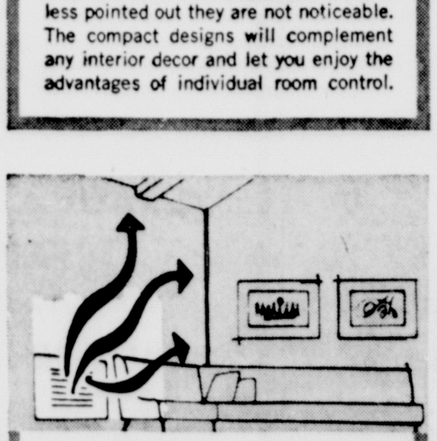
CHOOSE THE TYPE OF ELECTRIC HEATING YOU WANT.



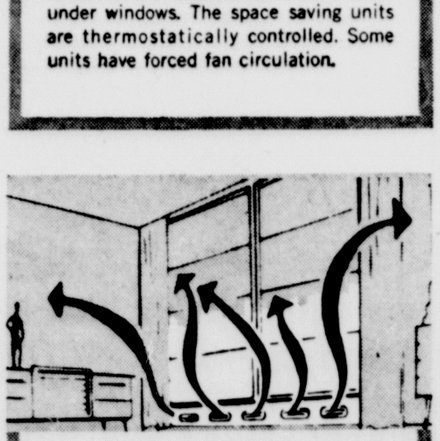
BASEBOARD UNITS—With this type of installation, the heating elements take the place of the normal baseboard in a room and are so inconspicuous that unless pointed out they are not noticeable. The compact designs will complement any interior decor and let you enjoy the advantages of individual room control.



WALL PANEL HEATERS—Easily installed panels fit into or onto the wall, depending upon type selected. They are most effective when used on outside walls and under windows. The space saving units are thermostatically controlled. Some units have forced fan circulation.



ELECTRIC FURNACE—This is a compact, central heating system which can easily be combined with central air conditioning. It is easily adapted to exact humidity control, electrostatic air filtering and in-duct heaters.



ELECTRIC HYDRONIC SYSTEMS—There are many types of flameless electric hydronic systems. These can be small instantaneous heaters or electrically heated central boilers.

HEAT PUMPS—The ultimate in year-round climate control. It heats in the winter, cools in the summer, automatically maintaining the exact temperature you want. And this is regardless of the weather, frigid temperature or heat wave.

HEATING CABLE—Flameless electric heating cable may be embedded in your ceilings or floors for complete invisibility. A gentle, even, radiant heat bathes the entire room in warmth and comfort. Each room is automatically controlled for your comfort by individual room thermostats.

SPECIAL OFFER! Convert your home to electric heat now. Take advantage of this opportunity to save $150 when you redeem this savings certificate—available at a Reddy Kilowatt Recommended Electric Heating Dealer.

California's GOP 'Must', Democrat Prestige Factor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California, rich in electoral votes and flexible in its political loyalty, has become a Republican necessity and a Democratic prestige factor in the 1964 presidential election.

GOP candidate Barry Goldwater has tagged California as one of four states he must carry in November to win the presidency. The others are Ohio, Illinois and Texas.

President Johnson wants California, the most populous state in the nation, removed from the Republican column where it has rested since 1952.

Goldwater has appeared frequently in California, campaigning, fund-raising and vacationing. Johnson visited the state this week for the third time.

But while the President has been in Washington or other sections of the nation, others singing his praises have been heard throughout California, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown; Democratic Sen. Pierre Salinger, seeking a full six-year term; and Cabinet officials.

Most Democratic congression candidates have sewed their campaigns to the Johnson coattails.

Goldwater depends primarily on himself and a volunteer organization that is working relentlessly ringing doorbells, making personal contacts and mailing campaign material.

Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel has avoided a public endorsement of Goldwater.

Goldwater has saved his best shots for Southern California, while Johnson, who earlier made his major campaign speeches in the northern area, invaded the southland this week. Goldwater must build a large lead in Southern California to offset the traditional Democratic counties of the north.

The California Field Poll, considered a reliable political gauge shows the President leading Goldwater 58 to 32 per cent with 10 per cent undecided.

This October poll, however, reflected a decline of 4 per cent for Johnson. Goldwater dropped 1 per cent, with the undecided column the only gainer.

Democrats also boast their heaviest registration in 14 years, claiming 57.9 per cent of the state's record 8,184,151 eligible voters.

The Republicans have 38.9 per cent with the remainder distributed between miscellaneous and those who decline to list party preference.

Living Costs Rose Slightly In September

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of one per cent in September, resuming an upward trend broken briefly in August, the Labor Department said.

The increase took the government's consumer price index to 108.4. This means it took $10.84 last month to purchase typical consumer items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Higher food, housing and clothing prices contributed to the over-all September rise in the index.

Food prices were three-tenths of one per cent higher because of rises in meat and egg prices.

Meats went up 2.8 per cent from August, largely because of Midwest farmers withholding livestock from the market in an effort to get more money, the bureau said.

Fresh fruits and vegetables dropped 7 per cent, but were still about 7 per cent higher than a year ago.

Over-all, food prices were 1.7 per cent higher than in September 1963.

One notable development in September was a slight drop in the cost of medical care, the first since 1949.

The drop was one-tenth of one per cent. Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said it seemed to reflect a slowing down of the long-term rise in medical costs, which have gone up faster than any other item in the price index for many years.

Engagement Ordeal

NEW YORK (AP) — All Jack Smith and his fiancee, Kathleen Stephens, wanted to do was look at some engagement rings in the shop of jeweler Edmund Coleman. But while they were looking at rings, two gunmen walked in, handcuffed Coleman, and took Smith with them as hostage. A sharp - shooting patrolman wounded the two and Smith returned to his fiancee.

Potters Dominate 20-0 Decision Over Weirton For Victory No. 6

Air, Ground Game Sinks Red Riders

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Not at their peak performance by far, the East Liverpool Potters, nevertheless, put together enough of an air and ground attack to walk over a punchless Weirton eleven, 20-0, Friday night before some 3,500 in the West Virginia city.

Coach Bob McNea, who could be a good juggler the way he has come up with new faces in the lineup to replace injured players, saw his Potters notch their sixth victory of the season against a lone loss and a deadlock.

WEIRTON, a perennial powerhouse in the Mountaineer state, is closing one of its worst seasons in some time and last night dropped its sixth game in eight starts.

Outside of the opening game of the season with Beaver Local, the Potters never dominated a contest as much as they did at Weirton.

Most of the 48-minute encounter was played in Weirton territory. And when the heat of battle had lifted the Red Riders has been slowed to a walk and showed only two first downs by rushing, along with two through the air.

COACH Carl Foder's Riders also were bitten by the fumble bug and the Potters were alert to the opportunities, recovering three of Weirton's four bobbles.

Quarterback Bob Maltarich had a hand in two Potter touchdowns, scoring the first on an eight - yard jaunt around the left side with two minutes remaining in the first quarter, then passing to end Bob Marshall for a 40-yard scoring play on the first official down of the second quarter.

—:—

THE POTTERS threatened several times in the second half, but saw drives fizzle out in the third quarter on the Weirton 23 and another time on the Rider eight.

In West Virginia, a conversion after a touchdown is only worth one point so the Potters put their kicking specialist Dick Smith to work last night.

—:—

SMITH, who also got off some bombing kickoffs, responded in the conversion department with two perfect placements in three attempts.

In rolling up 16 first downs, the Potters picked up a net of 148 yards on the ground. Maltarich went over the 100-yard mark passing with a .500 batting average of 6 for 12 for 104 yards.

Chema, starting his third straight game as a replacement for the injured Nick Marchbanks, was the leading ground gainer with 74 yards in 11 carries.

Goodballet has 50 yards in 11 tries and Burke accounted for 31 yards.

—:—

WEIRTON, in trying to come up with a winning combination, made several changes in the starting lineup Friday night, but without result.

Quarterback Kurt Culler, fullback Bill West and halfback Bob Austin gained most of the yardage for the punchless Riders.

Goodballet and Chema ripped off 24 yards between them and a 15-yard penalty on Weirton put the ball on the Rider 35.

—:—

GOODBALLET reeled off 18 more and Chema went nine to the eight, from where Maltarich went the rest of the way for six points.

Before the first period ended senior Laird Christian, another new face in the Potter lineup, intercepted an enemy pass and returned it to the Weirton 22.

As the gun went off ending the first quarter, Maltarich had hit end Tom Prentice with a touchdown pass, but the officials ruled the quarter had ended before the play started.

The Potters got the touchdown any way. After a 15-yard clipping penalty had set the ball back on the ELHS 40, Maltarich only had to get the ball to Marshall who was all alone on the 10-yard line and could have walked to the end zone for the TD.

THE POTTERS' final touchdown came after Maltarich had returned a Weirton punt from his own 49 to the Rider 34.

Maltarich and Burke carried the ball to the Weirton nine on four tries, setting the stage for Goodballet to wiggle his way inside for the final touchdown.

The Potters played without Mike Snowden, regular tackle, who is out for the season. Tim Grafton, East Liverpool's top safety man, was held out with a mild concussion and Daryl Jackson was sidelined with a leg injury.

Midland Drives 76 Yards In Final Period To Break New Brighton's Jinx, 7-0

NEW BRIGHTON — The Midland Leopards marched 76 yards in the fourth quarter to score the only touchdown of the game and gain a hard-fought 7-0 victory over New Brighton here Friday night.

New Brighton has been a jinx to the Leopards over the years, but the jinx ended with 3:44 remaining in the game when halfback Steve Alston banged over from two yards out and Jim Smith added the conversion.

MIDLAND hadn't defeated a Lion team since 1957 when the Leopards battered New Brighton, 33-14.

The victory last night also puts Midland in a very good position to record its first winning season since 1959. The Leopards will close out their campaign next Saturday morning at Midland, meeting Freedom at the unusual time of 11:30 a. m.

Coach Joe Cochran's team now has won its last four games, against three losses and one tie. The Leopards also moved into first place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference with a 4-0-1 record.

BEAVER, the only other contender for the title with a 3-0-1 mark, faces Monaca tonight. The Beaver eleven will close out its season against Rochester next week in a league game.

Cochran again can be proud of his vaunted defensive forces, who Friday night recorded their fourth straight shutout of the season.

Midland hasn't been scored upon since Braddock won 12-6 on Oct. 3.

LAST NIGHT'S contest was a defensive struggle for over three quarters when Midland took over on its own 24 and proceeded to march 76 yards for the lone and deciding TD.

The drive started with nine minutes remaining in the battle, with Alston picking up 26 yards and Smith 27 and quarterback Norm VanLier firing a pass to Rich Mahurt for another 22 yards.

FOLLOWING the touchdown, an aroused New Brighton team marched back to the Midland 32, but Smith, playing his usual alert brand of ball, intercepted a Lion pass on the Midland five and brought it out to the 30. Only a minute remained and Midland ran out the clock.

The loss left New Brighton with a 2-5-1 record.

Midland picked up 228 yards rushing and added 28 yards in the air. Alston with 89 yards and Smith with 84 shared the offensive burden for the defensive - minded Leopards.

New Brighton gained 148 yards rushing and added 16 in the air.

Visitors Snag 26-18 Victory

Fairmont's Rally In 2nd Half Sends Oak Glen To 3rd Straight Setback

Oak Glen, which compiled a four-game winning streak earlier in the season, was on the losing end of its third straight contest Friday night when visiting Fairmont West scored two third period touchdowns to post a 26-18 victory at Newell.

BOTH TEAMS battled on even terms the first half with Fairmont showing a 13-12 halftime edge. The visitors then went on to outscore Oak Glen two-to-one in the second half.

Fairmont took advantage of a fumble in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Oak Glen lost the ball on its own 20 and five plays later quarterback Dick Smith scored from five yards out. Ron Caldwell ran the conversion.

OAK GLEN bounced back when the Bears' leading ground gainer Neil Rayle rambled 24 yards for six points with 6:33 left in the first half but the conversion failed.

The two teams exchanged touchdowns before the first half ended with Smith passing to Joe Serdich for 21 yards for Fairmont's TD and a 13-6 lead.

Tim Duke snared an enemy pass on the Oak Glen 10 and returned it up field to the 30. With time running out in the first half, Oak Glen passed its way downfield with Mike Clutter completing a pair to Rayle.

WITH 14 seconds remaining in the half, sub quarterback Tom Thayer pitched a strike to Duke on a 13-yard scoring play but Rayle's placement failed to tie the score.

Another fumble led to Fairmont's first touchdown of the third quarter. Marv Six dropped the ball on the Oak Glen 20 and a few plays later Smith was firing to Serdich for the TD.

BEFORE the third quarter was over, Fairmont struck paydirt again. This time Caldwell intercepted a pass on the Bears' 30. Six plays later Smith and Serdich again hooked up on a 14-yard scoring play.

Late in the fourth quarter, Oak Glen tallied but time was against them with 3:20 left when sophomore Rick Everly bolted over from five yards out.

In statistics, both teams showed 10 first downs while Oak Glen had a slight rushing edge with 243 yards to Fairmont's 213 yards. The alert Fairmont defenders snared three Oak Glen passes.

Over Controversial Call

Missed Conversion Results In East Palestine 8-6 Loss

EAST PALESTINE — A controversial call on a conversion cost East Palestine an 8-6 setback at the hands of Poland here Friday night.

Poland, which captured its sixth win in eight starts, marched 51 yards early in the second quarter to score when Ed Galmish plunged over from the one. Dave Luchansky added the all-important conversion.

Coach Rey Dempsey's Bulldogs, who now show a 5-2 mark, bounced back and drove 62 yards for the TD with a key pass from Jim Parker to Jim Harris carrying to the seven.

A few plays later Ray Harper, East Palestine's top scorer, went over from the three.

The play which drew a questionable call from the officials followed. Pete Peters, in attempting to tie the game with a two-point conversion, began running with the ball but apparently thinking he would be trapped, flipped the ball to Harper.

The officials ruled the ball was an illegal forward pass and did not allow the conversion.

Potters Dominate 20-0 Decision Over Weirton For Victory No. 6

Air, Ground Game Sinks Red Riders

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Not at their peak performance by far, the East Liverpool Potters, nevertheless, put together enough of an air and ground attack to walk over a punchless Weirton eleven, 20-0, Friday night before some 3,500 in the West Virginia city.

Coach Bob McNea, who could be a good juggler the way he has come up with new faces in the lineup to replace injured players, saw his Potters notch their sixth victory of the season against a lone loss and a deadlock.

WEIRTON, a perennial powerhouse in the Mountaineer state, is closing one of its worst seasons in some time and last night dropped its sixth game in eight starts.

Outside of the opening game of the season with Beaver Local, the Potters never dominated a contest as much as they did at Weirton.

Most of the 48-minute encounter was played in Weirton territory. And when the heat of battle had lifted the Red Riders has been slowed to a walk and showed only two first downs by rushing, along with two through the air.

COACH Carl Foder's Riders also were bitten by the fumble bug and the Potters were alert to the opportunities, recovering three of Weirton's four bobbles.

Quarterback Bob Maltarich had a hand in two Potter touchdowns, scoring the first on an eight - yard jaunt around the left side with two minutes remaining in the first quarter, then passing to end Bob Marshall for a 40-yard scoring play on the first official down of the second quarter.

—:—

THE POTTERS threatened several times in the second half, but saw drives fizzle out in the third quarter on the Weirton 23 and another time on the Rider eight.

In West Virginia, a conversion after a touchdown is only worth one point so the Potters put their kicking specialist Dick Smith to work last night.

—:—

SMITH, who also got off some bombing kickoffs, responded in the conversion department with two perfect placements in three attempts.

In rolling up 16 first downs, the Potters picked up a net of 148 yards on the ground. Maltarich went over the 100-yard mark passing with a .500 batting average of 6 for 12 for 104 yards.

Chema, starting his third straight game as a replacement for the injured Nick Marchbanks, was the leading ground gainer with 74 yards in 11 carries.

Goodballet has 50 yards in 11 tries and Burke accounted for 31 yards.

—:—

WEIRTON, in trying to come up with a winning combination, made several changes in the starting lineup Friday night, but without result.

Quarterback Kurt Culler, fullback Bill West and halfback Bob Austin gained most of the yardage for the punchless Riders.

Goodballet and Chema ripped off 24 yards between them and a 15-yard penalty on Weirton put the ball on the Rider 35.

—:—

GOODBALLET reeled off 18 more and Chema went nine to the eight, from where Maltarich went the rest of the way for six points.

Before the first period ended senior Laird Christian, another new face in the Potter lineup, intercepted an enemy pass and returned it to the Weirton 22.

As the gun went off ending the first quarter, Maltarich had hit end Tom Prentice with a touchdown pass, but the officials ruled the quarter had ended before the play started.

The Potters got the touchdown any way. After a 15-yard clipping penalty had set the ball back on the ELHS 40, Maltarich only had to get the ball to Marshall who was all alone on the 10-yard line and could have walked to the end zone for the TD.

NEW BRIGHTON — The Midland Leopards marched 76 yards in the fourth quarter to score the only touchdown of the game and gain a hard-fought 7-0 victory over New Brighton here Friday night.

New Brighton has been a jinx to the Leopards over the years, but the jinx ended with 3:44 remaining in the game when halfback Steve Alston banged over from two yards out and Jim Smith added the conversion.

MIDLAND hadn't defeated a Lion team since 1957 when the Leopards battered New Brighton, 33-14.

The victory last night also puts Midland in a very good position to record its first winning season since 1959. The Leopards will close out their campaign next Saturday morning at Midland, meeting Freedom at the unusual time of 11:30 a. m.

Coach Joe Cochran's team now has won its last four games, against three losses and one tie. The Leopards also moved into first place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference with a 4-0-1 record.

BEAVER, the only other contender for the title with a 3-0-1 mark, faces Monaca tonight. The Beaver eleven will close out its season against Rochester next week in a league game.

Cochran again can be proud of his vaunted defensive forces, who Friday night recorded their fourth straight shutout of the season.

Midland hasn't been scored upon since Braddock won 12-6 on Oct. 3.

LAST NIGHT'S contest was a defensive struggle for over three quarters when Midland took over on its own 24 and proceeded to march 76 yards for the lone and deciding TD.

The drive started with nine minutes remaining in the battle, with Alston picking up 26 yards and Smith 27 and quarterback Norm VanLier firing a pass to Rich Mahurt for another 22 yards.

Visitors Snag 26-18 Victory

Fairmont's Rally In 2nd Half Sends Oak Glen To 3rd Straight Setback

Oak Glen, which compiled a four-game winning streak earlier in the season, was on the losing end of its third straight contest Friday night when visiting Fairmont West scored two third period touchdowns to post a 26-18 victory at Newell.

BOTH TEAMS battled on even terms the first half with Fairmont showing a 13-12 halftime edge. The visitors then went on to outscore Oak Glen two-to-one in the second half.

Fairmont took advantage of a fumble in the opening minutes of the second quarter. Oak Glen lost the ball on its own 20 and five plays later quarterback Dick Smith scored from five yards out. Ron Caldwell ran the conversion.

OAK GLEN bounced back when the Bears' leading ground gainer Neil Rayle rambled 24 yards for six points with 6:33 left in the first half but the conversion failed.

The two teams exchanged touchdowns before the first half ended with Smith passing to Joe Serdich for 21 yards for Fairmont's TD and a 13-6 lead.

Tim Duke snared an enemy pass on the Oak Glen 10 and returned it up field to the 30. With time running out in the first half, Oak Glen passed its way downfield with Mike Clutter completing a pair to Rayle.

WITH 14 seconds remaining in the half, sub quarterback Tom Thayer pitched a strike to Duke on a 13-yard scoring play but Rayle's placement failed to tie the score.

Another fumble led to Fairmont's first touchdown of the third quarter. Marv Six dropped the ball on the Oak Glen 20 and a few plays later Smith was firing to Serdich for the TD.

BEFORE the third quarter was over, Fairmont struck paydirt again. This time Caldwell intercepted a pass on the Bears' 30. Six plays later Smith and Serdich again hooked up on a 14-yard scoring play.

In statistics, both teams showed 10 first downs while Oak Glen had a slight rushing edge with 243 yards to Fairmont's 213 yards. The alert Fairmont defenders snared three Oak Glen passes.

Over Controversial Call

Missed Conversion Results In East Palestine 8-6 Loss

EAST PALESTINE — A controversial call on a conversion cost East Palestine an 8-6 setback at the hands of Poland here Friday night.

Poland, which captured its sixth win in eight starts, marched 51 yards early in the second quarter to score when Ed Galmish plunged over from the one. Dave Luchansky added the all-important conversion.

Coach Rey Dempsey's Bulldogs, who now show a 5-2 mark, bounced back and drove 62 yards for the TD with a key pass from Jim Parker to Jim Harris carrying to the seven.

The play which drew a questionable call from the officials followed. Pete Peters, in attempting to tie the game with a two-point conversion, began running with the ball but apparently thinking he would be trapped, flipped the ball to Harper.

The officials ruled the ball was an illegal forward pass and did not allow the conversion.

Leetonia Defeats Lisbon For First Time In Years

LISBON — Leetonia scored a long - awaited victory over Tri-County League rival Lisbon here Friday night, gaining its first triumph in more than 10 years over the Blue Devils, 6-0.

Leetonia capitalized on a fumble to score a first - period touchdown, then turned its attention to defense to shut out Lisbon.

The loss leaves Lisbon with a 1-6 record. The Blue Devils threatened once in the third quarter when they marched to the Leetonia 13 before being stalled.

Harrison Leads National Senior Open 4 Strokes

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Dutch Harrison of Ellisville, Mo., carried a four-stroke lead today into the final round of the National Senior Open Golf Tournament, which he is favored to win for the fourth straight time.

The steady, easy-going Harrison carded the tournament's lowest score Friday, a sparkling 65, as he one-putted the last seven greens.

His 54-hole total of 203 was challenged by Harry Umbibetti of North Bend, Wash., who fired a 66 Friday and brought his total to 207.

Six strokes back at 209 was Johnny Bulla, of La Quinta, Calif., while Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., and Al Feldman of Olympia, Wash., were tied at 210.

The leaders are competing for $5,000 first - place money in a $33,000 total pro purse, billed as the richest in senior golf history.

South Side Drops Finale To Northwestern, 34-12

South Side opened its season on a winning note but closed on a losing one and in between were piled six other losses as the Rams dropped a 34-12 decision at Northwestern Friday night.

Coach Fred Milanovich ended his first season at South Side with a 1-7 record.

Jim Coon scored two touchdowns and Skip Watt tallied one and passed for two others in leading the Northwestern victory.

Coon ran 31 yards for a TD then took a 41-yard scoring pass from Watt for the other. Watt completed another 70-yard scoring pass and ran 30 yards to paydirt.

South Side scored twice in the fourth quarter when quarterback Dave Ashcroft and Greg Pearson teamed up for a 16-yard scoring pass. Rich McGaffic scored the other on a one yard plunge.

Steelers' Pottios May Play Sunday

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Linebacker Myron Pottios is back on the Pittsburgh Steelers' active roster and may play in the game with the Cleveland Browns here Sunday.

Pottios' left arm was broken in the last exhibition game of the season. For a while it was thought he might miss the rest of the season.

But the arm has mended now, and Coach Buddy Parker says he will use Pottios in an emergency, such as an injury to another linebacker.

Louisville Rolls To 8th Straight

COLUMBIANA —Bob Gladieux ran for two touchdowns and passed for another as Louisville rolled to its eighth straight victory, 40-0, over Columbiana here Friday night.

Buffalo To Guard Clean Record

Browns Try To Protect Lead In Steeler Battle

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports writer

Cleveland will be trying to protect its one-game lead in the Eastern Division of the National League and Buffalo will be guarding its unblemished American League record, but the pro football focus this weekend may fall on five individuals who backed into the spotlight last week.

The quintet consists of:

— Jim Marshall, Minnesota's wrong way runner who recovered a fumble last week and rambled 66 yards into the end zone — the wrong end zone — for a safety.

— Lou Michaels, Baltimore's educated toe, who stirred some trouble in the Colts' camp when he stayed out after the curfew, injured his ribs in a car crash, and then was fined.

— Ernie Ladd, the huge defensive tackle of the San Deigo Chargers who was fined by the American League Friday for striking Houston's Ed Husmann with a helmet during last Sunday's game.

— George Blanda, veteran Houston quarterback whose fine for the post-game comments he made about an official call on one of his field goal attempts was announced at the same time as Ladd's.

While all five will have to wait until Sunday to try and make amends, the pro schedule opens tonight with the Boston Patriots meeting the New York Jets in a key American League clash.

The Patriots are the runners-up in the Eastern sector to the unbeaten Bills, who will meet Houston on Sunday's three-game program. In the other games, Oakland will be at San Diego and Denver at Kansas City.

Cleveland's Browns tackle their only conquerors, the Pittsburgh Steelers, while second-place St. Louis plays New York. Baltimore's Western Division leaders are in an enviable position, going against San Francisco while their two closest pursuers, Los Angeles and Detroit, meet head on.

Green Bay will be at Minnesota, Washington at Philadelphia and Dallas at Chicago in the other games.

Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great ground gainer, goes into the game needing only 14 yards to become the first 10,000-yard rusher in NFL history.

The Cardinals will tackle the Giants without recovered Sonny Randle, who is lost for the season. Besides their passing attack, the St. Louis offense has been strengthened by impressive rookie runner Willie Crenshaw.

The Colts, riding high on the efforts of Johnny Unitas, Lenny Moore and cohorts, figure to have little difficulty with the 49ers. San Francisco has lost three in a row and slipped into a tie for the cellar.

Baltimore may well be watching the Rams-Lions battle. The teams played to a tie earlier but Los Angeles will have No. 1 quarterback Roman Gabriel this time while Detroit will be without the services of signal-caller Earl Morrall.

The Packers, bogged down with a 3-4 record, have doubtful starters in linebacker Dave Robinson and end Ron Kramer. The Vikings, who beat the Packers earlier without Tommy Mason, now have him in the line-up.

The Eagles still have a good shot at the Eastern title but former Redskins Norm Snead will have to win the battle of swapped quarterbacks. Sonny Jurgensen led Washington to a victory in their first meeting, passing for five touchdowns against his former Philadelphia mates.

The Bears, tied with the 49ers at 2-5 in the West, have been hit by the virus and will be up against a Cowboy outfit that showed it could roll last week behind Don Meredith.

The Patriots, chasing the Bills in a close Eastern Division AFL scramble, will rely heavily on Babe Parilli to bombard a Jets' defensive secondary depleted by injuries.

The Bills, 7-0 and the only undefeated team in either league, have never beaten the Oilers at Buffalo. This figures to be a passing battle with the Bills' duo of Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamonica matching strikes with Blanda.

The Chargers lead the Western Division with a 4-2-1 record. The Raiders, however, have been strengthened by Billy Cannon and have scored 83 points in their last two games.

The Broncos are 1-6 but their lone victory was against the Chiefs. Len Dawson, who saw limited action last week, should be able to go all the way for Kansas City at quarterback.

GI Due In Germany

SUMMITVILLE — Pvt. Charles Tepsic Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tepsic, was to leave New York for Germany after completing a 12-week artillery survey specialist course at Ft. Sill, Okla. A 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, he attended Youngstown University and was employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a year before entering the Army.

Ladd, Blanda Hit By Heavy Fines In AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Ladd, San Diego's huge defensive tackle, and veteran Houston quarterback George Blanda have been slapped with the heaviest fines levied against players in the five-year history of the American Football League.

Commissioner Joe Foss handed down the fines Friday for "actions detrimental to the best interests of the American Football League" in last Sunday's Houston-San Diego game. Foss also warned that further infractions would draw stiffer penalties.

Foss, who said the fines were the largest against players in the league's history, declined to announce the amount.

The New York Daily News, however, said it had learned that Ladd's fine was $500 and Blanda's $250.

The commissioner said Ladd was fined for striking Houston's defensive tackle, Ed Hausmann, with a helmet during Sunday's heated game at Houston in which the Chargers held on for a 20-17 victory.

Blanda was fined for some outspoken comments about the official call on his field goal attempt in the closing seconds of the game. Officials ruled that Blanda's kick went wide.

Wilson, Royals' No. 1 Draft Choice, Signs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals No. 1 draft choice George Wilson, former University of Cincinnati star, signed his contract with the National Basketball Association team Friday night.

Wilson signed before the Royals met St. Louis in Cincinnati Gardens. Cincinnati won 119-118 but Wilson did not see action.

Wilson, 6-foot-8, returned this week from the Olympic games. He was a member of the United States basketball squad and won a Gold Medal.

Earlier Wilson had said he was interested in a bid from the Akron Goodyears to play AAU basketball.

Kelso Due To Gain Richest Horse Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso is expected to replace Round Table as the world's richest horse today by winning the $109,600 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct.

The pride of Mrs. Richard duPont's Bohemia Stable is favored to win the two-mile Gold Cup for the fifth straight time against a field of six, including two 3-year-olds, Guadrangle and Roman Brother.

Kelso, a durable 7-year-old gelding, has won $1,732,722 in 54 starts, only $17,097 shy of the $1,749,869 earned by the retired Round Table in 66 starts.

Opportunists Label Pinned On Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns might well be called the opportunists of the National Football League.

Their opponents have fumbled 19 times, losing the ball to the Browns 16 times. No other NFL team has pounced on more than nine of the opponent's fumbles. So the Browns lead in both departments.

By contrast, Cleveland has fumbled only 10 times, and has recovered six of them.

A big factor in why the other team fumbles is a hard hitting, aggressive defense. This describes the Browns' defensive play.

The Browns also lead in the league with an average of 15.7 yards for 10 punts returned.

6 Of Bears Are Hit By Intestinal Virus

CHICAGO (AP) — Hard hit by injuries all season long, the Chicago Bears were confronted with more miseries this week when six members of the squad were hit by intestinal virus.

The ailment, which lasts about 24 hours but leaves the players in a weakened condition, first struck Thursday sidelining defensive end Doug Atkins, offensive end Rich Kreitling, tackles Earl Leggett and Stan Jones and linebackers Joe Fortunato and Larry Morris.

From all indications, the six should recover by Sunday but any other outbreaks could be disastrous since the players would not have enough time to regain their strength.

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson defeated Barry Goldwater, 364-260, in a mock election at Muskingum College Friday. Henry Cabot Lodge received one write-in vote.

Big Games Set On College Front

Witch's Brew Concocted For Halloween Grid Bill

By The Associated Press

It isn't easy to separate the haves from the have-nots when long-time college football rivals collide and the schedule makers concocted a witch's brew of traditional pairings for today's Halloween bill.

The big weekend got off to an ominous start Friday night as Miami of Florida rallied to edge Detroit 10-7 and snap a nine-game winless streak.

With conference or sectional leadership on the line more often than not, natural matchups like Nebraska-Missouri, Arkansas-Texas A&M, Georgia Tech-Duke and Syracuse-Pittsburgh dotted the schedule along with old rivalries like Yale-Dartmouth, Louisiana State-Mississippi, UCLA - California and Penn State-Maryland.

Meanwhile, Iowa, Navy and Mississippi State — ambitious pranksters all — challenged the nation's top three teams. Ohio State, Notre Dame and Alabama were two touchdown favorites over the Hawkeyes, Middies and Maroons, respectively, with the performances of a trio of standout quarterbacks providing the keys.

Top-ranked Ohio State visited Iowa for a Big Ten showdown with pass-master Gary Snook. The Hawkeye ace set two conference aerial records and tied another last week against Purdue. Snook and his primary target, Karl Noonan, No. 1 pass-catcher in the country, tested an Ohio State defense that had yielded only two touchdowns in five winning starts. The series stood at 14-10-2 in favor of the Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes but Iowa had won four of the last five games at Iowa City.

Notre Dame, No. 2 in the national ratings, faced a healthy Rover Staubach in its 38th meeting with Navy at Philadelphia. The Middies' All-America quarterback, recovered from a foot injury, hoped to scuttle the Irish winning streak at five. Notre Dame, which held a 27-9-1 series edge needed this one to keep pointing toward its first perfect season since 1949.

Third-ranked Alabama may be without star signal caller Joe Namath, hobbled by a knee ailment, for its Southeastern Conference battle with Mississippi State. "We intend to win," said Maroon Coach Paul Davis, unawed by the Crimson Tide's 6-0 record. "Mississippi State would rather beat us than any other team except Ole Miss right now," 'Bama pilot Bear Bryant said.

Mississippi, its No. 1 pre-season rating long-gone after a couple of setbacks, and ninth-ranked LSU tangled in the 50th renewal of one of the fiercest rivalries on record. The Tigers will be out to avenge last year's 37-3 loss. Florida, No. 10 in The Associated Press rankings after a three-point loss to Alabama last week, met Auburn in another SEC headliner.

Arkansas, No. 4 in the nation after six straight victories, including a decision over then-top-ranked Texas, sought to protect its Southwest Conference lead against the undermanned but always dangerous Aggies. Texas, No. 6 and beaten only by Arkansas, had a SWC date with Southern Methodist.

Georgia Tech, Independent and unbeaten in six starts after splitting with the Southeastern Conference, played Atlantic Coast Conference leader Duke, 4-0-1.

Oregon's Bob Berry, who has tossed 13 touchdown passes in leading the seventh-ranked Ducks to a 6-0 mark, faced Stanford's Ray Handley, the country's No. 3 ground-gainer, in a Pacific Athletic Conference game.

Oregon State, 5-1, and Southern California, who share the PAC lead with the Ducks, played Washington State and Washington, respectively, while UCLA's Larry Zeno and Cal's Craig Morton tangled in another test of top quarterbacks.

Syracuse, jolted by Oregon State last Saturday, and Pitt met in a struggle for Eastern supremacy. It matched Panther passer Fred Mazurek against Orange backfield stars Floyd Little and Jim Nance.

The Yale-Dartmouth classic shaped up as a fight for survival in the Ivy League race. Front-running Princeton figured to beat Brown and neither the Eli, 2-0-1 in the conference, nor the Indians, 2-1 could afford a letdown.

Other major games included defending Big Ten champion Illinois against current co-leader Purdue; West Virginia against Kentucky; North Carolina-Georgia; Army-Iowa State; Oklahoma-Colorado and Oklahoma State- Tulsa.

Massachusetts and Vermont had a Yankee Conference showdown; unbeaten Bowling Green met Miami, Ohio in the Mid-America Conference feature and New Mexico played Wyoming for the Western Athletic Conference lead.

First Battle Of Olympians In Pro Ranks Ends In Draw

By The Associated Press

The first battle of the Olympians, between Lucious Jackson and Jim (Bad News) Barnes, is history.

It's also a draw.

Jackson, the Pan American U. star who signed with the Philadelphia 76ers, and Barnes, the Texas Western standout who went with the New York Knicks, played on the victorious U.S. team at the Tokyo Olympic Games.

Friday night they were on different sides, each scoring seven points on three baskets and a foul.

Barnes, however, was in the line-up as the Knicks pulled away in the closing minutes for a 94-90 victory that left them in third place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association while the 76ers fell into last place.

In other games, Boston's undefeated Celtics ran their string to seven in a row by walloping Detroit 106-90 behind Sam Jones' 28-point effort and Cincinnati edged St. Louis 119-118 as Oscar Robertson scored 39 points, including the decisive points.

Jackson had made his NBA debut Tuesday, scoring 10 points. But this was Barnes' first shot at the pros. He joined rookies Emmette Bryant, Willis Reed and Howard Komives plus Tom Gola with the score tied 85-85, and the rookie-dominated five pulled the Knicks out front 91-90 with 52 seconds left.

The Celtics jumped off to a 7-0 lead, Detroit pulled up to 7-6 and then suddenly Boston had run off 11 consecutive points behind Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell and Tom Sanders. The lead never was below six points after that.

Tonight's schedule will be watched for the long-awaited return of Wilt Chamberlain, the San Francisco Warriors' 7-foot-1 ace who has been sidelined with an inflamed pancreas. The Warriors are at home to Baltimore.

People In News

LONDON (AP) — C. P. Snow, the British novelist-scientist, has been made a life peer so he could join the Labor government and speak for it in the House of Lords.

He took the title of Baron Snow of Leicester, his home town, Friday. He had been named parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Technology.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham reportedly does not plan to endorse either candidate in the presidential election.

A source close to Graham, who lives in Montreat, N.C., said in Asheville, N.C. Friday that Graham feels that "his task is to preach the Gospel."

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has been named the legal guardian of her two children, Caroline, 5, and John, 3. The court action Friday was a routine step toward putting into effect the provisions of the will of her husband, the late president.

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, says "too many Americans no longer care about religious ideals and heritage."

In a Thanksgiving message to law enforcement officials, he said Friday that such persons "shirk the mere suggestion of individual responsibility. Their purpose in life is lost in moral lethargy, self-indulgence and neglect of duty."

He said the Pilgrim fathers, founders of the Thanksgiving Day custom, "were bound by spiritual unity and love of and faith in the supreme being."

Buffalo To Guard Clean Record

Browns Try To Protect Lead In Steeler Battle

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports writer

Cleveland will be trying to protect its one-game lead in the Eastern Division of the National League and Buffalo will be guarding its unblemished American League record, but the pro football focus this weekend may fall on five individuals who backed into the spotlight last week.

The quintet consists of:

— Jim Marshall, Minnesota's wrong way runner who recovered a fumble last week and rambled 66 yards into the end zone — the wrong end zone — for a safety.

— Lou Michaels, Baltimore's educated toe, who stirred some trouble in the Colts' camp when he stayed out after the curfew, injured his ribs in a car crash, and then was fined.

— George Mira, San Francisco's rookie quarterback, who became a storm center when his college coach at Miami, Andy Gustafson, said he was getting "completely crummy" treatment from the 49ers.

— Ernie Ladd, the huge defensive tackle of the San Deigo Chargers who was fined by the American League Friday for striking Houston's Ed Husmann with a helmet during last Sunday's game.

— George Blanda, veteran Houston quarterback whose fine for the post-game comments he made about an official call on one of his field goal attempts was announced at the same time as Ladd's.

While all five will have to wait until Sunday to try and make amends, the pro schedule opens tonight with the Boston Patriots meeting the New York Jets in a key American League clash.

The Patriots are the runners-up in the Eastern sector to the unbeaten Bills, who will meet Houston on Sunday's three-game program. In the other games, Oakland will be at San Diego and Denver at Kansas City.

Cleveland's Browns tackle their only conquerors, the Pittsburgh Steelers, while second-place St. Louis plays New York. Baltimore's Western Division leaders are in an enviable position, going against San Francisco while their two closest pursuers, Los Angeles and Detroit, meet head on.

Green Bay will be at Minnesota, Washington at Philadelphia and Dallas at Chicago in the other games.

The Browns and Steelers have met once this season with Pittsburgh winning on a 200-yard day by John Henry Johnson and a 6-1-4 umbrella defense that spiked the Cleveland attack.

Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great ground gainer, goes into the game needing only 14 yards to become the first 10,000-yard rusher in NFL history.

The Cardinals will tackle the Giants without recovered Sonny Randle, who is lost for the season. Besides their passing attack, the St. Louis offense has been strengthened by impressive rookie runner Willie Crenshaw.

The Colts, riding high on the efforts of Johnny Unitas, Lenny Moore and cohorts, figure to have little difficulty with the 49ers. San Francisco has lost three in a row and slipped into a tie for the cellar.

Baltimore may well be watching the Rams-Lions battle. The teams played to a tie earlier but Los Angeles will have No. 1 quarterback Roman Gabriel this time while Detroit will be without the services of signal-caller Earl Morrall.

The Packers, bogged down with a 3-4 record, have doubtful starters in linebacker Dave Robinson and end Ron Kramer. The Vikings, who beat the Packers earlier without Tommy Mason, now have him in the line-up.

The Eagles still have a good shot at the Eastern title but former Redskins Norm Snead will have to win the battle of swapped quarterbacks. Sonny Jurgensen led Washington to a victory in their first meeting, passing for five touchdowns against his former Philadelphia mates.

The Bears, tied with the 49ers at 2-5 in the West, have been hit by the virus and will be up against a Cowboy outfit that showed it could roll last week behind Don Meredith.

The Patriots, chasing the Bills in a close Eastern Division AFL scramble, will rely heavily on Babe Parilli to bombard a Jets' defensive secondary depleted by injuries.

The Bills, 7-0 and the only undefeated team in either league, have never beaten the Oilers at Buffalo. This figures to be a passing battle with the Bills' duo of Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamonica matching strikes with Blanda.

The Chargers lead the Western Division with a 4-2-1 record. The Raiders, however, have been strengthened by Billy Cannon and have scored 83 points in their last two games.

The Broncos are 1-6 but their lone victory was against the Chiefs. Len Dawson, who saw limited action last week, should be able to go all the way for Kansas City at quarterback.

Big Games Set On College Front

Witch's Brew Concocted For Halloween Grid Bill

By The Associated Press

It isn't easy to separate the haves from the have-nots when long-time college football rivals collide and the schedule makers concocted a witch's brew of traditional pairings for today's Halloween bill.

The big weekend got off to an ominous start Friday night as Miami of Florida rallied to edge Detroit 10-7 and snap a nine-game winless streak.

With conference or sectional leadership on the line more often than not, natural match-ups like Nebraska-Missouri, Arkansas-Texas A&M, Georgia Tech-Duke and Syracuse-Pittsburgh dotted the schedule along with old rivalries like Yale-Dartmouth, Louisiana State-Mississippi, UCLA - California and Penn State-Maryland.

Meanwhile, Iowa, Navy and Mississippi State — ambitious pranksters all — challenged the nation's top three teams. Ohio State, Notre Dame and Alabama were two touchdown favorites over the Hawkeyes, Middies and Maroons, respectively, with the performances of a trio of standout quarterbacks providing the keys.

Top-ranked Ohio State visited Iowa for a Big Ten showdown with pass-master Gary Snook. The Hawkeye ace set two conference aerial records and tied another last week against Purdue. Snook and his primary target, Karl Noonan, No. 1 pass-catcher in the country, tested an Ohio State defense that had yielded only two touchdowns in five winning starts. The series stood at 14-10-2 in favor of the Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes but Iowa had won four of the last five games at Iowa City.

Notre Dame, No. 2 in the national ratings, faced a healthy Rover Staubach in its 38th meeting with Navy at Philadelphia. The Middies' All-America quarterback, recovered from a foot injury, hoped to scuttle the Irish winning streak at five. Notre Dame, which held a 27-9-1 series edge needed this one to keep pointing toward its first perfect season since 1949.

Third-ranked Alabama may be without star signal caller Joe Namath, hobbled by a knee ailment, for its Southeastern Conference battle with Mississippi State. "We intend to win," said Maroon Coach Paul Davis, unawed by the Crimson Tide's 6-0 record. "Mississippi State would rather beat us than any other team except Ole Miss right now," 'Bama pilot Bear Bryant said.

Mississippi, its No. 1 pre-season rating long-gone after a couple of setbacks, and ninth-ranked LSU tangled in the 50th renewal of one of the fiercest rivalries on record. The Tigers will be out to avenge last year's 37-3 loss. Florida, No. 10 in The Associated Press rankings after a three-point loss to Alabama last week, met Auburn in another SEC headliner.

Arkansas, No. 4 in the nation after six straight victories, including a decision over then-top-ranked Texas, sought to protect its Southwest Conference lead against the undermanned but always dangerous Aggies. Texas, No. 6 and beaten only by Arkansas, had a SWC date with Southern Methodist.

Missouri, hoping for a repeat of its 1963 upset, engaged powerful Nebraska, No. 5, in a Big Eight scrap.

Georgia Tech, Independent and unbeaten in six starts after splitting with the Southeastern Conference, played Atlantic Coast Conference leader Duke, 4-0-1.

Oregon's Bob Berry, who has tossed 13 touchdown passes in leading the seventh-ranked Ducks to a 6-0 mark, faced Stanford's Ray Handley, the country's No. 3 ground-gainer, in a Pacific Athletic Conference game.

Oregon State, 5-1, and Southern California, who share the PAC lead with the Ducks, played Washington State and Washington, respectively, while UCLA's Larry Zeno and Cal's Craig Morton tangled in another test of top quarterbacks.

Syracuse, jolted by Oregon State last Saturday, and Pitt met in a struggle for Eastern supremacy. It matched Panther passer Fred Mazurek against Orange backfield stars Floyd Little and Jim Nance.

The Yale-Dartmouth classic shaped up as a fight for survival in the Ivy League race. Front-running Princeton figured to beat Brown and neither the Eli, 2-0-1 in the conference, nor the Indians, 2-1 could afford a letdown.

Other major games included defending Big Ten champion Illinois against current co-leader Purdue; West Virginia against Kentucky; North Carolina-Georgia; Army-Iowa State; Oklahoma-Colorado and Oklahoma State- Tulsa.

Massachusetts and Vermont had a Yankee Conference showdown; unbeaten Bowling Green met Miami, Ohio in the Mid-America Conference feature and New Mexico played Wyoming for the Western Athletic Conference lead.

GI Due In Germany

SUMMITVILLE — Pvt. Charles Tepsic Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tepsic, was to leave New York for Germany after completing a 12-week artillery survey specialist course at Ft. Sill, Okla. A 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, he attended Youngstown University and was employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a year before entering the Army.

Ladd, Blanda Hit By Heavy Fines In AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Ladd, San Diego's huge defensive tackle, and veteran Houston quarterback George Blanda have been slapped with the heaviest fines levied against players in the five-year history of the American Football League.

Commissioner Joe Foss handed down the fines Friday for "actions detrimental to the best interests of the American Football League" in last Sunday's Houston-San Diego game. Foss also warned that further infractions would draw stiffer penalties.

Foss, who said the fines were the largest against players in the league's history, declined to announce the amount.

The New York Daily News, however, said it had learned that Ladd's fine was $500 and Blanda's $250.

The commissioner said Ladd was fined for striking Houston's defensive tackle, Ed Hausmann, with a helmet during Sunday's heated game at Houston in which the Chargers held on for a 20-17 victory.

Blanda was fined for some outspoken comments about the official call on his field goal attempt in the closing seconds of the game. Officials ruled that Blanda's kick went wide.

Wilson, Royals' No. 1 Draft Choice, Signs

Wilson signed before the Royals met St. Louis in Cincinnati Gardens. Cincinnati won 119-118 but Wilson did not see action.

Wilson, 6-foot-8, returned this week from the Olympic games. He was a member of the United States basketball squad and won a Gold Medal.

Earlier Wilson had said he was interested in a bid from the Akron Goodyears to play AAU basketball.

Kelso Due To Gain Richest Horse Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso is expected to replace Round Table as the world's richest horse today by winning the $109,600 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct.

The pride of Mrs. Richard duPont's Bohemia Stable is favored to win the two-mile Gold Cup for the fifth straight time against a field of six, including two 3-year-olds, Guadrangle and Roman Brother.

Kelso, a durable 7-year-old gelding, has won $1,732,722 in 54 starts, only $17,097 shy of the $1,749,869 earned by the retired Round Table in 66 starts.

Opportunists Label Pinned On Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns might well be called the opportunists of the National Football League.

Their opponents have fumbled 19 times, losing the ball to the Browns 16 times. No other NFL team has pounced on more than nine of the opponent's fumbles. So the Browns lead in both departments.

By contrast, Cleveland has fumbled only 10 times, and has recovered six of them.

A big factor in why the other team fumbles is a hard hitting, aggressive defense. This describes the Browns' defensive play.

The Browns also lead in the league with an average of 15.7 yards for 10 punts returned.

6 Of Bears Are Hit By Intestinal Virus

CHICAGO (AP) — Hard hit by injuries all season long, the Chicago Bears were confronted with more miseries this week when six members of the squad were hit by intestinal virus.

The ailment, which lasts about 24 hours but leaves the players in a weakened condition, first struck Thursday sidelining defensive end Doug Atkins, offensive end Rich Kreitling, tackles Earl Leggett and Stan Jones and linebackers Joe Fortunato and Larry Morris.

From all indications, the six should recover by Sunday but any other outbreaks could be disastrous since the players would not have enough time to regain their strength.

Johnson Beats Barry

First Battle Of Olympians In Pro Ranks Ends In Draw

By The Associated Press

The first battle of the Olympians, between Lucious Jackson and Jim (Bad News) Barnes, is history.

It's also a draw.

Jackson, the Pan American U. star who signed with the Philadelphia 76ers, and Barnes, the Texas Western standout who went with the New York Knicks, played on the victorious U.S. team at the Tokyo Olympic Games.

Friday night they were on different sides, each scoring seven points on three baskets and a foul.

Barnes, however, was in the line-up as the Knicks pulled away in the closing minutes for a 94-90 victory that left them in third place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association while the 76ers fell into last place.

In other games, Boston's undefeated Celtics ran their string to seven in a row by walloping Detroit 106-90 behind Sam Jones' 28-point effort and Cincinnati edged St. Louis 119-118 as Oscar Robertson scored 39 points, including the decisive points.

Jackson had made his NBA debut Tuesday, scoring 10 points. But this was Barnes' first shot at the pros. He joined rookies Emmette Bryant, Willis Reed and Howard Komives plus Tom Gola with the score tied 85-85, and the rookie-dominated five pulled the Knicks out front 91-90 with 52 seconds left.

The Celtics jumped off to a 7-0 lead, Detroit pulled up to 7-6 and then suddenly Boston had run off 11 consecutive points behind Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell and Tom Sanders. The lead never was below six points after that.

Tonight's schedule will be watched for the long-awaited return of Wilt Chamberlain, the San Francisco Warriors' 7-foot-1 ace who has been sidelined with an inflamed pancreas. The Warriors are at home to Baltimore.

People In News

LONDON (AP) — C. P. Snow, the British novelist-scientist, has been made a life peer so he could join the Labor government and speak for it in the House of Lords.

He took the title of Baron Snow of Leicester, his home town, Friday. He had been named parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Technology.

A source close to Graham, who lives in Montreat, N.C., said in Asheville, N.C. Friday that Graham feels that "his task is to preach the Gospel."

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has been named the legal guardian of her two children, Caroline, 5, and John, 3. The court action Friday was a routine step toward putting into effect the provisions of the will of her husband, the late president.

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, says "too many Americans no longer care about religious ideals and heritage."

In a Thanksgiving message to law enforcement officials, he said Friday that such persons "shirk the mere suggestion of individual responsibility. Their purpose in life is lost in moral lethargy, self-indulgence and neglect of duty."

He said the Pilgrim fathers, founders of the Thanksgiving Day custom, "were bound by spiritual unity and love of and faith in the supreme being."

Child Benefits From Reading At Home

I have pointed out in this column that in most schools and in some entire school districts, children in the early grades are not allowed to take their reading books home. I have said that this practice most heavily penalized the children of the poor and culturally deprived. Consider how many homes have no books for children.

Dr. Garry Myers

Why should any public education program deliberately keep school books from the homes of these children? It appears the more absurd in the light of the nation's growing interest in the "War Against Poverty."

Ask a primary-grade teacher why she does not allow her children to take home their readers. Her answer is something like this:

PARENTS may teach their children from these books at home in wrong ways. The parents incline to read aloud to the young child from his reader. He may just memorize what he hears without having read it.

She says, moreover, that when at school his teacher sets the stage to arouse all the children to wonder what comes next, the child, having heard a story read from his reading book, will fail to respond to the teacher's reading program.

Not much use for us to argue with this teacher. She is dutiful and conscientiously following the direction of her supervisor or the standard instructions she received at the teacher-training college. Moreover she is faithfully following the directions of the teachers' manual which goes with the set of basal reading books from which she teaches.

Not much use for me to argue with this teacher, either. But I do have the hope that a few of the persons responsible for this teacher's ways might give this problem some consideration.

While discussing the matter recently with Dr. Walter Barbe, Associate Editor of Highlights For Children and author of "Educator's Guide to Personalized Reading Instruction," (Prentice Hall; he said:

"I DON'T think much can be done about the matter of forbidding children to take home their readers so long as reading is almost exclusively taught from basal readers.

With so many millions of dollars tied up in basal readers by many big publishers of them, I doubt whether we can hope to see basal readers disappear in the foreseeable future. In the meanwhile, I don't think the picture is as dark as Dr. Barbe implies.

Teachers don't object to letting children in the early grades take home other books of similar reading difficulty from the school library. I'm optimistic enough to believe that teachers will find out that they need not hesitate to allow the child to take home his basal reader.

Few parents can harm the child's reading progress by using different ways from those at school.

Suppose a mother has him spell out words which he chooses to read when she is ironing or cooking. How could this harm him if he enjoys it?

SUPPOSE he remembers word for word the pages his mother reads to him and seems to read well the next day without really reading. Any alert teacher could discover this.

Then, if the child so reads a sentence or two from mere memory, it should be easy for the teacher to help him match the words or group of words on the page as he says them. The teacher might also encourage the parent to do likewise.

Years ago a widely-used system of reading was based on this procedure.

Suppose the child remembers a few pages after hearing them read at home. Instead of taking away from his interest, this should more often increase it. You know how your young child likes to have you read over and over again a story he likes to hear.

Let us all keep begging the teacher to allow her children in the early grades to take his reading book home with him.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" and "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Car Hurts Boy On Bike In LaCroft Area

A city youth was injured when struck by a car while riding a bicycle in the LaCroft area at the intersection of Lisbon St. Ext. and Ada St. Friday at 6:20 p.m., according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said Carl Morris, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morris of 7th Ave., LaCroft, rode into the path of the car in the intersection.

Officers said Jack Davidson, 40, of 215 E. 3rd St. was headed north when his car went off the right side of the road. It then crossed back over, went off the left side and rammed a utility pole. The car was damaged heavily.

John Burkie, 20, of Rogers R. D. 1 was cited for driving a car with improper license plate after a one-car accident at 4:40 a.m. today on Route 14 a mile and a half east of Columbiana.

He was driving east when his car went off the right side of the highway, struck a mailbox and went into a dtich. Burkie suffered a bump on the head and a bruised right eye.

100 At Lions Faculty Fete At Midland

About 100 members and guests attended the Faculty Night dinner meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday at Deramo's Restaurant.

Remarks were given by School Supt. Edgar Richards. Principal William Walters introduced the high school faculty; John Wilson, supervisor of the elementary school, the grade school teachers, and Fr. John Sabovich, assistant pastor of the Presentation Catholic Church, the lay teachers of the Parochial School.

Nile Wain, zone chairman, introduced the Midland Board of Education, including Ed Cilli, president, Leslie Roach, Maurice Newman and John Shovlin III.

Entertainment included selections by the Crucible Male Chorus under the direction of F. R. Martell. Group singing was led by George Baacke.

C. W. Shanor of Rochester, international director and 14 members of the Rochester Club, were among the guests. Newman, vice president, presided in the absence of Jack Haggerty.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12.

Hancock Voters To Hand Ballots To Poll Workers

Hancock County voters must turn their marked ballots over to the poll workers Tuesday instead of attempting to cast them in the ballot boxes themselves, Mrs. Mary Stewart, county clerk, reminded today.

Mrs. Stewart said a section of the state laws on voting regulations gives specific procedure to follow in casting of ballots after they are prepared. It says:

"After preparing the ballot, the voter shall fold the same so that the face thereof shall not be exposed, and so that the names of the poll clerks thereon shall be seen."

"He shall give his name and present the ballot to one of the of the commissioners of election. When the voter has voted he shall retire immediately from the election room and beyond the 60-foot limit thereof," the law says.

Mrs. Stewart pointed out in past elections, some voters have insisted that they cast the marked ballots in the ballot boxes themselves, instead of handing the marked ballot to a clerk who casts the ballot as the state code describes.

Ohio To Get Funds And 15,000 New Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will receive 500 million in capital investments and 15,000 new jobs when new plans and expansions announced during the third quarter of this year are completed, says State Development Director George C. Wilson. He said the biggest gains will be in the Miami Valley, the Scioto Valley and the uplands of Lake Erie, although all of the state will share in the expansion.

It also was disclosed Friday that the St. Regis Paper Co. of New York plans a $600,000 expansion at its Kress Box plant in Newark, Ohio.

Johnson, Taft Win In Mock Election

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP—Outcome of a mock election at Bowling Green State University Friday gave President Johnson a 2,572-1,583 victory over Barry Goldwater.

The students and faculty also favored Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. over Democratic incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young 2,298-1,772, in the U. S. Senate race.

Conference Planned Over Traffic Death

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said today he plans to confer with Circuit Judge James G. McClure between Wednesday and Friday on possible new charges in the traffic death of a Hancock County resident.

The victim, Edward C. Clark, 56, of N. Chester St., New Cumberland, died Wednesday morning in Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling.

He was crossing N. Chester St. when hit by the southbound car of William C. Ware, 31, of Commerce St., Sunday night.

Ware is being held in County Jail after being cited by Police Chief William Webster on charges of driving while intoxicated and violation of probation by drinking.

Wellsville Planners Discuss Annexations

A discussion on the possible annexation of surrounding areas was held at a public meeting called by the Wellsville City Planning Commission Friday night at the high school.

Twelve attended. All areas were discussed with no one section singled out, according to Ed Pugh, commission chairman.

He said no chairmen were named to work on the proposal for annexation. Another meeting will be held later. It will be announced by the commission, which also includes Paul E. Nightingale and James Salsgiver.

Legion At Palestine To Reactivate Troop

Named scoutmaster was Carl Korloch, a claims adjuster for an insurance firm and a former State Highway patrolman. He replaces Bruce Nichols.

Thieves Take TV Set In Burglary Of Home

Thieves carried off a $150 television set after breaking into his home in a four-hour span Friday night, Charles N. Jaynes, 414 Burrows Ave., reported to police.

Jaynes said the 19-inch Airline model was apparently carried out through a basement door. Entrance was made by opening a side window.

He timed the theft between 7:50 and 11:54 p.m.

Philip Deyoung, 129½ W. 6th St., reported to officers Friday night that his apartment was entered a week ago and a thief stole a claw hammer, a small box of German marks, a half-pound of coffee and a jar of instant coffee. There was no sign of forcible entry, police said.

Mother Of 6 Killed When Train Hits Car

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Marie L. Slocum, 40, mother of six children, was killed Friday when a Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train hit her car across the street from her home. She was returning from taking one of her children to a hospital for a tonsillectomy when the crash occurred at the Eagle Street crossing.

The engineer, Sam Plosila, 64, of Conneaut, said he blew the warning whistle several times when he saw the car drive onto the crossing. Witnesses said flashing lights at the crossing were working.

Bringing Up Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Benefits From Reading At Home

I have pointed out in this column that in most schools and in some entire school districts, children in the early grades are not allowed to take their reading books home. I have said that this practice most heavily penalized the children of the poor and culturally deprived. Consider how many homes have no books for children.

Dr. Garry Myers

Why should any public education program deliberately keep school books from the homes of these children? It appears the more absurd in the light of the nation's growing interest in the "War Against Poverty."

Ask a primary-grade teacher why she does not allow her children to take home their readers. Her answer is something like this:

PARENTS may teach their children from these books at home in wrong ways. The parents incline to read aloud to the young child from his reader. He may just memorize what he hears without having read it.

She says, moreover, that when at school his teacher sets the stage to arouse all the children to wonder what comes next, the child, having heard a story read from his reading book, will fail to respond to the teacher's reading program.

Not much use for us to argue with this teacher. She is dutiful and conscientiously following the direction of her supervisor or the standard instructions she received at the teacher-training college. Moreover she is faithfully following the directions of the teachers' manual which goes with the set of basal reading books from which she teaches.

Not much use for me to argue with this teacher, either. But I do have the hope that a few of the persons responsible for this teacher's ways might give this problem some consideration.

While discussing the matter recently with Dr. Walter Barbe, Associate Editor of Highlights For Children and author of "Educator's Guide to Personalized Reading Instruction," (Prentice Hall; he said:

"I DON'T think much can be done about the matter of forbidding children to take home their readers so long as reading is almost exclusively taught from basal readers.

With so many millions of dollars tied up in basal readers by many big publishers of them, I doubt whether we can hope to see basal readers disappear in the foreseeable future. In the meanwhile, I don't think the picture is as dark as Dr. Barbe implies.

Teachers don't object to letting children in the early grades take home other books of similar reading difficulty from the school library. I'm optimistic enough to believe that teachers will find out that they need not hesitate to allow the child to take home his basal reader.

Few parents can harm the child's reading progress by using different ways from those at school.

Suppose a mother has him spell out words which he chooses to read when she is ironing or cooking. How could this harm him if he enjoys it?

SUPPOSE he remembers word for word the pages his mother reads to him and seems to read well the next day without really reading. Any alert teacher could discover this.

Then, if the child so reads a sentence or two from mere memory, it should be easy for the teacher to help him match the words or group of words on the page as he says them. The teacher might also encourage the parent to do likewise.

Years ago a widely-used system of reading was based on this procedure.

Suppose the child remembers a few pages after hearing them read at home. Instead of taking away from his interest, this should more often increase it. You know how your young child likes to have you read over and over again a story he likes to hear.

Let us all keep begging the teacher to allow her children in the early grades to take his reading book home with him.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child" and "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Car Hurts Boy On Bike In LaCroft Area

A city youth was injured when struck by a car while riding a bicycle in the LaCroft area at the intersection of Lisbon St. Ext. and Ada St. Friday at 6:20 p.m., according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said Carl Morris, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morris of 7th Ave., LaCroft, rode into the path of the car in the intersection.

A city motorist was hurt in a one-car crash Friday night at 10 on Township Line Rd., about seven-tenths a mile north of Route 45.

Officers said Jack Davidson, 40, of 215 E. 3rd St. was headed north when his car went off the right side of the road. It then crossed back over, went off the left side and rammed a utility pole. The car was damaged heavily.

John Burkie, 20, of Rogers R. D. 1 was cited for driving a car with improper license plate after a one-car accident at 4:40 a.m. today on Route 14 a mile and a half east of Columbiana.

He was driving east when his car went off the right side of the highway, struck a mailbox and went into a dtich. Burkie suffered a bump on the head and a bruised right eye.

100 At Lions Faculty Fete At Midland

Remarks were given by School Supt. Edgar Richards. Principal William Walters introduced the high school faculty; John Wilson, supervisor of the elementary school, the grade school teachers, and Fr. John Sabovich, assistant pastor of the Presentation Catholic Church, the lay teachers of the Parochial School.

Entertainment included selections by the Crucible Male Chorus under the direction of F. R. Martell. Group singing was led by George Baacke.

C. W. Shanor of Rochester, international director and 14 members of the Rochester Club, were among the guests. Newman, vice president, presided in the absence of Jack Haggerty.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12.

Hancock Voters To Hand Ballots To Poll Workers

Hancock County voters must turn their marked ballots over to the poll workers Tuesday instead of attempting to cast them in the ballot boxes themselves, Mrs. Mary Stewart, county clerk, reminded today.

Mrs. Stewart said a section of the state laws on voting regulations gives specific procedure to follow in casting of ballots after they are prepared. It says:

"After preparing the ballot, the voter shall fold the same so that the face thereof shall not be exposed, and so that the names of the poll clerks thereon shall be seen."

"He shall give his name and present the ballot to one of the of the commissioners of election. When the voter has voted he shall retire immediately from the election room and beyond the 60-foot limit thereof," the law says.

Mrs. Stewart pointed out in past elections, some voters have insisted that they cast the marked ballots in the ballot boxes themselves, instead of handing the marked ballot to a clerk who casts the ballot as the state code describes.

Ohio To Get Funds And 15,000 New Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will receive 500 million in capital investments and 15,000 new jobs when new plans and expansions announced during the third quarter of this year are completed, says State Development Director George C. Wilson. He said the biggest gains will be in the Miami Valley, the Scioto Valley and the uplands of Lake Erie, although all of the state will share in the expansion.

It also was disclosed Friday that the St. Regis Paper Co. of New York plans a $600,000 expansion at its Kress Box plant in Newark, Ohio.

Johnson, Taft Win In Mock Election

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP—Outcome of a mock election at Bowling Green State University Friday gave President Johnson a 2,572-1,583 victory over Barry Goldwater.

The students and faculty also favored Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. over Democratic incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young 2,296-1,772, in the U. S. Senate race.

Conference Planned Over Traffic Death

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said today he plans to confer with Circuit Judge James G. McClure between Wednesday and Friday on possible new charges in the traffic death of a Hancock County resident.

The victim, Edward C. Clark, 56, of N. Chester St., New Cumberland, died Wednesday morning in Ohio Valley General Hospital in Wheeling.

He was crossing N. Chester St. when hit by the southbound car of William C. Ware, 31, of Commerce St., Sunday night.

Ware is being held in County Jail after being cited by Police Chief William Webster on charges of driving while intoxicated and violation of probation by drinking.

Wellsville Planners Discuss Annexations

A discussion on the possible annexation of surrounding areas was held at a public meeting called by the Wellsville City Planning Commission Friday night at the high school.

Twelve attended. All areas were discussed with no one section singled out, according to Ed Pugh, commission chairman.

He said no chairmen were named to work on the proposal for annexation. Another meeting will be held later. It will be announced by the commission, which also includes Paul E. Nightingale and James Salsgiver.

Legion At Palestine To Reactivate Troop

Named scoutmaster was Carl Korloch, a claims adjuster for an insurance firm and a former State Highway patrolman. He replaces Bruce Nichols.

The troop, 31 years old, registered 17 boys and applied for a new charter. Norman Wilhelm, district representative, was in charge.

Paul Brittain heads the troop committee. The troop will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Legion home.

Thieves Take TV Set In Burglary Of Home

Thieves carried off a $150 television set after breaking into his home in a four-hour span Friday night, Charles N. Jaynes, 414 Burrows Ave., reported to police.

Jaynes said the 19-inch Airline model was apparently carried out through a basement door. Entrance was made by opening a side window.

He timed the theft between 7:50 and 11:54 p.m.

Philip Deyoung, 129½ W. 6th St., reported to officers Friday night that his apartment was entered a week ago and a thief stole a claw hammer, a small box of German marks, a half-pound of coffee and a jar of instant coffee. There was no sign of forcible entry, police said.

Mother Of 6 Killed When Train Hits Car

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Marie L. Slocum, 40, mother of six children, was killed Friday when a Norfolk & Western Railroad freight train hit her car across the street from her home. She was returning from taking one of her children to a hospital for a tonsillectomy when the crash occurred at the Eagle Street crossing.

The engineer, Sam Plosila, 64, of Conneaut, said he blew the warning whistle several times when he saw the car drive onto the crossing. Witnesses said flashing lights at the crossing were working.

"What's the string on my finger for?"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Is there anything I can do when a coated - fabric raincoat cracks or wears thin in spots?

A. — You can keep it waterproof a little longer by applying a coat of automobile top dressing to the bad spots—the clear type of dressing.

Q. — Do you have any tips on the removal of spots from satin - covered furniture?

A. — A light sponging with banzine will often do the trick.

Q. — Is there anything I can do about the cracks in the old wallpaper when I am applying new paper over it?

A. — Use masking tape over these cracks, which will prevent their showing through the new paper or cracking the new paper at these same places.

Q. — How can I make a good aluminum polish?

A. — Mix ammonia and water in equal quantities, and then add the mixture to sufficient borax to make a paste about as thick as paint. Apply this with a thick, soft cloth, and then polish with a flannel.

Q. — How can I freshen the furry side of a fur pelt?

A. — You can freshen up fur to a certain extent by rubbing with a cloth dipped in soapy water and wrung out thoroughly. A more thorough effect is obtained by moistening cornmeal with cleaning fluid, rubbing this well into the fur, then brushing out.

A. — After emptying it of all ink, fill it with vinegar, and keep pumping this in and out several times. This should clean your pen out real well.

Q. How can I freshen up suede gloves?

A. — Put the gloves on the hands and rub them with a thick slice of stale bread, changing to another slice as the bread becomes soiled.

Junior Editors Quiz on Names

QUESTION: How did people get to be called by different names?

ANSWER: If we had no names and a teacher could only say "You over there, the boy with the snub nose and three freckles on his right cheek — "the world would be a confusing place to live in. No one knows just how or when names began, but they probably had to do with some personal pecularity, such as "lightfoot." Many of our first names come from the Bible, and these had meanings, such as John (gracious gift of Yahveh) or Elizabeth (oath of God. The first people to have more than one name are said to have been the Chinese, family names being decreed by the Emperor Fushi around 2852 B.C. In the Middle Ages, in Italy, high-born people began to adopt family names to call attention to their ancestors and show they were different from commoners. But people of more ordinary rank liked the idea too. Our illustration shows how many such family names started, for an expert cooper or carpenter or smith was proud of his trade and decided to have such a word become the last name of his family. Places also became attached to people to become last names of families: a settler built a house on a hilltop and became Mr. Hill, and his children James, Billy, Edna and Mary Hill and so on.
